CONVICT WOMAN SLAYER

PREPAREDNESS IS MILITARISM, FORD ASSERTS

'On That Rock' Split with 'Tribune,' He Tells Jury.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 14.—[Special.]—Henry Ford's ordeal on the witness stand in Judge Tucker's court began this morning, the opening of the tenth week of the Ford-TRIBUNE $1,000,000 libel suit.

Mr. Ford appeared bored and slightly irritated at the proceedings. He was attired in a light gray suit, matching his hair and accentuating the Indian brown of his complexion. He crossed his long legs comfortably and settled down for a siege. His voice was hardly audible beyond the jury box as he answered "Yes" or "No," or "I guess so." There was no nervousness in his demeanor.

Attorney Elliott G. Stevenson, the man who forced Mr. Ford to pay out $19,000,000 to his stockholders, conducted the examination for THE TRIBUNE. He had spent most of the morning in examining Edsel Ford on war contract figures.

Read Editorials Praising Him.

The time before recess was occupied in reading editorials from THE TRIBUNE in which Mr. Ford was commended. They were written before the anarchist editorial complained of, and showed that up to the time of the preparedness campaign THE TRIBUNE had no quarrel with the Detroit manufacturer. This rather surprised Mr. Ford, and he remarked as he left the stand for recess: "I wonder if this is going to be a Sunday school picnic or a dog fight."

Mr. Ford was called to the stand at 10:45 o'clock. He said he was 55 years old and engaged in the automobile business in 1903, when the Ford Motor company was organized.

Q.—Before that time you had worked upon the development of a model for gas engine and an automobile? A.—Yes.

Q.—And in connection with your work Mr. Wills worked with you? A.—Yes.

His Start in Business.

Q.—In 1903 you organized a company with a capital of $150,000 of stock? A.—Yes.

Q.—A. Y. Malcomson received 25½ per cent of that stock and you 25½? A.—Yes.

Q.—Mr. Malcomson assisted you financially while you were developing the model? A.—Yes.

Q.—And in consideration of that he received 25½ per cent of the stock? A.—Yes.

Q.—And you, for your and Mr. Will's development, received 25½ per cent? A.—Yes.

Q.—And have sued THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for libel? A.—Yes, sir.

Ford and "The Tribune."

Q.—Claiming that they maliciously made an attack on you in connection with an editorial published in 1118? A.—Yes. I think that was the date.

Q.—Do you recall the editorial? A.—Yes.

Q.—THE TRIBUNE had published some things about you before that time, had they not? A.—Not that I had seen very much.

Q.—I call your attention to an editorial of THE TRIBUNE, Jan. 11, 1914, entitled "Breaking Tablets." This editorial referred to Mr. Ford's profit sharing scheme as an illustration of "the new business conscience" and said he was an able and successful business man.

Q.—Do you see anything malicious about that, Mr. Ford? A.—No, sir.

Q.—You could not state that better yourself as to what you were doing, could you? A.—No, sir, I guess not.

Q.—Perfectly commendable, proper, and complimentary statement of your attitude? A.—I think so.

Two Others Eulogistic.

MR. STEVENSON—I offer one now under date of May 5, 1914, "Extremes in Michigan." This editorial stated that Ford's plan of treating his workers was humane, modern, and American. Mr. Ford said he did not see anything malicious in that.

Another editorial published in THE TRIBUNE, Aug. 7, 1915, referred to Mr. Ford as a great business man and philanthropist. It was eulogistic of the profit sharing system of the Ford plant. Then Mr. Stevenson continued:

Q.—Now, Mr. Ford, that brought us down to August, 1915? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—After that time, and a short time

One Year to Life for Mme. Trepagnier

She was Mme. Vera Trepagnier, who shot and mortally wounded Paul F. Volland, the "Mother Goose" publisher, in his office in the Garland building, May 5. Manslaughter, punishable by a prison term of from one year to life, was the verdict in Judge Brentano's court.

Mme. Trepagnier was the twenty-eighth woman to be tried in Cook county for the murder of a man since 1907. She was the first to be convicted. But the state felt sure of its case throughout the trial because she was 59 years old and admittedly not possessed of physical charms or a sentimental appeal to the twelve jurors.

No Morbid Appeal.

She had no sex story to tell. She shot Volland, she said, during a scuffle for possession of a revolver that she drew while quarreling with him over the ownership of a prized Trumbull miniature of George Washington. There was no morbid thrill even to attract the courtroom crowd.

Neither was there the customary handshaking or the occasional kissing of jurors that has marked the conclusion of the conventional feminine murder trial in Cook county.

The jury retired at 4:20 o'clock. One hour and thirty minutes later the verdict was in.

The woman, widow of a once wealthy New Orleans planter, whose penury had brought her down through the stage of house servant to the bar of justice on a murder charge, sat calmly tapping the defendant's table.

Listens Nervously to Verdict.

She turned her wrinkled face to that of the foreman, sighed nervously and continued her methodical tapping, tapping. A bailiff took the verdict, fumbled a bit, and read:

"We, the jury, find the defendant, Vera Trepagnier, guilty of manslaughter as charged in the indictment, and we fix her punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary."

The meager crowd of sensation seekers, supper hungry, began to file from the courtroom. Mme. Trepagnier continued her restless tapping. A reporter asked her what she thought of the verdict.

"Of course you can't—you can't expect me to think this is a fair verdict," she stated absent-mindedly. "My defense was incomplete. A woman lawyer whom I had engaged to start a civil suit against Mr. Volland left the city and made it impossible for me to get my papers together. I don't know what I am going to do now."

Former Wife Pleased.

Mrs. Gladys Couch Volland, divorced wife of the slain man, expressed pleasure at the verdict. She was seconded by Gordon B. Volland, the son.

"I am glad that there are twelve men at least in Cook county who can see the difference between right and wrong," said the former wife, and Volland's son nodded his approval. "I'm glad Mr. Volland has been vindicated by this verdict. When the attorneys for the defense claimed in their opening arguments that they would show Mr. Volland was a wife beater and cruel man, they told an untruth, and I am gratified that the jury apparently did not believe the statement."

"This is a just verdict," said State's Attorney Hoyne. "The jury is to be commended for holding a woman to the same accountability to which a man who committed crime would be held."

LIBERTY ARMY PARADES PARIS; WILD ACCLAIM

War's Last Chapter Gorgeous, Joyous Spectacle.

BY KENNETH C. ADAMS.
[By Special Cable.]

PARIS, July 14.—Civilization, delivered up out of the depths through which for five years it had struggled for existence, commemorates today its triumph over the forces which sought to destroy it.

On the anniversary of the long ago date when liberty came to France the world jubiliated over the freedom which men of many nations have died by millions to save.

For those countries which united in the cause of humanity, legions of warriors marched as the host of universal peace in a great, inspiring allied victory parade.

Come with Smiling Faces.

History does not record such a stupendous spectacle as was this pageant of victory in Paris today. In the steady tread of the marching thousands was the anthem of everlasting salvation. Rank upon rank they came, with smiling faces, these fighting men of many lands, their bayonets—those grim instruments of death—hung with garlands of flowers. One beheld in them the eternal strength of civilization.

Let it be recorded that the massive steel chains are not at the Arc de Triomphe. For the first time since 1870, when brave French hearts erected the barrier across their beloved arch, that the invaders from the north should not pass through it into Paris, the chains have been severed and uprooted from their concrete emplacements.

As Germans Promised; But Different.

The Germans promised in 1914 that they would themselves cut the barrier and come into Paris beneath the Arc de Triomphe—that beautiful structure at the Place de l'Etoile, dedicated by Napoleon I. to the victorious arms of France.

To all Frenchmen this day carries with it a significance too keen to be described with written words. To them the opening of the passageway through their consecrated arch today meant more than the victory parade itself. By thousands they crowded into the Place de l'Etoile and Champs Elysées that they might see with their own eyes the first men coming through the arch since it was barred to the Germans.

First Through Arc de Triomphe.

I know of no more dramatic moment in history than that when a detachment of maimed, mutilated soldiers of France, to whom was given the honor of heading the march of victory, came slowly through the Arc de Triomphe. Men and women wept and were not ashamed of their tears.

When the steel chains were removed in preparation for the events of today there was a monument erected in the center of the arc in memory of the soldier and sailor dead of France. For two days and nights incense was burned about the magnificent pole and guards of honor kept a vigil there and will keep their loyal watch throughout another night.

Promptly at 3:15 o'clock this morning President Poincare of France, president of the peace council, a poilu, a sailor, a maid of Alsace, and a maid of Lorraine, those liberated provinces of France, laid a wreath at the foot of the cenotaphe. Then the monument was moved aside, and the Arc de Triomphe was open to the legions that followed close upon the limping veterans, bearing ever so proudly their disfigurements.

25,000 March; 5,000,000 See.

It is estimated that more than 5,000,000 persons witnessed the parade in which 25,000 men participated. The line of march was from Port Maillot down the Avenue de La Grande Armée and the Champs Elysées to the Place de la Concorde along the Rue Royale and out the grand boulevards to the Place de la Republique. The column was two hours in passing the reviewing stand where President Poincare, Premier Clemenceau, and the dignitaries of all the allied power witnessed it march past.

STANDARD FOODS RISE 23 PER CENT IN SINGLE WEEK

Federal Action and Local Deals Both Blamed.

Foodstuffs, with the lid off for foreign exportation, are still going up. The approaching investigation by a city commission under Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson and a federal board not yet determined as to membership has not bothered South Water street in the least as to keeping prices down.

Comparative Prices.

Yesterday the South Water street houses showed the following quotations as against a week ago, an average advance of 23 per cent in seven days:

Article.	Yesterday.	Week ago.
Boiled ham, lb.	.55	.52
Canned pineapple, doz.	5.75	5.25
½ lb. tins lobster, doz.	3.20	2.35
Coffee, No. 4 standard, lb.	.55	.52
Flour, bbl.	9.75	9.00
Compound lard, lb.	.31	.28
Cantaloupes, crate.	4.85	3.75
Green corn, 125 ear brls.	8.50	5.50
Veal, lb.	.28	.23

The coffee and pineapple markets show the greatest steady increase. At the date of the armistice the standard No. 4 coffee sold at 20 cents per pound less than yesterday and coffee men said that the end is not yet in sight even at that rate. Brazil is holding back, as a government investment, 3,000,000 bags and that, coupled with a frost-shortened crop this year, has cut the amount for American import from 8,000,000 bags to an approximate half of that amount.

U. S. Sells in Europe.

Pineapple has jumped better than 100 per cent in three months because the American government, holding 7,000,000 cans, sold it under contract to a European government, stripping the American market. It is practically unobtainable now, pending new crops from Florida and California.

Buyers of produce freely charge that there is a combine on South Water street to keep up the cantaloupe market. They point out that on June 23 cantaloupes, in crates of fifteen, sold for $1.00 a crate; in crates of forty-five for $3.75 (standards), and ponies, in crates of fifty-four, for $3.50. An influx of melons began to drive the prices even lower. Shipments were diverted from the Chicago market and yesterday the crates of fifteen were quoted at $2.00, the ponies at $4.00, and the standards at $4.85.

Small Consumers Lose.

In connection with flour, the small consumer is getting the worst of it through a ruling of the food administration bureau. Effective July 15, all concerns using more than fifty barrels of flour per month get a rebate from the government of the difference in price that they have to pay for flour and the price standardized by the food administration. The user of less than fifty barrels per month gets no such debate.

Retail prices are showing or will show a corresponding raise, according to recent indications.

Proposes House Action to Halt Food Profiteering

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Investigation of the cost of living by a special house committee of six, appointed by Speaker Gillett, was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Johnson, Democrat, Mississippi. The committee would be required to recommend to congress "the proper course to pursue in order that the high cost of food may be reduced and those who are guilty of profiteering may be punished."

The Chicago Advertising Score

In the week ending July 13, 1919, Chicago newspapers published the following number of columns of advertising: (The measurement is on the uniform basis of 300 agate lines per column. Figures from the Advertising Record Company, an independent audit bureau.)

Morning and Sunday Papers

The Tribune	1,452.82 cols.
Herald and Examiner	603.79 cols.
Total 2 morning and Sunday papers	2,056.79 cols.

Evening Papers

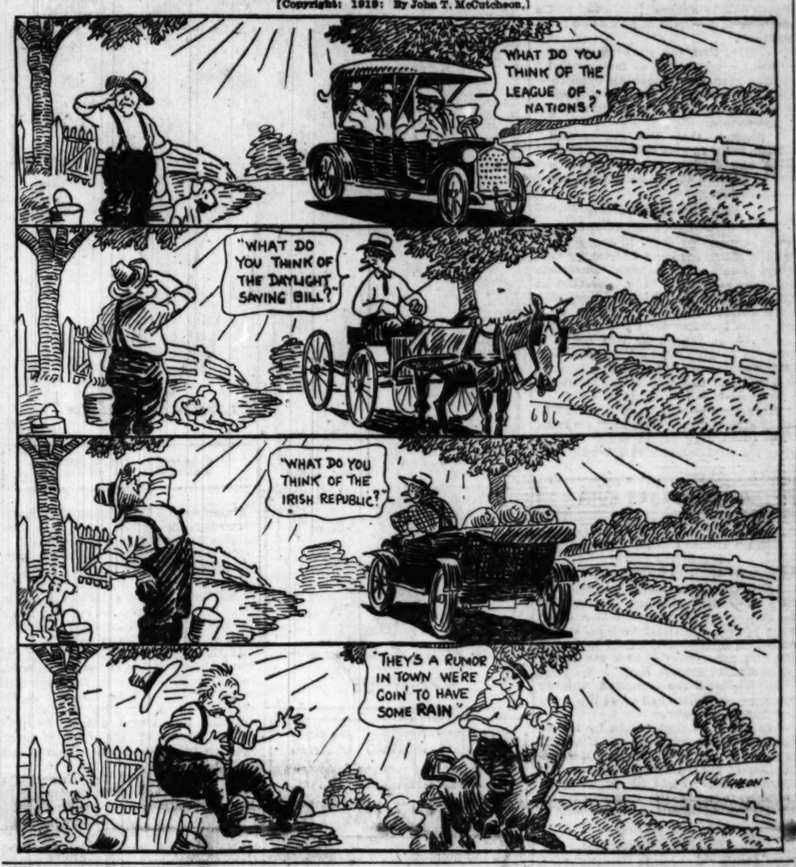

The Daily News	1,079.06 cols.
The American	429.15 cols.
The Journal	329.35 cols.
The Post	312.76 cols.
Total 4 evening papers	2,150.32 cols.

Advertisements printed in other papers not accepted by The Tribune..... 50.11 columns

The Tribune led for the week, printing 35% more advertising than the first evening paper and more than the second, third and fourth evening papers combined.

WHAT THE FARMER IS THINKING ABOUT

[Copyright: 1919: By John T. McCutcheon.]

ALL TROOPS FOR CONVOY HOME TO SAIL BY AUG. 15

New York, July 14.—The last contingent of American troops, exclusive of the men in the army of occupation and the service of supply, will be aboard ships between Aug. 15 and 20, according to a statement today by Maj. Gen. David C. Shanks, in charge of the port of embarkation at Hoboken.

Gen. Shanks, in explaining recent complaints of some officers about ocean accommodations, said the government had been forced to utilize fifty-eight cargo vessels as transports to expedite the homeward movement. If only passenger liners were employed, he said, the 32,000 American officers, Red Cross nurses, Y. M. C. A., and Salvation Army workers still abroad could not reach home before October or November.

3 DIE, 2 HURT, IN PHILADELPHIA IN CRASH OF PLANE

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—Three naval aviators were pinned to the bottom of the Delaware river and drowned today when a large five passenger seaplane plunged into shallow water off the navy yard. Two others in the seaplane at the time were injured.

"Kick" in His Near Beer Threatens Death

Oscar Engberg, 38 years old, 6727 Loomis street, discovered a new way to put a "kick" in near beer. He is now in the bridewell hospital suffering from wood alcohol poisoning. Last night the Englewood police were asked to send an ambulance to the Engberg home. Mrs. Sigfried Engberg explained that her husband purchased a quart of wood alcohol and put a teaspoonful in each glass of near beer. His condition is serious.

Woman Leaps to Death in Lake; Identity a Mystery

The police are attempting to learn the identity of a woman about 40 years old who leaped into the lake at the foot of East Thirty-first street and whose body was recovered. The body was taken to Boysen's undertaking rooms, 2933 Cottage Grove avenue. The woman is described as being about 40 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, with dark hair mixed with gray.

FLAT BUILDING ROCKED BY BOMB

Federal Officials Begin Inquiry on Theory of Extortion.

Residents in the vicinity of Garfield park were terrorized last night when a bomb was exploded in the vestibule of a six apartment building at 20 South Hamlin avenue. Windows were shattered and the ceiling and walls of the entrance were wrecked, but no one was injured.

The building is owned by Egidio Mazzarese, who is also proprietor of a drug store on West Taylor street in the heart of the west side Italian district. He was questioned by detectives but denied that he or members of his family had received any threatening letters.

Officials Investigate.

Working on the theory that Mazzarese is a prospective victim of the recently exposed Black Hand "trust," postoffice officials have started an investigation in an effort to link recent disclosures with the latest bomb outrage.

Tenants of the building were questioned, but it developed that none except the owner is an Italian. The occupants are Max Meyer, Harry Arthur Hirsch, Clyde Amsler, Arthur D. Fulton, and Mrs. William J. Evans.

The bomb, which was in the form of an iron pipe loaded with dynamite, was set off shortly after 10:30 o'clock. Motorcycle Policeman Thomas E. Sheridan, a few blocks away, telephoned the Fillmore street station and arrived in time to see three men speeding away in an orange colored taxi.

Admits Carrying Gun.

After a lengthy grilling by Capt. James Gleason, Mazzarese admitted that he usually carried a gun after having received permission from the police authorities. He said he needed it for protection as he often had left his drug store late at night with large sums of money.

Postoffice investigators charged him with carrying the revolver to insure safety against Blackhanders, but he denied the accusations.

Postoffice Inspector A. E. Germer stated last night that he had reason to believe that bomb explosions and mysterious murders in Chicago and vicinity during the last year could be traced directly to the workings of the Blackhand organization. He predicted that more arrests would be made of members of the blackmail trust before the end of the week.

CONGRESS IN STORM AS 2¾% BEER IS BEATEN

Fight to Set Point at Which Liquor Has Kick Also Lost.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Prohibition forces took full control in the house today, refused to permit a vote on a straight out motion to repeal the wartime act; defeated overwhelmingly an amendment providing for the sale of 2¾ per cent beer, and stood solidly against all attacks on the general enforcement measure.

Just as fast as one "liberal" amendment was offered by opponents of prohibition, it was voted down without ceremony, always by a triple vote, for the minority, fighting every inch of ground, demanded a division after ayes and nays were called and then asked for tellers.

Before the house got through with the first section of the first part of the three-part bill there was more disorder on the floor than at any time this session.

Speeches Start Disorder.

The disturbance arose first during an attempt by Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, to speak a second time against an amendment, which would have given a jury the right to define intoxicants, and was increased during an address by Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts.

The real battle of the day, however, was over the amendment to define an intoxicant as a beverage containing more than 2¾ per cent alcohol, instead of more than one-half of 1 per cent, as written in the bill.

Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, author of the amendment, did not ask for this definition in the constitutional prohibition amendment, but simply in the wartime law.

Will Restore Hard Liquor.

In pleading for its adoption, Mr. Dyer declared it was what President Wilson had recommended to congress, and would permit, during the remaining period of wartime prohibition, the sale of light wines and beer, and might delay issuance of a proclamation by the president which would restore the sale of "hard" liquors.

There was a round of speech making on this motion, an hour of it, with the "drys" assailing it as an entering wedge and the "wets" asserting that it merely would permit the very thing the president, as commander in chief of the army, had said was best for the country for the next six months.

After 2¾ per cent beer had been bowled over by a record vote of 151 to 90—and this was about the relative division on all amendments—the prohibitionists went after another amendment by Representative Igoe, Democrat, Missouri, which would have stricken out all definition of intoxicants, killing the proposal, 128 to 83.

Galleries Join in Uproar.

There was the utmost confusion at times, despite vigorous whacks with a gavel, and some of the prohibition leaders applauded every move in their favor. The galleries, filled largely with women and officers of anti-liquor organizations, broke into applause when the house roared its disapproval of 2¾ per cent beer.

There were other points of order on other proposals, but the one by Representative Pell, Democrat, New York, which would put determination of intoxicating qualities of certain beverages up to a jury, was ruled in order, only to be knocked out on an aye and nay vote, a division, and again after the call for tellers and the slow march of members through the center aisle of the chamber.

In lifting his voice for 2¾ per cent beer Representative Rainey, Democrat, Illinois, declared these were uncertain times, that the people were in a peculiar frame of mind, and that poverty was causing more misery than alcohol.

Rainey Hopes for Veto.

He expressed the hope that the president would veto the enforcement bill because of its drastic provisions.

The feeling between the factions got so bitter at times that the usual courtesy of permitting a member to revise and extend his remarks was denied. Prohibition members objected when Representative Reber, Republican, Pennsylvania, who had made a strong plea for beer, wanted to add something

SOUTH CHICAGO THREATENED BY STRIKE OF 18,000

Unrest is reported at the steel mills of South Chicago. More than 18,000 men employed in the various industries of the vicinity yesterday threatened to walk out if a wage increase was not granted. Their claims will be considered today.

A meeting between company officials and representatives of the unions last night deterred 3,500 men employed at the Western Steel Car and Foundry company from walking out. The threatened strike involved riveters, painters, and laborers. They now have an eight hour day and their wages run from $4 to $12 a day. They are demanding a six hour day and an increase of from 25 to 50 per cent in wages.

The Chicago Shipbuilding company will have until next Monday to decide whether their employés shall receive a 25 per cent increase in wages. There are 3,500 employés who will quit work as an alternative.

The Illinois Steel company is also threatened by a strike of between 10,000 and 11,000 men. The men are protesting the laying off of one of the union officials.

A voluntary increase of $1 a day to elevator operators and starters was announced by officials of the union. Although the agreement between the employers and union officials had two years to run, the managers' organization voluntarily agreed to increase the scale because of present living conditions.

Eleven of Her Family Were Lost in Great War

New York, July 14.—The first refugee to be received at the Y. W. C. A. service center in Constantinople, opened last week, was a sister of Anna Pavlowa, the Russian dancer, according to a cable message received today. She had lost her husband, baby, seven brothers, father, and mother during the war. After being cared for she left for England to join her sister.

Bastile Day in Alsace After Wait of 49 Years

STRASBOURG, July 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—Alsace celebrated the fourteenth of July today with an enthusiasm said never to have been equaled in the years before observance of the French national holiday was interrupted forty-nine years ago by German occupation.

Raynham Postpones Start Across Ocean to Today

St. Johns, N. F. July 14.—Discovery of further defects in the radiator of his Martinsyde plane during an hour's trial this morning caused Capt. Frederick P. Raynham, the pilot, to postpone the start of his proposed trans-Atlantic flight until tomorrow.

he was deprived of saying in his limited allotment of time.

Mr. Reber had intimated in his speech that some members were not altogether truthful as to their drinking habits, declaring that so far as 2¾ per cent beer was concerned he had taken two drinks of it, handrunning, and it had no more effect than so much water.

He added that he never drank a gallon of beer in his life and simply took this much the other day to see if it would make him drunk.

Emphatic appeals for modification of the bill's drastic provisions were made by Representatives Dyer, Igoe, and Gard, Democrats, of Ohio, all members of the judiciary committee.

Mr. Igoe declared the situation was the most unusual ever presented to the house. All other wartime legislation, he said, had been repealed or had expired, without attempt to extend it, yet congress was attempting to assert that the war still existed so far as the sale of liquor was concerned.

Cites Daylight Repeal.

A similar argument was advanced by Mr. Gard, who declared only today the house had tried to override the president in the effort to defeat daylight saving, a wartime measure, yet prohibition leaders would not give the house a chance to vote for repeal of another wartime law which was passed, he added, in a moment of hysteria.

The chair was unable at times during the speech of Mr. Gallivan to preserve a semblance of order, and the galleries joined in the uproar. Standing in the center aisle the Massachusetts member waved his arms like a baseball pitcher warming up for a game and shouted:

"There are members who are not as 'dry' as their statements on this floor might indicate, and in their homes is liquor enough to last them twenty years."

House C2K the Forehanded.

"If they weren't such good fellows I surely would," Mr. Gallivan replied.

"Open your offices," he added, "and place in the Congressional Record statements of how much liquor you have and I will be satisfied."

There was so much confusion at this point that the house adjourned, just after reaching section 2 of part 1 of the three part bill. There are in all sixty four sections, only one of which was passed today, which gives some indication as to how much time may be required to get through with all.

WETS, DRY BUT HOPEFUL, START CAMPAIGN HERE

Chicago will not become the happy hunting ground of the Anti-Saloon league nor will the United States become prohibitive of personal liberty and rights, according to speakers at a dinner of the Chicago and midwest division of the Association Opposed to National Prohibition, which was held in the Congress hotel last night.

The association is incorporated under the laws of New York to "promote temperate use of alcohols and opposed to any movement prohibiting or limiting the use of tobacco."

An active campaign along these lines will be started through the general headquarters in New York, and extended to every state in the union, according to the report of James Arthur Seavey, managing director of the association, who presided at the dinner.

CLYNE FILES SUIT TO TEST LAW ON HOW NEAR IS BEER

United States Attorney Charles F. Clyne yesterday filed with Federal Judge George T. Page the bill of a test suit by way of information against the Stenson Brewing company, 1748 North Winchester avenue, charging violation of the food conservation and wartime emergency prohibition acts.

The suit charges the company manufactured beer on June 10 containing one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol, in violation of the food conservation act, and sold the product July 2 in violation of the prohibition act.

The preliminary hearing will be held today and prosecution continued speedily with view to taking the case to the Supreme court of the United States.

Col. Foreman Cited for Meuse-Argonne Fighting

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Details of the citation accompanying the award of the distinguished service medal to Col. Milton J. Foreman of Chicago for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services" have been received in a cable from Gen. Pershing to the war department.

"Commanding the 122d field artillery," the citation states, "he gave proof of eminent technical attainments and assiduous zeal.

"Though handicapped by many adverse conditions, due to difficult terrain and determined hostile resistance, he kept his batteries in close support of the infantry and thereby rendered services of inestimable value during the St. Mihiel offensive and the advance to the Meuse in the last phase of the Meuse-Argonne offensive."

BRITAIN DELAYS PRICE INCREASE IN COAL CRISIS

Respite of Few Days May Be 3 Months if Miners Pledge Work.

LONDON, July 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—The coal debate in the house of commons today resulted in the postponement of the enforcement of the $1.50 a ton increase in the price of coal from July 16 to 21, while an attempt is made for an arrangement between the miners, mine owners, and the government.

William Brace, president of the South Wales Miners' federation and a member of parliament, made two propositions:

First, that the government appoint a committee of inquiry and thus give the miners an opportunity for consultation and coöperation on the problem of increasing the output.

Second, that the government take steps to give legislative effect to the Sankey recommendations and proceed to the nationalization of the mines.

Asks Non-Strike Pact.

Bonar Law, the government spokesman, announced that if the miners' leaders would give an undertaking that there should be no stoppages or strikes in the meantime, the government would accept Mr. Brace's suggestion of a committee of inquiry and postpone the increase for three months.

Mr. Brace replied he was not in a position to give such an undertaking, but would submit the suggestion to the miners' conference on Thursday and recommend its acceptance.

Mr. Bonar Law thereupon agreed to defer enforcement of the increase from July 16 to July 21, in order to give time for consideration of the matter.

GEDDES FEARS RUIN

BY HENRY M. HYDE.
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

LONDON, July 14.—A gloomy picture of British industry was painted in the house of commons this afternoon by Sir Auckland Geddes, trying on behalf of the government to justify the new addition of $1.50 a ton to the pit mouth of British coal.

He declared the situation was as grave as any which had faced the country during the war.

"Britain," he said, "lives by its exports, and by exports alone. Unless it is possible greatly to increase the production of coal, we shall have to cut down our exports of coal and shall not be able to meet the competition of Americans on manufactured goods in the markets of the world."

Several Causes of Shortage.

Sir Auckland admitted that the shortage of empty coal cars and the difficulty of getting steel rails and other mine supplies partly were responsible for the small coal production. He charged, however, that the largest blame was due to the coal miners, who do not work full time nor produce as much as possible while they do work. He said if the miners would increase the production the government would lower the price of coal as rapidly as possible. With a 6 shilling addition, the cost of coal to consumers in London would be more than $12 a ton. It is realized that would be a hardship on the public, but there was no good in refusing to face facts, the speaker said.

Coal Cheaper in America.

The pit mouth price of coal in the United States, Sir Auckland continued, was only $3 a ton, as against more than $7 in Great Britain. Already Americans were shipping coal to many countries which Britain formerly had supplied. American oil had taken the place of British coal along the west coast of South America, he declared.

Up to date the British government had paid more than $30,000,000 in subsidies to the coal companies. The addition of six shillings a ton to the price would relieve the government of further contributions, he said.

William Brace, coal miners' member and formerly a member of the government, answered with the charge that the imposition of an advance of six shillings a ton apparently was a political trick to affect elections in several districts where members are being chosen to fill vacancies.

The labor members felt indignant, he said, that the government had not conferred with them—as it often did during the war—and given them a chance in coöperation with the coal mine owners to increase production by appealing to the patriotism of the miners.

Fears Trick on Public.

He said he feared that the government wanted to dodge public ownership and operation of coal mines as practically pledged under the Sankey report and took this method of prejudicing the public. Brace urged the government to delay the 6 shillings increase until the matter could be investigated and an attempt made to increase the production.

Such price increases, he urged, would mean ruin to British industry. The miners recognize, he added, that the problem is one which must be solved if the country is to be saved, and they are willing to aid in every possible way.

Sir Donald MacLean, leader of the free liberals, presented a severe criticism of the government from the standpoint of the consumer. It was true, he said, as Sir Auckland Geddes had declared, that coal was to the mass of the people the most important thing next to bread.

WILSON SENDS CABLE TO POINCARE IN HONOR OF BASTILE DAY FETE

Washington, D. C., July 14.—President Wilson today sent this message to President Poincare on the occasion of the celebration of Bastille day:

"May I not on this day, which commemorates the breaking of the chain which once bound France to an intolerable servitude, convey to the people of France the cordial fraternal greetings of the people of the United States and their sense of privilege and joy in having been associated with France in breaking the bonds of the world?

New York, July 14.—Judgments amounting to $217,201 were obtained today by Richard Croker, Jr., against his father, Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall. No defense was offered.

The son set forth that in October, 1907, his father, who lives in Ireland, requested him to act as his business agent and that he continued his services in that capacity until December 30, 1917, when he rendered an account for $125,836. One judgment represents that amount with interest.

CONSUL IS HOST

If one were a Frenchman in Chicago yesterday, he could have had his Bastille day celebration as he liked it.

If his mood chanced to be thoughtful, he could repair to the Fine Arts building, where M. A. Barthelemy, the French consul, had arranged a reception. But if he perferred revelry, there was the picnic at Pilsen park, Twenty-sixth street and Albany avenue.

At the reception M. Barthelemy expressed appreciation of the aid America had given France, apart from sending troops against the Germans, and referred to the many gifts to funds for wounded and war orphans. Francis Parker spoke of the friendship of America for France and Arthur Allais replied it was reciprocated.

Young members of French societies appeared at the picnic grounds in Alsatian costume. National songs were sung and the picnickers ate their luncheons from baskets under the trees. Mary Angelique Coleman and Germaine Muller were among the little saleswomen in costume.

VICTORY LEGIONS MARCH IN PARIS; MILLIONS CHEER

Pershing and the Americans were given the place of honor behind them.

Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig led the forces of Great Britain and Gen. Diaz those of Italy. Famous generals of all the allied nations were in the procession. There was Gen. Guillain of Belgium with Marshal Petain, Gens. de Castelnau, de Beney, Gouraud, and Berdoulat of France. The French populace knows its war heroes. One heard them acclaimed by name all along the line of march. There never has been such a gathering of famed military leaders as Paris saw pass today.

Marvelous Scene of Color.

No movie director ever has conceived a procession for the screen so colorful as was the parade of victory. The generals of France, in their brilliant scarlet caps and bright blue uniforms, the sober khaki of the Americans, the crimson splatched blouses of the British field marshal and staff, the red turbanned Moroccans, the vari-colored flowing garments of the Moroccan chieftain, the showy martial uniforms and steel plumed helmets of the Republican guard of France, the bright garbed Belgian cavalry, the kilted Scots, and, above all, the riot of color in the hundreds of battle flags of all the allied countries, made a kaleidoscopic scene that fairly swept one's breath away.

Great Britain sent to Paris today for the victory parade nearly all her war flags. Carried in massed formation by color bearers, they made a great and brilliant section in the pageant, which aviators, flying 1,000 meters above, say stood out like a gorgeous sunset on on Arab winter sky. The battleflags of America were there, too; so were those of France, Belgium, Italy, Serbia, and all the allied powers—many of them in shreds, shot and torn almost to a stage of complete destruction.

Those with Pershing.

Behind Gen. Pershing rode Maj. Gen. H. G. Harbord, chief of staff, followed closely by three aids, Col. Geoorge C. Marshall Jr., Col. John G. Quekemeyer, and Maj. Thurston Hughes. Behind these rode two army corps commanders, Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen and Maj. Gen. John L. Hines.

Next came four rows of American officers. In the first row rode Maj. Gens. Brewster, Langfitt, McGlachlin, Le Jeune, Howze, Hersey, and Lafitte. In the second row were Brig. Gens. Poore, Russel, Bethell, Harts, Marshall, Rice, and Sladen. In the third row were Brig. Gens. McIntyre, Walker, Cruickshank, Conner, Malin, Craig, Davis, and Booth. In the fourth and last row rode Brig. Gens. Mosely, Neville, Parker, Bamford, McCoy, and D. F. Craig, and Cols. John T. Knight and Collins.

Col. Babcock commanded the detachment of American troops that followed.

The American military band was composed of 126 men.

The American troops in line consisted of a composite battalion selected from all the regiments of the American army of occupation, formed in four companies. The first two companies in line were separated from the second two by a detachment of men carrying forty regimental flags. The color bearers and guards numbered altogether about 200.

Last in the American section of the procession came a company of 150 marines, commanded by Lieut. Meyer. Altogether there were in line a few less than 1,500 Americans.

The Dead Not Forgotten.

I could not help but turn from the glorious spectacle of the victory parade to give a thought to the hundreds of thousands of gallant men who died under those flags. One who thought of them, in the hills of Verdun, Argonne woods, Belgium and northern France, felt that this parade today was at once a celebration of the victory of peace and a tribute to them. When I beheld along the entire line of march the women of France mourning, their tear stained faces turned reverently toward those battle flags, I knew that the dead were not forgotten this day.

PARIS FULL OF PEOPLE

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

PARIS, July 13.—Delayed.—Paris became the biggest city in the world this morning with the dumping of tens of thousands of additional tourists and sightseers by trains, tram cars, automobiles, and every form of conveyance, together with 150,000 troops, who will parade or assist in keeping the line of march open tomorrow.

It is estimated there are 7,000,000 inhabitants in Paris this evening instead of 3,500,000, the last census population, which jumped to nearly 5,000,000, with the influx of refugees before the Gotha raids and "Big Bertha" bombardments of 1918.

Every one in Paris turned out today and was walking over the line of march. Vehicular traffic on the Champs Elysées, Rue Royale, and the grand boulevards was prohibited, leaving the wide avenues to the black crawling mob of countless thousands.

Scores of people tried to hide in the basins of the fountain and among the captured German cannon, piled round the point of the Champs Elysées and Place de la Concorde, but the vigilant police ferreted them out and drove them back to the side lines.

HOUR OF TRIUMPH FOR THE LIVING AND FOR THE DEAD

BY MRS. SPEARMAN LEWIS.
[By Special Cable.]

PARIS, July 14.—This is a little sidelight on the big show as seen at the windows of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes' headquarters in Elysee palace, Paris.

You could tell Warren was Black Jack's boy as soon as he stepped into our room—the envy of every woman who saw the manly little shaver.

Rabbit cap and khaki suit, spiral leggins, spurs and army shoes, tan gloves, white cuffs—and Pershing smile.

He stopped three paces inside the door and came to a salute. Col. Roop, in command in the temporary absence of Gen. Dawes, returned the boy's salute.

"Sir, Sergt. Pershing reports for duty."

"Very good. Have you started the parade?"

"Yes, sir."

"Very good. When it has finished I shall expect you to take charge of the district of Paris and maintain order."

"Very well, sir."

He didn't look three feet high as he did his snappy about face and marched to the door. There Warren whispered for a moment with his faithful sergeant major chaperon.

Lieut. Kilkenny, aid to Gen. Dawes, joined the conference and soon came back smiling.

"Anybody got any chocolate left? It's been a long time since Sergt. Pershing had his breakfast."

And when Gen. Pershing passed in the parade's place of honor and saluted our windows, and Warren solemnly returned the salute, I couldn't help but wonder if his little mother who died at Presidio could look down and share the triumphant hour in the lives of her soldier man and soldier boy. I am sure she could.

SHEBAN ENVOYS PRAISE WILSON; LIKE SOLOMON

Queen Stays at Home, but Sends Gifts of Gold and Ivory.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Wearing red velvet robes heavy with gold and silver trimmings and large silk turbans embroidered with pearls, the special envoys of Abyssinia greeted President Wilson today and congratulated him on the conclusion of peace.

They then presented him with elephan tusks seven feet long, mounted in solid gold, spears and javelins, native garments of the richest and most beautiful materials embroidered in jewels, two gold cups, and a gold box lined with silk containing letters addressed to the president by the Abyssinian queen, a daughter of Menelik, who is also empress of Ethiopia, and her son, the heir apparent.

The envoy who spoke to the president linked their visit with that of the queen of Sheba to King Solomon.

The members of the mission, comprising the Dedjazmatch Nado, the Kantiba Gabrou, and the Ato Herouy, with the Ato Sinkae, who served as secretary, were presented to the president at noon today by Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state.

Makes Speech to President.

As head of the mission the Dedjazmatch Nado addressed the president as follows:

"Your excellency, we have the honor to be the first mission to America to present the congratulations of our country on your work with the allies for the successful termination of the war with Germany.

"More than 5,000 years have elapsed since the establishment of the Ethiopian government. In the time of David and Solomon this government was well known. The queen of Ethiopia, Macada, ruled over all Sheba at that time.

She Heard of Solomon.

"She heard of King Solomon and came to listen to his wisdom and see the country, and as she returned to her own dominion she proclaimed the religion of the living God. From that time until Constantine the great Ethiopia has believed in God according to the laws of the Old Testament. In the time of Constantine Ethiopia became Christian according to the gospel of Jesus Christ, and since that time has fought for her Christianity and independence against the surrounding Mohammedans and heathens.

"Undoubtedly your excellency knows more about the history of our race and religion than I am able to tell.

Rejoice Over America.

"All the people of Ethiopia, knowing that the United States of America, after securely establishing her own independence, has taken upon herself the wonderful duty of assisting the allies in gaining equal liberty and independence, rejoiced and praised the American people.

"We hope that the friendship with the United States, begun during the reign of Emperor Menelik II., will continue and develop, and that commerce will be renewed and increased as a result of that friendship.

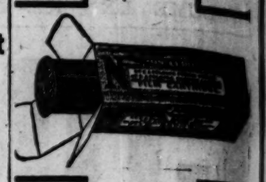

"This is the anxious desire of her majesty, our empress, of the heir-apparent to the throne, and of all our people."

President Thanks Envoys.

President Wilson said in part:

"It gives me great pleasure to welcome you as a special mission sent by the Abyssinian government to congratulate the United States on the victory won over Germany and to receive from you the letters of her imperial majesty, Zaouditou, empress of Ethiopia, and his imperial highness, Ras Tafferi, heir apparent to the throne of Ethiopia."

SENATE ASKS WILSON FOR LEAGUE DATA

Secret Tokio-Berlin Treaty Also Is Sent For.

BULLETIN.

PARIS, July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The national council of the Socialist party has decided to oppose ratification of the peace treaty. The vote was 1,420 to 114, with 387 abstentions.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Taking its stand on President Wilson's principle of "open covenants openly arrived at," the senate committee on foreign relations in meeting today to consider the peace treaty aimed a series of blows intended to tear the veil from the secret diplomacy of the peace negotiations.

After the committee had approved resolutions designed to pry various secrets from the possession of the president, Senator Johnson, California, brought forward the most comprehensive resolution of all, embodying a demand for data of every character relating to the treaty and its formulation.

It calls for the carefully suppressed plan for a league of nations submitted to the peace conference by President Wilson, which the president admits was rejected in favor of the British plan, and also calls for the stenographic reports of the peace negotiations.

Former Demands in Vain.

President Wilson, when he conferred with members of the committee during his visit to the United States in March, said he saw no objection to their seeing the American league of nations plan.

Numerous efforts since to obtain a copy of the plan have been unsuccessful, giving rise to the belief in some quarters that there never was a complete American plan in writing.

The Johnson resolution provides:

"That the foreign relations committee requests there be transmitted to it:

"1—All drafts and forms of league of nations, or relating to the league of nations finally adopted, and particularly the draft or form of a league of nations prepared and presented by the commissioners of the United States.

Asks Stenographic Report.

"2—All proceedings, arguments, and debates relating to a league of nations, or the league finally adopted, and particularly the transcript of the stenographic reports relating to or concerning a league of nations; and all data of every kind used in or relating to the treaty of peace with Germany now pending."

Subsequently, explaining his resolution, Senator Johnson said:

"I want this information, already given, as press dispatches indicate, by Clemenceau to the French parliament, in order that we may have at hand the very fundamental information upon which intelligently to act.

"This should be the first thing to come to the committee so that, fully informed, any subsequent exposition may be followed."

Resolution Up Today.

No action was taken on the resolution at today's meetings. It probably will be brought up tomorrow. Indications are the administration forces will oppose it on the ground that it would embarrass the president.

The committee had to deal with so many measures preliminary to the taking up of the treaty that it did not attempt to begin consideration of the pact today.

It made a favorable report, by a vote of 13 to 2, on the Lodge resolution asking the president to transmit to the senate the text of the reported secret treaty entered into last year by Japan and Germany.

An amendment offered by Senator McCumber, North Dakota, and adopted asks for all information concerning any negotiations between Japan and Germany during the war. Senators considered this action highly important.

Want Japs' War Record.

"We are going to try to show just where Japan stood and how she acted during the war," said Senator Johnson. The committee, by a vote of 9 to 4, agreed to recommend adoption of the Borah resolution asking the president to transmit to the senate a copy of the protest made by Secretary Lansing, Henry White, and Gen. Bliss against the handing over of Shantung to Japan.

The committee also favorably reported the La Follette resolution requesting the president to inform the senate why the United States, while exercising a virtual protectorate over Nicaragua, has permitted Nicaraguan forces to invade Costa Rica, and why Costa Rica was not permitted to sign the peace treaty.

All the resolutions probably will be brought up in the senate tomorrow.

Hitchcock Phones Wilson.

Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, returned to Washington today and just before the foreign relations committee went into session called President Wilson on the telephone to inquire about the president's wishes with regard to appearing before the committee.

The president, he afterwards reported to the committee, does not desire to go to the capitol, and wants the committee to meet him at the White House. Members of the committee regarded this as something of a modification of the offer he made in his address last Thursday. It is probable that he will be invited to confer with the committee at the capitol.

Some members will flatly decline to go to the White House fearing to be bound by confidences in the fight over the league.

Senator King, Utah, and Senator McKellar, Tennessee, Democrats, called on the president at the White House today. Senator McKellar has been a strong advocate of the league. He merely wanted to talk with the president about patronage, he said.

Senator King, after the conference, said that while he favors reservations, he would vote for the treaty as it stands through fear of endangering the whole document.

Administration forces are planning a flank movement against the league opponents, it was learned today. They are drafting a bill for the appointment of the American delegate to the league of nations and defining his powers.

To those who want reservations, but favor a league of nations, they will urge that all objections be handled in the form of amendments to the enabling act and that no effort be made to modify the treaty. They expect to introduce the bill within a few days so that it can be kept on hand during the treaty contest.

WASHINGTON NEWS
—IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.

MRS. JOHN W. CORRELL, whose husband was murdered by Mexicans near Tampico last month and who was herself subjected to gross indignities, is on her way to Washington to lay the facts regarding the death of her American husband before the state department and to demand reparation.

MORE curious financial deals involving brothers of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, were revealed today to the senate banking and currency committee investigating charges against Controller Williams by John Poole, president of the Federal National bank. The three brothers—Rolfe Bolling, R. W. Bolling and John Randolph Bolling—Mr. Poole said, were involved in transactions involving solicitation of deposits in various banks by the Federal bank, in exchange for which the Federal bank would receive heavy deposits from the Emergency Fleet Corporation, of which R. W. Bolling was assistant treasurer.

THE senate today without a dissenting vote adopted the McCormick resolution providing for creation of a special committee to devise a budget system for the government.

LACKING only eight votes of the necessary two-thirds advocates of the repeal of the daylight savings law failed in an attempt to pass the agricultural appropriation bill over the president's veto.

DRYS carried the day in the house, voting down several amendments offered by the wets. A 2¾ per cent beer amendment was one of those defeated, while a wartime prohibition repeal provision was among a number ruled out on a point of order.

SPECIAL envoys of Abyssinia, clad in native red velvet robes, heavy with gold and silver trimmings, and tall silk turbans embroidered with pearls, and bearing gifts of their far off land, greeted President Wilson at the White House today.

D. S. C. FOR TWO CHICAGO MEN

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Two more soldiers from Chicago were added to the hero list today by Gen. Pershing, who ordered them decorated with the distinguished service cross for bravery. They were:

Corporal William J. Sattler, headquarters company, 132d infantry. Next of kin, Mrs. Augusta Sattler (mother), 3346 North Troy street, Chicago.

Sergt. Edward McAndrews (deceased), Company B, 13th machine gun battalion. Next of kin, Mrs. Charles Weyl (mother), 4751 West Austin avenue, Chicago.

Frank K. Nebeker Made Assistant to Palmer

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Frank K. Nebeker, who won a national reputation by his successful prosecution of the I. W. W. leaders in Chicago last year, was appointed today an assistant attorney general.

CRAVEN TO EVADE DUTY TO WORLD, SWANSON SAYS

Virginia Senator Calls It 'Skulking' to Defeat League.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Praising the league of nations covenant as "one of the world's greatest documents," Senator Swanson of Virginia, a Democratic member of the foreign relations committee, told the senate today that if the United States rejected the league it "would mean that she would skulk in the greatest world crisis that ever occurred."

The speaker defended the league against the objections that it would sacrifice sovereignty and American traditions and asserted that, on the contrary, it would result in immense material gain in protecting American integrity and preventing war. He declared it would not create a supergovernment, involve objectionable obligations, nor invalidate the Monroe doctrine.

World Service in Hour of Need.

"The pathway of our duty is plain," said Senator Swanson. "Let us not be frightened by our own prodigious shadow as it projects itself into world affairs. Let us not be deterred from our manifest duty and destiny by a craven fear of becoming great in giving service and direction to a world in the direst hour of its need and distress."

Pointing out that the war had shaken the social order to its foundation, the Virginia senator said it was the paramount obligation of responsible statesmen to prevent another such conflagration, which would return the world "to the rule of brute force and barbarism of the dark ages."

Full Sovereignty Reserved.

"The instrument creating the league is a 'covenant' entered into by sovereign states," he continued. "One of the attributes of sovereignty is the ability to make covenants or agreements. That a state reserves its full sovereignty is conclusively settled by the provision allowing any member to withdraw. No nation, superior or otherwise, ever thus expressly provided means for its dissolution.

"This covenant, if ratified by the senate, would be no more nor less than a treaty legalized under our constitution. The plan for the formation of the league is skillfully conceived and the only one possible under existing conditions.

"Much opposition has been urged because a great nation like the United States has only one vote in the assembly. But what difference does the number of votes make when upon all important letters the action of the assembly must be unanimous or have the unanimous concurrence of the council, upon which the United States is permanently represented?

Equality of Voice Assured.

"The league could never be organized on any basis other than that of equal representation. If members were accorded difference in representation, upon what basis should the apportionment be made? If upon population, China and India would dominate the league and the United States would have only one-fifteenth of the number. If based upon wealth and military power, the situation would be equally as uncertain and unsatisfactory.

"What better plan for disarmament could be devised? The council is directed to prepare a general plan of disarmament for the consideration of the governments, which plan is not binding upon any of the states until approved by that state.

"Under article 10 each member of the league undertakes, first, to respect the territorial integrity and political independence of all other members of the league. When the nations of the world raise their hands and take this solemn pledge, are we sullenly and stubbornly to stand aside and become a stumbling block in the way of this noble achievement?

"The second obligation is to 'preserve as against external aggression to territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league.' This is a natural corollary from the first."

SURPRISE STORM DOWNS MERCURY, COOLS OFF CITY

Temperature Ebbs from 95½ to 71; Heat Kills Woman.

Relief from the heat was brought to Chicago suddenly late yesterday afternoon when an unexpected squall, with showers, blew up from the northwest. Earlier in the day Mrs. Amelia Ahern, 3745 North Monticello avenue, was found dead in her home from the effects of the heat.

Truck Kills Child.

The rain also was responsible for one fatality. Running to escape the downpour, Cora O'Donnell, 11 years old, was crushed to death under the wheels of a Schulze Baking company truck in the street near her home at 2833 Congress street. Finley Robbins, 5329 South Wells street, the driver, notified the police. He was placed under arrest.

Although attended by a twenty-six mile an hour wind and an extensive electrical display, the storm did little real damage. Wires were blown down or short circuited, a few trees were bowled over, and lightning struck one building.

On the other hand, the storm caused the temperature to skid from the 95 degree mark at 4 p. m. to 90 when the rain started, an hour later. At 6 p. m. the mercury struck 78, receding at 7 p. m. to 71 and becoming more or less fixed thereafter at 75.

Boats Get Storm Alarm.

When the federal building barometer predicted the blow, the weather bureau flashed a squall signal by wireless warning all lake boats to exercise proper precautions. Thousands of homegoing workers were without the warning, however, and were caught in the first splash.

A three story flat building at 137 South Central Park boulevard was struck by lightning during the storm. Witnesses declared a ball of fire played pranks along the walls of the structure, but when fire engine Company No. 95 arrived it was found the crash had only displaced a few bricks on the cornice.

The safety of hundreds of pedestrians in front of 24 North Clinton street was endangered when a sign board, blown from its moorings, dropped from the roof and hung suspended over the sidewalk.

Car service was delayed in Oak Park when the trolley wire snapped during the electrical display. Telephone and fire alarm service at the Fillmore and North Robey street police stations were interrupted because of the surcharge of electrical current.

T. N. PAGE BACK WITH HOPE FOR TRANQUIL ITALY

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Thomas Nelson Page, ambassador to Italy, returned today, and denied he had resigned. Mr. Page declared that there was small danger of bolshevism gaining a foothold in Italy unless the food shortage becomes so great that the people are driven to absolute despair. If such a situation should arise, he said, it would be impossible to predict what would happen in any country.

When Mr. Page was asked about the reports concerning his resignation, he said:

"While the war was being fought it was necessary for us all to do our bit as it was given us to do, and I felt it my duty to remain in Italy to do my bit. But with the signing of the peace treaty I felt that I had done my war duty and could come home. The United States looks very good to me after an absence of three years and I am not anxious to leave it. But you may say I haven't resigned yet."

U. S. OPENS TRADE WITH GERMANY

Washington, D. C., July 14.—General licenses, covering import and export trading with Germany, were issued late today by the war trade division of the state department, with the approval of Acting Secretary Polk. Except in certain limited cases, provided under the treaty of peace, trading between the United States and Germany may be commenced at once.

Restrictions left in force affect trading between the United States and Hungary, and with those sections of Russia controlled by the bolsheviki. The importation of dyes, dyestuffs, potash, drugs, and chemicals which have been manufactured in Germany, even if they have been transported elsewhere before being shipped to the United States, is still forbidden, except when individual import licenses are secured to cover the movement.

The importation of wheat and wheat flour also is banned to protect the government price guarantee on wheat grown in the United States, and the general license does not cover importation of sugar or of tin in pig or alloy.

AUTHOR'S WARDROBE STOLEN.

H. K. Webster, writer of short stories and novels for the magazines, returned to his home in 2114 Maple avenue, Evanston, from the week-end to find his wardrobe, consisting of five suits of clothes, valued at $375, stolen.

DANIELS RUSHES GIGANTIC ARMADA TO PACIFIC COAST

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The newly organized Pacific fleet will sail from Hampton Roads July 19, instead of July 22, as previously arranged, it was decided late today at a conference between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the fleet. The date of the fleet's arrival at San Diego, Cal., was fixed at Aug. 7 or 8.

Passage through the Panama canal will furnish the first great test of that waterway as a strategic asset in the operation of the nation's naval forces. It was announced every effort would be made to put the fleet through the locks on a war basis.

About 100 ships will make the cruise. The slower vessels, including colliers, supply and repair ships, submarines and hospital ships, have been ordered to proceed to the west coast independently. Some of them already are en route.

George Gould to Appeal Removal as a Trustee

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The order removing George J. Gould as trustee under the will of his father, Jay Gould, was signed today by Supreme Court Justice Whitaker. In behalf of George Gould an appeal from the order will be filed in a few days, but the appeal will not act as a stay of the injunction restraining him from taking any part in the affairs of the $75,000,000 Jay Gould estate.

IF MEXICO LOOKS UP IT MIGHT SEE DAMOCLES SWORD

Army and Officers Ready for Invasion at the Drop of a Hat.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.

[Copyright: 1919.]

COBLENZ, July 14.—For the last six months higher officers of the American army have been drawing up plans for a Mexican campaign by United States troops.

This is not so startling as it may seem.

What has been done is that a board of officers, after studying our military effort in Europe, have been mapping out theoretical operations for the purpose of applying the lessons learned over here.

In so doing our military machine has begun to do what the armies of European nations have long done—that is, draft plans of campaigns against neighbor nations, both for the purpose of practice and also on the long chance that some day they may prove useful.

Crack Army on Its Toes.

The American army never before had any such equipment or benefit of experience as it has today. The army has learned war with the most modern weapons and knows how to use them.

Our previous unpleasantness with Mexico having involved the use of military weapons now obsolete, it was decided to revamp plans and put the 1919 stamp upon them.

As soon as the American army of occupation became comfortably established on the Rhine boards of officers who had had much combat experience were appointed, one to deal with infantry problems, one for artillery problems, one for cavalry problems, one for supply problems, and one for staff problems.

Reports Go to Chiefs.

They worked through January, February, and March, and in April all their efforts were submitted to a central commission on the lessons of the war, at the head of which had been placed Maj. Gen. J. T. Dickman, in command of the 3d army.

This commission is now drafting its final reports, which will outline methods that the American military machine could use against Mexico or another nation which in a possible unhappy course might decide to give the United States trouble or which the United States might regard as a necessary subject for coercion.

Chanute Patrol to Border Fret Over Discharge in Fall

Rantoul, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—The 166th aerial bombardment squadron, at Chanute field for the last two weeks, received orders today to entrain for Houston, Tex. Lieut. Gordon St. Clair will be in command, and the squadron will be assigned to patrol duty along the border.

There was consternation among the officers when the war department sent notice that all reserve officers of the air service must be discharged by Sept. 30. This will affect all officers except the commandant, Col. Ira Longanecker.

BURGLARS ROB POLICEMAN.

While police Sergeant Thomas McMahon and his family were attending a funeral last Friday, burglars entered his home at 1439 Argyle street and removed jewelry valued at $200.

WHY TRY MINOR? READ: WHY FREE HIM? ANSWER--?

Higher Ups Alone Can Tell Why Army Is Holding Empty Bag.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1919.]

COBLENZ, July 14.—Here are some of the chief points in the formal charges against Robert Minor, suppressed when the higher ups took the case away from the military authorities, who were about to try Minor, released him and took him to Paris, where he has a passport and is about to sail for the United States.

Minor was charged with writing a Spartacide pamphlet for distribution in the British and American armies. This was printed at Dusseldorf and turned over to a Spartacide for distribution. This man belonged to the American military secret service.

Net Tight About Minor.

The pamphlet was signed "The Communist Party of Germany," and although no army officer saw Minor write it, there are witnesses ready to testify that Minor offered to write just such a paper; that he took the manuscript from which it was made to the Dusseldorf printer and asked for estimates; that he submitted to a Spartacide in Dusseldorf a manuscript indentical, word for word, with the pamphlet, and that he had remarked in Berlin that the time was ripe to spread the doctrines of Lenine and Trotsky among the American troops in Germany.

There were other witnesses to testify to other things about Minor's record in Russia and Germany, but somehow or other—it has not yet been fully explained—the case against Minor was dropped after it had been prepared and was ready for trial.

Why They Arrested Him.

Specification No. 1 of the charges says that Minor did "engage with other persons in a campaign of propaganda directed to and against the soldiers of the armies aforesaid, and did for the purpose aforesaid compose, write, prepare, cause, and assist in causing to be printed, and did for like purpose secretly and clandestinely, distribute and attempt to distribute, and cause and attempt to assist in causing secretly and clandestinely to be distributed to members of the armies of the United States and of its allies, varied and sundry documents, pamphlets and notices, the object and purpose and effect of which were to create unrest, dissatisfaction, defection, revolt, and mutiny and to weaken the moral and fighting efficiency and force of said allies in a manner and form contrary to the rules, methods, laws, and customs of war."

Sounds Like a German Wrote It.

Specification two consists of the pamphlet itself, which is headed, "Why American Soldiers Are in Europe," and begins with these words: "American soldiers, do you know why you are here?

"Thousands of miles across the sea are your homes, your friends, your jobs, and your future life. Your family is waiting for your return, your mother or your wife or maybe your sweetheart is anxiously waiting to become your wife.

"Why can't you go now?

"Why did you come here in the first place?

Plaintive Plea for Pity.

* * * * * You are not here to help us complete our revolution, but to prevent it. Your government and all the allied governments are supporting the same scoundrels who helped the kaiser through the war—the Ebert-Scheidemann government.

"The real German revolutionists, the working classes, are fighting against the Ebert-Scheidemann government, because the Ebert-Scheidemann govern helped the kaiser and will always fight against right.

"Your officers won't let you talk to the people around you for fear that you may learn the facts about the revolution.

"They make you drill five or six hours a day for fear that if you have time to think you may figure out for yourselves why you are here.

Picking on the Workers.

"You are being kept in Europe to prevent the rule of the working people. Some of the American boys have been demobilized and have gone back home to ask for their jobs again.

"The bosses are welcoming them as men and heroes and then giving them back their old jobs, but paying the starvation wages, around $1.50 a day.

"You came to Europe for democracy, but you are being kept here for the big bankers of Wall street and of Paris and London and Berlin.

"THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF GERMANY."

CHIEFS TO PAY WAR FIDDLER

Vienna Newspapers Learn That the Allies Will Extradite These Former Foreign Ministers to See if They Prolonged World Conflict by Their Policies.

ALLIES WILL TRY AUSTRIAN CHIEFS, RUMOR IN VIENNA

Czernin and Von Berchtold Will Be Extradited, Newspapers Say.

VIENNA, July 14.—The allied and associated powers, according to the newspapers, will demand the extradition of Count Leopold von Berchtold and Count Czernin, both former Austro-Hungarian foreign ministers, to ascertain to what extent the prolongation of the war was due to their policies.

Count von Berchtold was foreign minister when Austria-Hungary declared war on Serbia in 1914. He resigned in 1915 and was succeeded by Baron Burian. Count Czernin replaced Burian in December, 1916.

Count von Berchtold was among the group which the Vienna government, according to advices from that capital, expressed its intention of prosecuting as being responsible for the war. Count Czernin was arrested in April, 1919, while attempting to cross the Swiss frontier, but was released on parole.

SEES HOPE FOR KAISER.

BERLIN, July 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Tageblatt says it learns that the allies and associated powers will not ask Holland to give up former Emperor William for trial, but they will request Germany to demand from Holland that he be delivered up.

The same procedure, the newspaper adds, will be taken with regard to German statesmen who fled to neutral countries. It says 167 persons will be asked for, including leading generals, admirals, the commander of the raider Moewe, which sank numerous vessels on the high seas; the commander of the submarine U-53, which visited Newport in October, 1916, and on leaving sank a number of vessels off the American coast, and Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, former imperial chancellor; Dr. Alfred Zimmerman, former foreign minister, and Dr. Carl Helfferich, former secretary of the interior and vice chancellor.

Java Now St. Helena?

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1919.]

THE HAGUE, July 14.—The Wortmunder General Anzeiger of Berlin says there is no question of William's being willing to choose a place of residence outside of Europe. It remarks that England will finally consent to his exile without trial, and that Java is now mentioned as St. Helena.

WHISKY IN HOME; FINED.

Charles O'Conner, 1804 Wabash avenue, was fined $25 and costs by Judge John R. Newcomer yesterday for violation of the search and seizure law. O'Connor was arrested Sunday at his home. He said he had been on a fishing trip with some friends. Six quarts of whisky were found in his home.

SAYS MEN IN U.S. KHAKI PILLAGE UKRAINE TOWNS

VIENNA, Saturday, July 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Ukrainians never will give in to the Poles, who are advancing into their country, while men in American uniform aid in the devastation, according to a message received from M. Temniky, premier of the Ukrainian government of Gen. Ptiura. He added that the fate of the Ukraine was worse than that of Belgium and his nation would not join a Russian federation.

"Overrun by Russians, Germans, Poles, and bolsheviki, the fate of the Ukraine is worse than that of Belgium," the premier's message said. "We also are fighting an epidemic, but we will have liberty if it takes twenty years.

"In the army of Gen. Haller are many men in khaki uniforms, calling themselves Americans, who are assisting the Poles in burning our villages and killing our civilians in such places as Tcherticke, east of Lemberg. The Poles also are closing the Ukrainian schools and churches and burning books printed in our language."

3,000 Jews Arrested in Budapest; Pogroms Near

VIENNA, July 11.—Delayed.—[By the Associated Press.]—Three thousand Galician Jews have been arrested in the streets of Budapest, according to advices today.

Bela Kun, head of the Hungarian soviet government, replying to a Polish protest, declared:

"Pogroms are bound to come here, but we do not want Hungarian Jews to suffer for the acts of the Galician Jewish spectators who infest this country. Also, we refuse to return money found on their persons."

DE VALERA ENDS CHICAGO VISIT WITH FLOURISH

Calls City His Greatest Inspiration Since Reaching United States.

Eamonn De Valera, "president of Ireland," found Chicago his greatest inspiration since reaching America, he told a group of Irish advocates before he departed for San Francisco at 7 o'clock last night.

Mr. De Valera concluded his stay with a flourish. After a conference with a number of Lutheran clergymen early in the day, the Irish president addressed the city council.

He took occasion to relate Irish history, plead the Sinn Fein cause, and explain why Ireland chose to remain out of the cause of the allies.

"The Irishmen in the English army were deceived, for the devil is no less the devil if he puts a holy motto on his banner," he said to the council.

Feared for Their Cause.

"Ireland remained out of the war because we knew we were not strong enough to see to it that we would be fairly treated at the end of the war. If we had gone in England would have made it appear we were in as England's partners and therefore content with English occupation."

"An Ulster man is as much an Irishman as a Munster man," said the president, in the midst of a detailed explanation of Irish policies and history.

"In this morning's TRIBUNE was a map purporting to show Ulster as entirely Unionist. It did not mention the fact fourteen of the seats are Sinn Fein and twenty-three Unionist."

He then made it plain the Irish republic would not consent to loss of the Unionist counties or accord them double representation.

"We stand ready to give every man in Ireland equal rights," he declared, and added that the statement Ulster industries would suffer under the republic was absurd.

An Answer to Carson?

While many of the council members were attempting feebly to show some knowledge of the recital of Irish history, it was regarded by the majority as a retort to Sir Edward Carson's declaration in It Carson warned America to keep "hands off Ireland."

Throughout the speech De Valera refrained from mentioning President Wilson's name in any other manner than as "your president."

After acknowledging Mayor Thompson's introduction to the council as "President De Valera of the Irish republic," Mr. De Valera began:

"The English ministers forced the revolution of '98 and carried the act of the union. Gladstone admitted 'the union was carried against the sense of every class of the community by wholesale bribery and unblushing intimidation'; by means which he said were 'unspeakably criminal,' and that the 'union with Ireland has no moral force, rests on no moral basis.'

"During the last century and a half Ireland has been ruled simply by the naked sword."

Refers to Wales' Story.

"The autocrats of the peace conference thus far have refused to examine England's title, but the peoples of the world will not refuse to examine it," he exclaimed a moment later. This was his only comment on Henry Wales' dispatch to THE TRIBUNE yesterday to the effect the peace conference had rejected Ireland's claim.

Ald. Coughlin's motion wishing Mr. De Valera "godspeed in his mission" provoked prolonged applause and unanimous adoption.

De Valera then hurried to the home of Col. Rickard O'Sullivan Burke, 833 Fletcher street, where he spent some time visiting Col. Burke, who is a veteran of the Fenian movement in Ireland and suffered imprisonment by British authorities.

Before departure the Irish president dined with members of the Chicago Committee of 100 for Irish Freedom at the Congress hotel, and took time to deny he had conferred or attempted to confer with Chicago financiers in regard to a proposed bond issue of the Irish republic of $5,000,000. A statement preparatory to seeking the loan is being prepared, and the banking interests will be approached soon, members of the De Valera party explained.

Pastors Pay Respects.

The Lutheran ministers who called on De Valera early in the day declared they called merely to pay their respects to the Irish leader. Those composing the delegation were the Revs. William Brietenbach of St. Paul's, Alfred Myers of St. John's, Hans Jacoby of Elgin, Albert Kaitschuk of Benthany, and Alfred Nenzel of Zion church.

LONDON'S PRESS ASSAILS CARSON STAND ON IRISH

Some Papers Compare His Revolt Threat to "Reds."

BY ARTHUR MANN.
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

LONDON, July 14.—Sir Edward Carson's simultaneous declaration against the British government, the Sinn Fein, and the United States over the question of changing the present form of government in Ireland has met with general condemnation from the London press.

Lord Northcliffe's organization, represented by the Times, the Mail, and the Evening News, and Liberal papers, such as the Daily News, the Star, and the Westminster Gazette, and the conservative Evening Standard attack Carson's stand.

Carson's attitude of defiance and his threat of rebellion are compared by these papers. There also is much criticism of "direct action" tactics of radical Laborites.

Links Carson and "Reds."

One editorial is headed "Carson and Smillie." The latter is the radical president of the miners' union. Another editorial is entitled "Carson's Bolshevism," while a third is called "President De Valera, or President Carson?"

The arch-conservative Evening Globe is the only paper commenting today which supports Carson.

The Times with a column and a quarter of criticism says, referring to Carson's remarks on America, "We find little trace of any sense of international responsibility in his speech of Saturday. When Sir Edward Carson tells America to mind her own business he courts retorts that wishes of fifteen million Irish Americans in the United States are part of her business, that their doings form part of her own questions at home, and that had it not been for British mismanagement of Ireland in the past there might today be fewer Irish American citizens animated by ill will towards this country.

Assails Threat of Revolt.

"As for Sir Edward Carson's threats of armed rebellion, we regard them as having perilous likeness to threats of direct action by British imitations of Russian bolshevists."

The Mail takes much the same line and asks: "Is there to be one law for Mr. Smillie and another for Sir Edward Carson? In March Mr. Bonar Law solemnly declared that against direct action by miners and transport men the government would use all the resources of the state, without the smallest hesitation.

"Saturday at Belfast, Sir Edward Carson threatened to call Ulster to arms again if the government should attempt any settlement in Ireland which had not been previously stamped with his approval.

"What is the government's answer this time?"

WARRANT OUT FOR CHICAGO MAN ON MEANS' CHARGES

Concord, N. C., July 14.—Charging conspiracy in the prosecution of Gaston B. Means for the alleged murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, and subornation of perjury in connection with the trial of Means in 1917, warrants were issued here today for John T. Dooling, assistant district attorney of New York, and William B. Miller, attorney for the Northern Trust company of Chicago.

Dooling assisted Solicitor Hayden Clement in the prosecution of Means in December, 1917, and representatives of the Northern Trust company were witnesses for the state. Means was acquitted at the conclusion of a sensational trial lasting three weeks.

The evidence upon which the warrants were issued will be presented to and witnesses heard by the grand jury of Cabarrus county Superior court here on Aug. 11, it was announced today, and if a true bill is found the governors of New York and Illinois will be asked to extradite the defendants.

WOMEN, CHILDREN RESCUED AS 350 CANARIES BURN

Fire destroyed an aviary of 350 canary birds, valued at $2,500, yesterday and made necessary several thrilling rescues of women and children when a row of frame tenement houses from 1760 to 1768 Clybourn avenue was burned. For a time the entire neighborhood was threatened.

The aviary was owned by Philip Scherr, who lives on the third floor at 1760 Clybourn avenue. Scherr's father-in-law, Frank Moshinger, rooms in the flat, attempted to jump to the street when the flames [illegible] through the floor. Policeman Bartusek was slightly burned while carrying him to safety.

Others rescued by firemen were Mrs. Minnie Paulina, a cripple, alone in her home; Mrs. Frank Urbansky and four children, Mrs. Helen Stewart and two children, and Mrs. Scherr and her husband.

ITALIANS GLOAT OVER MOBBING FIUME FRENCH

But Caribinieri Keep the British Out of Sacked Club.

Mr. Ryan has been ordered out of Fiume by Gen. Grazioli, the Italian commander, because of his cables to "The Tribune" regarding Italian activities in the disputed port. Notwithstanding, "The Tribune" received another of his cables yesterday after a long delay. This cable describes how, after the first serious riot in Fiume, the Italians boldly continued their propaganda against the French.

BY THOMAS STEWART RYAN.
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

FIUME, July 4, via Courier to Paris, July 14.—A quiet day and night followed the disorders of July 2.

The Italian military band was playing yesterday in the Piazza Dante, where the unarmed soldiers of France fled for their lives the evening before. The cafés were more crowded than usual, but during the afternoon and evening the city was like a tomb. Only a small crowd gathered when five British military police tried to enter the wrecked Croatian club to examine the damage and were refused admittance by the Italian carabinieri.

The Proud Press.

This morning a paper, pro-Italian, speaks with pride of the affair. It says:

"The citizens showed last night they are not only able to comment, but also, without dallying, to take the most energetic action.

"'And now that the populace has found means to manifest its contempt for the base act of two soldiers every one should impose on himself calm,' said last evening one of the soldiers of Italy, who suffered with us."

With evident reference to the historic Sicilian vespers when the Frenchmen were massacred by the Italians, the paper calls July 2 "Fiume vespers." Then in a long account it accuses two French soldiers of starting the riot, snatching the girls' cockade, picturing all Fiume rising in resentment against Italian officers who act as rescuers of the French.

Says Officers Were Beaten.

"And there were not a few cases of French officers beaten for a mocking attitude toward the crowd," continues the article, which passed the Italian censor.

Then follows a rather amusing account of how the Italian officers, despite their utmost efforts, were unable to check the crowd, "which desired satisfaction."

Whatever orders the troops may have had, their sympathies manifestly were with the assailants.

In many cases the carabinieri would take charge of a Frenchman only after he had been beaten, even permitting the blows to fall after they had led him to shelter.

In Two Stages.

The outbreak fell in two stages, between which there was a lull while the rioters sought other victims. The first period was devoted to the French soldiers. But these disappeared from the streets, Gen. Grazioli setting a guard over the French quarters in response to a request by Gen. Savy, the French commander. Then came the attack on the Croatian club, the sack of its rooms, and hunting of Croats on the streets. During this period four French officers stood in the midst of the mob, smiling calmly at jibes and threats until carabinieri led them away.

French officers think the attack an outburst of long cherished bad will against them. One officer particularly well informed doesn't charge that it was an organized plot at a time and place appointed, but that the Giovanni Fiumani (young Italian thugs of Fiume) have had the intention to seize the first good opportunity.

MOTHER OF NEW INSISTS MYSTERY RIVAL SLEW GIRL

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—Women, young and old, elbowed each other in a struggle to see Harry S. New Jr., confessed slayer of his sweetheart Frieda Lesser, today when he appeared in Superior Judge Gavin W. Craig's court for arraignment on the grand jury indictment charging him with first degree murder.

The feature of the day was the official announcement that Attorney LeCompte Davis, a well known criminal lawyer, had been retained as associate of Attorney John L. Richardson in the defense. Richardson denied United States Senator Harry S. New, who, it is claimed, is the father of the slayer, had employed Davis.

While New was passing through his first court appearance, his mother, Mrs. Lilly Burger, was evolving a new and sensational theory.

Mr. Burger, it was learned at the office of Attorney Richardson, firmly believes that some man, probably a rival for Miss Lesser's affections, suddenly came upon the two in the depths of Topango canyon. She believes this rival struck New a blow over the head and, while New lay senseless, killed Miss Lesser in a fit of jealous rage.

Judge Craig set Friday at 10 a. m. as the time for plea.

Lusitania Suits Against Cunard All Dismissed

New York, July 14.—A final decree dismissing all damage suits against the Cunard Steamship company as the result of the torpedoing of the Lusitania, and barring any similar suits which might be brought in future, was signed today in the United States District court by Judge Julius M. Mayer. A total of sixty-four claims, totaling between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, had been entered.

Superfluous Hair Now Removed Roots and All!
(New and Instantaneous Home Method)

A boon to women troubled with superfluous hair is the new Phelactine process. It is totally unlike the depilatory, electrical and other methods heretofore employed for the removal of hair-growths. It is the only thing that enables one to remove the hair completely—roots and all—in one's own home, without the assistance of an expert. The result cannot be doubted, for the user sees the hair-roots with her own eyes.

A stick of Phelactine, with easy directions, can be had at any drug store. It is entirely harmless (a child could safely eat it), odorless and non-irritating. It is an instantaneous method, and so thorough that the skin is left perfectly smooth and hairless, bearing not the least evidence of its former disfigurement.

NAMES KINDRED OF MRS. WILSON IN BANK CASE

Witness Says Her Brothers Had Interest in U. S. Finances.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—More alleged financial intricacies, said to involve three brothers of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, were related today by John Poole, president of the Federal National Bank of Washington, testifying before the senate banking and currency committee, in the investigation of John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency.

The three brothers are Rolfe Bolling, now president of the Commercial National bank of Washington; R. W. Bolling, assistant treasurer of the Emergency Fleet corporation, and John Randolph Bolling, manager of the publicity department of the Commercial National bank.

Asked to Make Deposit.

Mr. Poole testified that in November, 1917, William P. Ramsey, an official of the Commercial National bank, called upon him to urge the Federal National bank to make a deposit of $100,000 in the Chatham Phoenix National bank of New York. He stated that Mr. Ramsey assured him if the Federal National bank would make such a deposit it would receive a deposit of not less than $500,000 from the Emergency Fleet corporation. Rolfe Bolling was at that time vice president of the Chatham Phoenix bank.

Rolfe Bolling went to see Mr. Poole personally to broach the subject of the Federal National bank opening an account with the Chatham Phoenix bank, but Mr. Poole assured him they were entirely satisfied with the connections they then had with New York banks, according to the testimony.

Deposits Over Two Million.

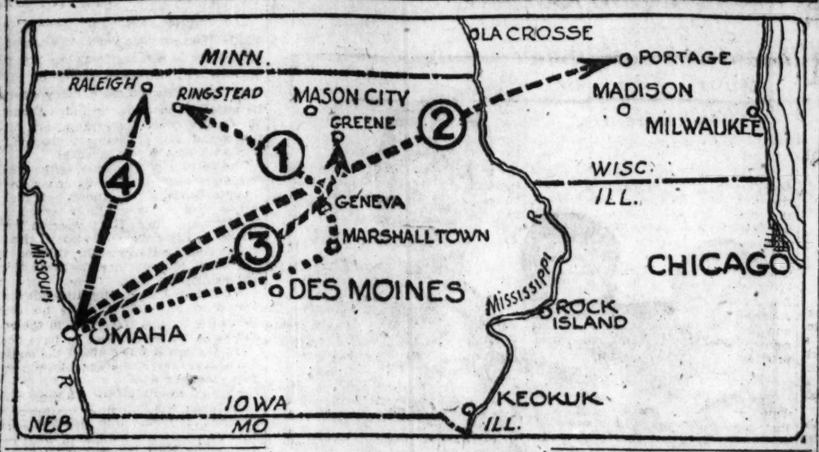

R. W. Bolling came to the Federal bank on Jan. 5, 1918, Mr. Poole testified and made a deposit of $2,641,566.93 of the Emergency Fleet corporation founds. Mr. Bolling asked him to keep the matter confidential, he said.

Mr. Poole testified that Mr. Bolling described Mr. Ramsey as "a good fellow" who acted only out of the kindness of his heart when he put forward the proposition of the Chatham Phoenix bank.

"Mr. Bolling said," Mr. Poole testified, "Mr. Ramsey frequently missed things. He asked me not at this time to open an account with the Phoenix bank, saying it would not look right." Mr. Poole added that ultimately his bank had more than $3,000,000 of the Emergency Fleet corporation's funds until March of 1918, when they were withdrawn.

Mr. Williams followed Mr. Poole. He devoted his time to the opposition by Wade Cooper, president of the United States Savings bank of this city. He read into the record a statement he had prepared and distributed wherever he believed Cooper had circulated "false reports" against the office of the comptroller of the currency, in the effort to prevent the senate from confirming his appointment as comptroller.

U. S. ARMY BALLOONS BUFFETED BY STORMS

SHOWS RECEIPT IN KUNZ TRIAL ON 'CON' CHARGE

Mrs. Mary Prokuszkowski, 1246 Fry street, who has charged that Ald. Stanley H. Kunz of the Sixteenth ward obtained $63 from her by confidence methods, took the stand yesterday before Judge Kersten and showed a receipt alleged to have been signed by the alderman.

The witness stated that the defendant promised he could "fix" a land suit which had been filed against her by Francsek Jaskiewicz. She testified that she had given the alderman $12.50 when he told her he would see the judge and the attorney.

"Did you go to see the alderman again?"

"Yes, and I gave him $50 in the presence of my son."

"Did you get a receipt?"

She then showed Assistant State's Attorney John K. Murphy and John Owen the receipt alleged to have been given her by Kunz. It was written on the stationery of the city council.

"Did you ask him for the money back?"

"I asked him to return some because I was poor, but he said he would not return me any."

The alderman denies the charge and intimates that politics is behind the prosecution.

4 U. S. BALLOONS, OUT FOR RECORD, BEATEN BY GALES

Omaha, Neb., July 14.—Fighting all night with savage thunderstorms over Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, all four of the army balloons which left Fort Omaha Sunday evening in an attempt to set a new record for both height and distance were forced to land Monday morning, their instruments put out of commission by electrical disturbances and their ballast exhausted. No new records were established, and the aeronauts were fortunate in landing safely. Their landing places and distance covered in a direct line from Omaha are as follows:

Balloon No. 2, "All America," Lieut. R. I. Thompson and Lieut. J. B. Jordan, Portage, Wis., 400 miles.

Balloon No. 3, "Victory," Lieut. W. E. Huffman and Lieut. W. C. Connolly, Greene, Ia., 250 miles.

U.S. Agents Look Into Crash of Steamer and Launch

John F. Hansen, inspector of steamship hulls, and William Nicholson, inspector of boilers, yesterday began an investigation into the collision Sunday night of the City of Benton Harbor and the launch Howard F., in which six persons were injured. Capt. Edward Williams and Capt. Thomas Minter of the steamer and excursion launch respectively were questioned and, with their pilots, will be called upon to testify Wednesday morning at the federal building.

Sell, Reorder, Sell

"Speaking of inventions—the man who invented interest was no slouch."

Most small retailers do not fully realize the cost to them of slow-selling goods.

"Turnover" and "overhead" are vague terms to the very man whose shelves are filled with lodgers.

This is not true of the big stores. Quick turnover is probably seen in its perfection in Boston, where building restrictions have forced on the stores the intense cultivation of floor space.

Goods in active demand "turn" fast.

Goods advertised into popular demand make possible a rapid Sell, Reorder, and Sell with the minimum interest cost for "carrying charges."

Were you ever disappointed with your Home-made Preserves?

Even the best recipe can't make allowances for the way sugar will harden into candy—or for the failure of a jelly to "jell".

Thousands of women are finding the ideal preserving syrup is a blend of ½ Karo (Red Label) with ½ sugar—instead of all sugar. Preserving done this way is always uniform—jelly that really "jells"—jam that is neither too syrupy nor too thick.

It gives you preserves with the natural fresh fruit flavor.

This fine, clear Karo Syrup has a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit. It blends the fruit with the sugar—makes your syrup rich and heavy, and holds jams and jellies firm and mellow, with not the slightest tendency to "candy" in the glass.

COUNCIL MOVES TO GET CHEAPER FOODS FROM U. S.

County Board Also Acts Toward Purchase of War Supplies.

Chicago may yet share in the low food prices resulting from the sale of surplus foods which the end of the war rendered useless to the federal government. Both the city and the county yesterday took steps to get in on the cheap foodstuffs.

The city council passed an order, introduced by Ald. Anton J. Cermak, directing the city purchasing agent to ascertain the prices on the accumulated foods with a view to supplying them to municipal charitable and penal institutions. This order also directed the newly created city food bureau to attempt to find a way to make the cheap foods available to individuals. The government's rule against selling in small lots has prevented private citizens from benefiating.

County Board Acts.

The county board adopted without a dissenting vote President Reinberg's resolution authorizing Superintendent of Public Service Henry A. Zender to investigate and purchase large quantities of the foodstuffs from government warehouses and report on possibilities.

Ald. Cermak presented the following list of foods which, he told the council, is now available from the government at prices ranging from 15 to 30 per cent below market prices:

112,025 pounds of cornmeal.
20,000 pound cans beans.
115,932 pound cans string beans.
5,213,289 pound cans peas.
7,615,232 pound cans corn.
2,329,666 pounds bacon.
6,187 dozen six pound cans corn beef.
478,152 twenty-four ounce cans of corn beef.
205,672 dozen one pound cans of corn beef.

Rush Food Bureau.

Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson expects to have the new food bureau in operation in another two weeks.

Democrats of the Twenty-fifth ward are urging Logan D. Wallace, Jr., 1505 Sherwin avenue, for the position of director of the bureau. Mr. Wallace was a candidate for alderman at the April election, and is a former president of the Chicago Association of Manufacturers' Representatives.

"This is one way that Cook county may avail itself of a great saving," said Mr. Reinberg concerning the proposed purchase. "It is too good a chance to pass."

Law Interferes.

However, there is a law which provides that the county cannot contract for goods calling for an expenditure of more than $500 without taking bids. This obstacle alone stands against the contemplated purchase by the county.

President Reinberg announced that the law might be legally evaded.

"It may be that each institution will have to put in separate bids for goods to an amount less than $500," said Mr. Reinberg.

City Workers Should Be Residents, Aldermen Say

City employés who prefer the tranquility of Oak Park, Riverside or Evanston to the noise and bustle of the city, will either be out of their jobs or will be searching for flats in the city of Chicago, if the council acts favorably on an amendment to the city code which was approved by the judiciary committee yesterday. The amendment provides that all civil service employés of the city must be residents of the city.

CARRANZA TROOP PUTS TOWN NEAR BORDER IN JAIL

Entire Population Is Held Captive; All's Well, Bonillas States.

Marfa, Tex., July 14.—The population of the little town of San Antonio, Mexico, has been held prisoner by a band of armed Mexicans since 6 o'clock last night, according to reliable advices received here today. Advices to military headquarters here were that the men were Carranza soldiers.

San Antonio is about six miles southeast of Presidio, Tex., and fifteen miles south of the border. According to the story brought here, the armed men, which numbered more than seventy, surrounded the town suddenly late yesterday.

They confiscated all the live stock found in it or near by. This afternoon all the male inhabitants of the town were segregated and soon afterward the armed band withdrew, taking these men and the live stock. Their destination was not known.

Mexico Improving, Envoy Says.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Ygnacio Bonillas, the Mexican ambassador, today discussed many of the outstanding questions between his country and the United States.

"I found conditions in Mexico vastly improved in every way," he said. "Stories about banditry published here are not known in Mexico, and we conclude they are inventions of our enemies. I have found statistics about improvements in Mexico are positive.

"They have caught a number of assailants of Americans, and whenever they catch them they are given a passport to where they won't do any more damage. Banditry is an unavoidable thing. You have murders, robberies, attacks on women in your big cities— how much harder must it be to stamp out bandits out in the brush? You cannot stop them here. We are doing absolutely everything we can.

"Two-thirds of our revenues is devoted to pacification, which is delayed because we could not get the guns and ammunition needed.

Mrs. Correll to Testify.

Mrs. John W. Correll, widow of the American murdered by Mexicans at his farm near Tampico early last month, and who was herself subjected to indignities at the hands of Mexican marauders, will arrive this week from Ada, Okla., to lay before the state department facts regarding the death of her husband and to demand reparation. She will be accompanied by her son, Joe, wounded at the time his father was killed.

This murder complaint will make the total number of American charges lodged in the state department well above 500.

AIDS PROGRAM OF M'CORMICK FOR THE BUDGET

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Without a dissenting voice the senate today adopted the resolution offered by Senator McCormick of Illinois providing for the creation of a special senate committee to devise a budget system.

The committee is to consist of ten members, six Republicans and four Democrats. It will be appointed by the Republican and Democratic caucuses. The resolution instructs it to make a report not later than Dec. 1.

The adoption of the resolution constitutes a long stride in the direction of a budget system. The creation of the special committee is given added importance by the fact that the house recently rejected an appropriation of $20,000 approved by the senate to pay the expenses of a joint budget committee.

Capt. Samuel Insull Jr. Made Adjutant of 11th Inf.

Unkind Robbers Drink Up Sergeant's Little Oasis

While Sergeant Thomas E. McMahon of the Summerdale police station was attending the funeral of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Schuler, wife of a detective, 4807 North Hoyne avenue, yesterday, burglars broke into his home, 1437 Argyle street, and took clothing valued at $200. In addition they raided the ice box, ate their fill, and drank a bottle of whisky.

$25,000,000 Needed in 1919 to Assist Crippled Heroes

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Appropriations of at least $25,000,000 will be needed this year for rehabilitating and educating wounded soldiers, sailors, and marines, the house appropriations committee was told today by James P. Munroe, vice chairman of the federal board for vocational education.

COUNCIL BODY TO TAKE UP POLICE REORGANIZATION

Inquire Today Into 'What's Ailing the Department.'

"What's the matter with the police department?" will be discussed by authorities upon the subject today, when the council police committee convenes to consider its proposed reorganization ordinance.

Present to expound their various theories, Chairman Steffen announced last night, will be Chief Garrity, First Deputy John Alcock, and several other subordinates, including, perhaps, Second Deputy Frazier, for whom the council neglected to make an appropriation in the 1919 budget.

Want Views, Then Verification.

The committee's theory is that the department heads should first state their views, after which it purposes to verify them by detailed investigation, possibly of every precinct.

Ald. Steffen said he had been advised yesterday that Corporation Counsel Ettelson refused to draw an ordinance ousting Frazier from his job. The city's legal adviser held that the statutes permitted the second deputy to remain in office until the end of the fiscal year, Dec. 31.

Suits Threatened.

In consequence a suit to collect his salary is threatened by Frazier as well as the manager of department property, morals inspector and inspector of personnel, all of whom hold positions created by ordinance.

Though the police committee might not succeed in divorcing Frazier from the pay roll, Mr. Steffen pointed out, it has reduced nevertheless his vice and gambling supervision to zero. Two weeks ago, at the committee's suggestion, all his police officers were transferred elsewhere, and his investigators, for whose employment the budget alone provided, have perforce been dismissed.

House Starts to Retrieve War Draft Records

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The war department has taken no precautions to preserve military draft records from the states, Chairman Graham today informed the special house investigating committee on wartime expenditures, which decided to begin plans for caring for the records. Gen. March, Maj. Gen. P. C. Harris, and Maj. Gen. E. H. Crowder will be consulted.

Mr. Graham told the committee that the records, affecting 25,000,000 men, were at Washington barracks here stored in cellars and stables, some of them "rotting in water." Others are in cellars and in bad condition.

THIS INQUIRY IS NIPPED BEFORE IT GETS STARTED

Grand jury investigation of Harry R. Gibbons, county treasurer, was demanded of State's Attorney Hoyne yesterday by Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson. However, the inquiry probably will not materialize, as Mr. Gibbons already has assured the prosecutor he will guide his actions on the matter in controversy by the latter's decision.

"Mr. Ettelson sent his assistant, Leon Hornstein, to me today with a complaint that Treasurer Gibbons is illegally withholding some funds from the city," said Mr. Hoyne. "He accused Mr. Gibbons of malfeasance in office. I told him to make his complaint in writing, referring to the sections of the law alleged to have been violated, and assured him if the matter warranted action I would take it direct to the grand jury.

"It so happened Mr. Gibbons came to my office on another matter a bit later, and I told him of the charges. He said he did not know in what connection he had violated the law, and that if, when I get the charges, I would look up the law and tell him the right thing to do he would abide by it.

"Mr. Gibbons' attitude, of course, makes any grand jury action unnecessary."

SUPPOSE The First National Bank said to you: "Buy our stock at par; we'll guarantee you an immediate 40% dividend on your investment."

Would you hesitate long—if you were looking for an investment?

Not the flash of an eyelash.

Well then, here's a proposition from a four-million-dollar wholesale tailoring house—the First National Bank of the tailoring trade.

We say: "Buy a Royal Made-to-Your-Order Suit at $40 (direct from our wholesale plant). You'll find it hard to equal, in fabric, style and fitting qualities at $55 to $60 in the down-town clothing stores."

That's a good 40% on your investment.

And remember, Royal Tailoring means "Made-to-your-special-order" clothes—not ready-mades.

It's none too early to place your Fall clothes order—and clinch that remarkable $40 price of ours. It takes two weeks to make a Royal suit according to our uncompromising quality standards.

Meanwhile, clothes prices are going higher.

Alert clothes-buyers are stocking their wardrobes now.

It's just three blocks walk from the Loop to our wholesale plant; a very short walk for a very long saving.

ARE YOU READY FOR THE TEST?

The Irish helped in the achievement of American independence. We know it, and the Irish orators frequently tell us so. They did it by fighting. They could not do it by recognizing the American republic. If they could have recognized it, the recognition would not have done any good, anyway.

We have paid our debt to Lafayette. Pershing says so. So do all our orators. A Bourbon king who wanted to take something away from Great Britain sent an army and fleet over here to see that the British lost their colonies. They were lost. We have not laid a wreath on the monument of the Bourbon king, but possibly he deserves one.

The Irish and the French helped us achieve independence. They did it by fighting. We say we have paid one debt. We did it by fighting. We are urged to pay the other. If we want to do it, we must do it by fighting and spending.

A great deal of money will be required to fight Great Britain—probably a great deal more than was required to fight Germany. We had help in fighting Germany. We shall be alone in fighting Great Britain, and Great Britain has command of the seas.

De Valera, president of the Irish republic; Mr. Dunne, former governor of Illinois, and other representatives of the Irish cause say there are 100,000 British troops in Ireland. The ejection of these troops will occupy Ireland for a considerable part of the war.

We must consider the certainty of our meeting the British single-handed in the other fields of war. It will require men and money. We must do as we did in the war with Germany. We must raise the men by conscription and the money by bonds and taxation.

Taxation is heavy now, but it must be doubled. What we are raising by taxation now is barely sufficient to meet the requirements of the war just ended. The new war will be even more expensive, and we must prepare to endure a doubling of all tax rates.

The various districts of the country will prepare to go over the top for the various loans. If it required five to whip Germany, it may require seven or eight to whip Great Britain. We regret that so many of our troops are in France and along the Rhine. With Great Britain in control of the sea, we do not believe we can get them home, where they will be needed.

We are thankful that so many of them are at home. Demobilization must be stopped at once, and the men who have been discharged must be called back to the colors. The organizations which have passed out of existence must be reorganized.

By recalling the discharged men and by putting the draft into operation again we may soon rebuild an army. The new draft men will not be ready for many months. They will have to be sent to the training camps, but we may hope that the British army also is in need of reorganization and part of it will be needed to watch Germany.

The British fleet is ready to convoy transports across the Atlantic, but our hope is that their army is not ready. A British army seldom is ready. American and British armies are alike in this respect.

Nevertheless we must not rely too much upon British unreadiness. If we interfere in the affairs of the British empire to establish the Irish republic, the British may become so exasperated as to develop an astonishing amount of efficiency. They might put an expeditionary force into Mexico in short order, to protect their oil supply there and to get a base of operations against us.

Other expeditions later may be landed at advantageous places on our coast. The British may have learned something from Gallipoli. We may have our coasts blockaded. The Japanese probably will think it is a good time to inquire what we are doing in the Philippines, in Hawaii, Samoa, and elsewhere. The imperial Japanese government may inform us that it will be displeased if we are not out of these places within ten days. That must be taken into consideration.

A quick attack on Canada by such forces as we have might get us something—and the Canadians something. We might set them free from British rule. So far as we know, they do not want to be free, but we might set them free, anyway, whether they want to or not. It would be a hard and difficult job, but in the name of freedom the American people are equal to anything.

We set the Jugo-Slavs free. Why not the Canadians? If they do not want to be free, we can send Col. House to them to show them where they are wrong.

It will be a long war and a costly one, costly in men and money. We have both. We need only to conscript both. If we are blockaded we can live on our own resources. We are not Germans. We can starve the world by not selling it anything. We can starve Great Britain by behaving with scrupulous nicety towards her blockade.

We can establish the Irish republic by fighting for it. We cannot establish it by declamation, resolutions, and cable messages to London.

Are you ready for the test?

THE INCURABLE FOLLY.

In spite of all the lessons of the past and of the war just ended, congress and the war department are repeating history and are junking the defense establishment. For example, unless congress acts, the effect of the proclamation announcing the end of the emergency will be an automatic wiping out of the present organization of the army. The national defense act, which, contrary to good sense but consistently with our practice, goes into details of organization, will once more govern our army organization. The lessons of this war would be pitched into the discard. The plans to build the army on contemporary strategical and tactical lines would fall, so that with reduction in size according to the notions of vote-chasing congressmen and a return to inferior organization, we should again demonstrate our contempt of experience and our unlimited capacity for the optimism of the ostrich.

At the same time, a blanket order discharging all temporary officers has been issued and thus, as the Army and Navy Journal points out, more than 24,000 officers who have applied for commissions, and 15,000 who are still in the service, will be turned out.

If the reader will consider what it cost in time, money and effort to make this body of officers, he will realize the waste in this policy.

False economy, we have proved again and again, is paid for in the blood of our young men. It was so paid in this war. It was so paid in all our wars. If the American people can look over the world today and say we are at the end of wars, they are blind indeed, and if wars are still to be, they will come to us. If that be possible, it is a crime against ourselves and our future to do as our government is doing now.

MEXICO IS OUR BABY.

It is a pretty sane and safe guess that the first draft which the league of nations will draw against any account will be drawn against the American and that it will arise out of Mexican conditions. We know it and our government does not want to know the draft.

Diplomats may try to hand us mandates in Armenia and Turkey and other places in which we have no business, but nature handed us a mandate in Mexico and necessity will see that we exercise it.

We may ignore the claims of Americans who have rights to property and life in Mexico, but we shall not be able to ignore the claims of French and British who have rights to property and life there.

The French and British have had enough property destroyed without submitting to further destruction. They need their capital and they need the returns from it. The French, British, and Americans are the league of nations as at present constituted and America is responsible for Mexico.

We shall not escape our dilemma by trying to talk it to death. It will survive everything but action on our part. We are sending a battleship to take part in the pacification of Fiume. The farther the field lies from home the more realistic our procedure becomes.

When the need is at home, when it is where we could do something and do good to all concerned by doing something, we content ourselves with pastoral visits and affect not to see the faces made at us after we have distributed our tracts.

"ALL OR NOTHING."

We hope that every one concerned with the lake front improvement will give serious attention to Mr. John F. Wallace's protest against "overloading" the proposed ordinance. Mr. Wallace is an experienced engineer of wide reputation; he has no interest to serve in the pending legislation except the city's interest, and he believes the lake front ordinance satisfies every reasonable demand.

But there are certain aldermen and others who want more than a reasonable settlement. Their philosophy appears to be all or nothing, and we may remark that if they have their way we shall get nothing. It is not enough for them that the Illinois Central is preparing to spend $88,000,000 and agrees to electrify the entire terminal, with the exception of through passenger service, within fifteen years. No; we must have electrification within twelve years or preferably ten, and more than that, we must have a number of other concessions. In view of Mr. Wallace's opinion that the railroad will reject the ordinance if it is overloaded in this fashion, it is perhaps worthy of remark that the chief aldermanic advocate of the twelve year period for electrification is not a resident of the south side at all, but lives in the Twenty-third ward. The south side will surely feel a debt of gratitude to these representatives of other sections of the city if they succeed in killing the ordinance.

The amendment to provide for an aviation field on the lake front perhaps has more justification than the others, but it should not be adopted unless the proposal is not only practical but consistent with the plan of making the south shore primarily a series of parks and parkways. To develop a great aviation terminal on the lake front might prove nearly as objectionable as the Illinois Central has been in the past. The same considerations should apply to other schemes for buildings and institutions along the lake front. There are plenty of other places available for buildings, but there is no other place quite so desirable for a park.

[From the Jackson, Miss., Ledger.]

The statement is given out that a newspaper correspondent named Frazier Hunt of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE managed in some mysterious way to get possession of the peace treaties at Paris and brought his copy to America, where it fell in the hands of Republican senators—placed there, doubtless, by this degenerate press reporter.

The announcement is given out that Hunt is now syndicating the peace treaty with the view and hope of selling it to newspapers, to be printed in weekly installments, his object being to make money from his disreputable act.

This man Hunt is from the Chicago paper, THE TRIBUNE, that is now being sued by Henry Ford for a million dollars for defamation of character for calling him an anarchist. But that was not half so bad as the act of its correspondent, who either bought, begged, or stole the copy of the peace treaty that he brought to Washington, the object being to make sordid dollars by the transaction and discredit President Wilson, for be it understood that THE TRIBUNE is the leading Republican paper of the United States.

Pity that there is no law by which such men as Hunt could be reached and prosecuted for his dastardly act.

SHALL WE GO ON?

Shall we go on as before,
We in our land of the living—
We of the easy forgiving—
Leave ere we settle the score?

Ease, and luxuriant sinning,
We who were only beginning
To purge out our souls with clean wrath?

Are we forgetting our dead,
We of the nation that bore them,
Ere ever the grasses spread o'er them,
Over the young feet and head?
Spirit of Justice, lift up
The bandage that causes your blindness!
Help us blend sternness with kindness
Till Freedom fill everyman's cup. DOBOE.

A GENTLEMAN who reviews music tells us that he has never been able to get his journal to spell it "baritone." No doubt the stylists of his composing-room prefer to derive from the French baryton rather than the Italian baritono; although Webster admits that it is usually spelled baritone in the United States.

THE DANGEROUS AGE.

Sir: The financial page reports reassuringly that "John R. Thompson was steady at 36." Even so, many men do most of their deviltry after they reach 40. J. F. B.

IN our casual opinion, the great majority of the people of the United States is or are for a, an, or the league of nations. They do not know much about the matter, and, lacking the clairvoyance of a Borah or a Reed, they do not know whether it will work, or whether it is for or against the interest of the United States. But they think it would be of present value, and they do not conceive of any time in the future when it would be of more value than in July, 1919. No, the people are simple and they do not look ahead. That is why the Republican Senate gives them now a sharp and shooting pain, and now a feeling of extreme lassitude. Showing once more that the chief characteristic of republics is ingratitude.

SUPPOSE HE HAD HAD A BLOWOUT?

[From a religious journal.]

We stopped for dinner the third day at the foot of a mountain, and when part way up on the steepest grade the engine began to miss on the rear cylinder, and for an instant I was almost paralyzed with fear; then those words came to me again: "Lo, I am with you alway," —and the engine stopped missing and I was surprised that it ran so smoothly. Many times going up the mountain I had ample opportunity to test God's word, and every time with unfailing results. Being a mechanic and believing that iron is iron and that it requires fingers to adjust it, I was the more astounded at the results of simply declaring this truth upon occasions when adjustments were needed and it was impossible to make them with my fingers.

THE manager of one of the caravansaries which are now knee-deep in gloom, observes that it takes more than a kickless brew or grapejuice to put pep into a conversation. Now, a thing which would go far toward reconciling us to aridity is the disappearance of those "conversations" which used to bore even the barkeeps to profanity and tears.

"OH, DON'T YOU REMEMBER—"

Sir: A very great and good man once said: "If the ordering of our labors were entirely within our control we should write exclusively for children. They are more intelligent than adults, have a quicker apprehension, and are without prejudices. In addressing children one may write quite frankly and sincerely." The wisdom of the wise and the experience of the ages, says Disraeli, may be preserved by quotation. Frankly and sincerely, then, let me address my little friend, Army Student Nurse. Are you not, my child, the pretty brunette who used to sit on my right in old Peters, and annoy me by chewing chicle? Methinks I recognize a stylistic that used to make sad inroads upon my red ink. I am still old fashioned enough, my dear, to feel confident that a sweet face loses nothing when the maxilla is in repose. And do you remember Palmer Snell and Dan'l Jones, who sat on either side? You were a demure baggage, but these old eyes were not so dim as you—and they—supposed. A bit wistful, too, that drowsy afternoon when you glanced so shyly up at Palmer, the color surging prettily, the while your finger tips rested lightly in Dan'l's fist beneath the open note book. I saw it all and remembered another class-room long ago when— But no matter, now. Although you little guessed, you were my inspiration for that brilliant lecture upon the doctrine of elective affinity in our romantic writers, during which you anxiously scanned the clock an even half-dozen times. And then, after the daisy chain was borne through the campus, and you came to say good-bye, telling me you were going to be a nurse, and adding, "And if we ever meet I'll wrap you up good," my heart rejoiced, Betty, dear, for I knew you were unscathed by all my pastoral care. God's benison upon thy gentle ministry! P. D. S.

"Si bene commemimi, causae sunt quinque bibendi;
Hospitis adventus, praesens sitis, atque futura,

IMPERFECT HEADS.

ONCE upon a time, so the story goes, a scientist claimed that when the partition which divides the right brain from the left veered to one side or the other, the individual was insane. He presented his theory so persistently that he grew to be a nuisance and was held to be bug on his hobby. He died and at the autopsy they found he proved his theory—his brain partition ran markedly out of line.

A great physiologist of the last century, Dalton, studied the patterns found in a hat store, where hats to order were made. The conclusion to which he came was that every man's head twisted a little to the right or to the left and that either a nonsymmetrical head was not a sign of insanity or else pretty much everybody was insane. As he read this paper before the New York Academy of Medicine the audience noticed that the curves of his head were far from being regular.

Before that time men had been somewhat disposed to think that a nonsymmetrical head indicated lack of mental balance. Since then the theory has not been accepted by many.

When Dr. Herman Adler became connected with the Danvers State hospital in 1909 he said he was struck by the lack of symmetry of the heads of insane patients. When he mentioned the matter to his associates on the staff they ridiculed the "old stuff." Nothing daunted, he conducted an investigation of his own. He started with the hat makers' patterns or "conformations," just as Dalton had done. To make the results more dependable he corrected certain minor defects in the measuring machine. Then he found that every face and head was nonsymmetrical. So far he found with Dalton. But then he found that by counting as symmetrical all those heads with minor irregularities, by fixing certain limits for irregularities, and only counting as irregular those which went beyond the limits, he was able to classify people.

He found that right handed people had a protuberance on the right side in the parietal region (near the temple). Left handed people did not have these protuberances. He soon became able to pick out left handed people in a crowd by the absence of this protuberance.

Having established what might be called his standards of minimum requirements and improved the hat makers' measure somewhat, he went at his job. He examined 1,000 insane, finding that 28 per cent of them had symmetrical heads, but 72 had asymmetrical heads. In a group of sane people only about 7 per cent had asymmetrical heads and 93 per cent had heads which were symmetrical.

Dr. Adler concludes that marked lack of symmetry of the face and head indicates a variation from type either in the direction of defect or in the direction of genius. In his experience paranoiacs are about as twisted in the face and head as they are mentally. Such asymmetries among university students are rare, and when they do occur they mean latent insanity or lack of mental poise and balance, or unusual ability or talent in some particular direction.

ACIDOSIS.

Mrs. E. J. W. writes: "My 10 months' old son has been weaned for three weeks. I had been giving him Mellin's food with regular meals from the table, but now am giving him cow's milk undiluted, with cream partly removed, instead of Mellin's food. He drinks water abundantly, eats lots of vegetables and bread and butter. Outside of teething he is apparently in good health. He weighs twenty-one pounds and is 28 inches long, but has not gained since he was 8 months of age. He has four teeth and two coming.

"1. Why should his urine smell very strongly of ammonia and leave deep yellow spots in different places on the napkin?

"2. Would you advise any change in his diet?

"3. Can I expect him to gain while teething?"

REPLY.

1. This is a symptom of acidosis and means that he is overfed.

2. Give him skim milk diluted with one-third water until the symptom disappears. When you resume unskimmed milk give him a mixture of three parts milk and one part water or thin oatmeal gruel.

3. Children stop gaining for a while when weaned. Do not push him in hot weather.

THREATENS OWN LIFE.

X. Y. Z. writes: "If a man of very nervous temperament continually threatens to take his own life, is there danger of him doing so or is this a disease, and what is it called? This man is 38 years old and these spells come on over very small matters."

REPLY.

There is some danger that the man will carry out his threats. He may be insane or he may have melancholia. Have your physician see him. Perhaps he needs a rest in a sanitarium.

CAN BE TRAINED.

A Reader writes: "1. I was operated on fifteen months ago for cancer of the breast and have had laryngitis ever since. Had a return of disease in breast three months ago, loss of appetite, expectorating matter, and a congested sputum. Am I liable to get cancer of larynx or throat from this sputum?

"2. Re treatment for laryngitis with mirrors and sun's rays: Can a patient take these treatments himself or might one possibly get a serious burn (similar to X-ray burn) account inexperience?"

REPLY.

1. No.

2. A person can be trained to use the sunlight treatment for tubercular laryngitis on himself. An untrained person would make no headway with it.

THE FRIEND OF THE SOLDIER

The Friend of the Soldier will coöperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar association on legal assistance to soldiers and sailors, 105 West Monroe street.

Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed.

No attention will be paid to anonymous letters.

Many questions confront the men who wish to reduce or convert their insurance. This department will answer any questions about government insurance, disability and compensation. Compensation and disability payments are frequently confused. Compensation is in addition to and independent of government insurance, and is paid in case of death or injuries suffered in line of duty; insurance benefits are paid only in case of the death, or total and permanent disability of the insured, and is not limited as to "line of duty."

If you have not converted your insurance and it is not quite clear to you what to do, give your problem to this department to solve for you.

INSURANCE CONVERTIBLE NOW.

Nappanee, Ind., July 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Is government insurance convertible at this time into the old established policies? If not, is there anything to show when congress expects to act on this matter? What are the forms to which it may be changed? C. H. C.

The war risk insurance act provides that the government insurance may be converted within five years after the termination of the war. This rule became effective when the peace treaty was signed, and the insurance may be converted at the present time. The following forms will be issued by the bureau to persons wishing to make the conversion: Ordinary life, twenty payment life, thirty payment life, twenty year endowment, thirty year endowment, and endowment maturing at the age of 62 years.

NUMBER OF RETURNED SOLDIERS.

Camp Grant, Ill., July 11.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—What is the number of the soldiers from the A. E. F. returned and those on their way? That will include soldiers returned up to July 25. F. R. C.

MUST PROVIDE GARBAGE PAILS.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—For several years I have asked the owner of the properties at 2429 and 2431 West Adams street to stop the tenants from throwing garbage in the alley, but without results. I have been told by some of the tenants that they have no garbage pails, and that they have no other place to dump garbage. They said they have asked him for pails for the garbage, but he will not get them. This nuisance should be stopped. READER.

Notice has been served to provide proper garbage receptacles. F. S. MITCHELL, Superintendent of Streets.

MORTGAGEE ENTITLED TO NEW POLICY.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I bought a piece of property on Dec. 1, 1914, on which a guarantee policy was furnished to the party holding the mortgage. This mortgage has become due and was by me transferred to another party with whom loan was placed. The party who furnished the new loan has taken out a new guarantee policy issued by the same concern which issued the first policy.

It is my understanding that the first policy taken out is good for a period of ten years. Was it necessary to take out a new policy on account of the loan being transferred? If not who would pay for same, I or the party making the loan. R. J. N.

The new mortgagee is entitled to a mortgagee's policy as security for the title on which his loan is made. You are the party to pay for it.

REPAIRS FOR W. 71ST STREET.

Chicago, July 9.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The pavement in front of my apartment has a deep rut and when trucks and wagons go over it, during the night and early morning, there is a heavy jar that keeps one awake, and although a previous complaint was made, no action has been taken. J. C. C.

The necessary repair will be made here by our vehicle tax repair gang as soon as they begin work in this vicinity.

F. S. MITCHELL, Superintendent of Streets.

WOULD SHARE IN ESTATE.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A friend of mine was separated from husband for ten years, living in the same city with his mother and three sisters. As none of them as well as herself had heard from him they presumed him dead. In the meantime she entered into a common law marriage and after a child was born the former husband was known to be alive but he sent word he would not disturb her. There have been no divorce proceedings on either part to her knowledge. She has one son, a grown man, by first husband. Recently she learned her first husband has been advertised for, as none of his relatives knew of his whereabouts. Will you please inform me on her account if she has a reasonable claim upon his inheritance, as we are quite sure there are the reasons for advertising, or is the son the only rightful claimant? M. D.

Yes, she would have a widow's dower in his real estate and one-third of his personal estate, and the son would get the balance, provided there was no will.

NOT COLORED WATER.

Rockford, Ill., July 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We wish to protest most vigorously against several remarks you make in your editorial, "The Price of Pop," which appears in your morning edition of even date.

It is evident that you have never been fortunate enough to go through a modern bottling works, for if you had you would have too much respect for the product of that plant to refer to it as colored water.

We were fortunate enough to secure the contract for supplying the exchanges at Camp Grant with all the soda water they sold to the boys there, but this was only after the sanitary department of the camp had satisfied themselves that the goods delivered there was not the old fashioned "pop" of your boyhood memory. We know that we or our plant are not an exception and if you would take the trouble to investigate you will find many plants in your city which turn out goods which it is a positive libel to refer to as colored water.

With regard to your price comments we hardly feel qualified to speak, as we know nothing about conditions surrounding the sale of soda water at the ball park you refer to, but we will say that the day of 10 cent "pop" is rapidly approaching, for that price is very common in the east today and within a short time you will find it in Chicago.

CHAS. A. WILSON, Secretary-Treasurer Wilson Bottling Co.

ANOTHER INIQUITY.

Chicago, July 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—With reference to "Justice by Murder," why not say something against the too common practice among married men taking advantage of ignorant and easily influenced girls, 15 to 19 years old? H. C. DUNBAR.

FOR IRISH FREEDOM.

Chicago, July 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—On July 4, a day that all liberty loving Americans should consider sacred as dedicated to the cause of freedom, you published a communication signed R. C. Stewart, in which he disparages the freedom of the Irish people.

If your contributor was familiar with the columns of the "W. G. N." he would have known that the cause of liberty was best supported by the Irish race, not only in Ireland, but throughout the world.

The Sinn Feiners are the same type of men that Franklin induced to come to the aid of America nearly a century and a half ago. They are of the stock that helped America win and maintain her independence. They have never betrayed America, but have always helped her.

According to British state papers 200,000 Irish volunteered in Ireland alone, 150,000 volunteered from northern England, besides hundreds of thousands from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and the United States. Had America volunteered in the same proportion to population as the Irish did the American army would have consisted of about 11,000,000 men.

Provost Marshal General Crowder reports that the Irish waived exemption to a greater degree than any other race. Gen. Pershing's official statements show that the Irish were decorated for acts of bravery and deeds of valor to an extent that is surprising. THE TRIBUNE'S photo section of world war heroes shows the Irish as exceeding every other race.

President De Valera is pleading for liberty and funds to help the Irish obtain their freedom. Franklin's mission to Ireland was similar. Only pro-Britishers rant against freedom for Ireland. Americans favor and will help establish it. There can be no real world freedom until Ireland is free. FINLEY F. BELL, Executive Secretary Irish Freedom fund.

THE NEXT WAR.

Urbana, Ill., July 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Once more we hear reports from Washington that Japan's answer to the demands of the United States regarding the Tientsin riot has not been satisfactory. Upon investigation of the case it has been found that the origin of the blame lies upon the shoulders of the Japanese soldiers, and yet their government has hesitated to express its regret to the United States in any satisfactory degree at all.

It seems as though Japan wanted to take an upper hand in every game which she has been playing. She threatened to quit the peace conference on the Shantung question; she broke down intentionally America's traditional principles of righteousness and justice; she obstructed the carrying out of President Wilson's ideas in every way possible.

Consider Kiaochau, which she got for compensation for her participation in the war; the treaty she signed with honor; and the humiliating note of regret she would not send to the United States. It may be well said she wants to win every case in which she is involved. But is this possible? We can hardly say. I am afraid that troubles will be bound to happen in the future as the situation stands now. In his lecture to the New York public about a month ago, Prof. J. W. Janks of New York university said that the next war would occur in the far east in a not very long distance and in that war the United States would be bound to be involved. Who is going to be responsible for that war? Let us wait and see. C. C. Yu.

A "COURAGEOUS EDITORIAL."

DEPORTATION.

Chicago, July 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As the Fourth of July was passing, I could not help but meditate upon the warning sent out by the press of the country in regard to the "Red" danger which threatens our native land. That a real menace exists is self evident—else, why the warning?

Citizens of the United States, what are we waiting for? Are we waiting for a national calamity to actually happen before we take some action to safeguard our government, our homes, our very right to exist as a peace loving, law abiding people?

A catastrophe may occur at any time so terrible in its effects that we may be stunned into helplessness, and rendered powerless to act in our own self defense, therefore, let us arouse ourselves before it is too late.

We have a weapon at hand so simple to operate and yet so powerful that we can eliminate this danger once and forever if we but take the initiative "now," and use it without delay. It is the one "big stick" given us to battle with. It is deportation. Deportation is feared by the "bloody red" more than any other power on earth. Let us use it "now" without further delay.

The government knows who these revolutionary agitators are. Let the government expel them by deportation. Let the public sentiment be aroused to the peril we are facing, and demand the deportation of these human vultures. They are an insult to our intelligence. They are a menace to our homes, and to our right to happiness. They pollute the very atmosphere we breathe. How much longer are they to be tolerated? Let us deport them now, who'soale, before they undermine us one and all.

'REILLY'S BUCKS' GATHER IN FIRST ANNUAL REUNION

Rainbow Veterans Meet on Anniversary of Fiery Baptism.

"Reilly's Bucks" gathered last night in the Auditorium hotel for the first meeting of the Illinois chapter of the Rainbow division veterans. The smoker celebrated the first anniversary of the 149th field artillery's first participation in a major operation. A year ago last night the artillery began operations in the Champagne sector and aided in winning the Champagne battle that had been advertised in Germany as their "peace offensive."

General approval marked the adoption of what will be the official insignia of the Illinois chapter. The button chosen will be a spread eagle with a rainbow across between the tip of the wings and the numerals "42" over the eagle's head.

Col. Reilly Tells Plans.

Col. Henry J. Reilly, who is president of the state chapter, announced that plans were under way to reorganize the old artillery band, consisting of seventy-five pieces. The membership of the Illinois branch totals over 700. A drive was launched last night to bring the membership above 1,000.

It was also announced that with opening of permanent headquarters at 13 East Adams street, active work would be started in compiling historical data of the regiment. The headquarters will maintain a bureau for military information. This work will be under the supervision of Sergt. Hugo Celander, secretary of the society.

With all the "pep" of their soldier days the veterans greeted their comrades and officers who addressed them. Lieut. Col. Noble B. Judah recounted the history of the artillery's entrance in the Champaign sector.

The only disturbing feature of the evening came with the attempt to untangle the financial affairs of Private John Snowhook. Snowhook acted as regimental "money lender" and became involved in transactions which will be brought out in the Municipal court today.

Organized in Germany.

The organization of the national association was instituted at Neunahr, Germany, by delegates chosen from each regiment in the division. Officers of the national association are: Maj. Gen. Douglas McArthur, honorary president; Col. Ben Hough, 166th Ohio infantry, president; Col. Henry J. Reilly, 149th field artillery, vice president; Maj. Walter Wolf, Chicago, brigade adjutant, historian.

The officers of the state chapter are: Col. Henry J. Reilly, president; Lieut. Col. Noble B. Judah, vice president; Sergt. Hugo Celander, secretary; Sergt. Barre Blumenthal, treasurer; Capt. Joseph Medill Patterson, historian; Capt. Arlington A. McCallum, chaplain.

German Submarine Due to Visit Chicago Soon

Arrangements are being made by Rear Admiral Frederic B. Bassett Jr. of the Great Lakes Naval Training station for the arrival of the German submarine UC-97, which is cruising the great lakes.

The UC-97 at present is at Alpena, Mich. It will continue through Lake Huron and cruise Lake Superior before reaching Lake Michigan. It is cruising for exhibition purposes only, stopping at all important ports, and is expected to reach Chicago in a few weeks.

Arrangements are being made by Admiral Bassett to permit the public to go aboard the craft, descend into the hold, and see how the undersea sailors lived and launched torpedoes. The submarine is expected to be on exhibition here for a couple of weeks.

MRS. ART SUES FOR $100,000 ON GAMING CHARGE

Mrs. Margaret Art, 836 East Forty-fifth street, yesterday filed suit against the Moir Hotel company, Harry C. Moir, I. M. Cohen, "Izzy" Lazarus, and Harry Belford, alias "Hickory Slim." One hundred thousand dollars is asked—all because her husband, Jacob L. Art, founder of the auctioneering firm of Jacob L. Art & Co., 5 South Wabash avenue, is alleged to have dropped $35,000 in games played in the Morrison.

The law provides that the loser—or his relatives—in a game of chance may collect, providing the evidence is sufficient, three times the amount lost. Also providing the winner can be found.

It was in 1918 that Art first sat in the stud game that, according to the suit, thrived in the hotel. For a few months the cards dropped his way—and then on Oct. 1, 1918, $250 is said to have dropped into the hands of Cohen, Lazarus, and "Hickory Slim."

From then on deuces and trays, and pink when he wanted blue cards, dropped on Art's hole card, it is said. On Jan. 9, 1919, the others are accused of trimming Mr. Art for $3,300.

"Of course, some fellows have rented rooms in the hotel and have gambled there," said Mr. Moir. "But we don't allow it and the minute we find it out the room is taken from them."

Try to Force Girl to Tell About Missing Bonds

The Circuit court was asked yesterday by Camp, Thorne & Co., La Salle street investment brokers, to order Miss Anna M. Rutten, former typist and bookkeeper for the firm, to disclose the amount of Liberty loan bonds which they allege she took. The firm also asks that Miss Rutten be compelled to pay back in full the amount of her alleged defalcations and to state definitely what disposition she has made of the bonds not recovered or whose whereabouts is unknown.

An injunction is asked to restrain Miss Rutten from removing any of the securities from the safety deposit box and from withdrawing any funds she has on deposit.

Big Man Looks For Paying Business

I am looking for a profitable business located in Chicago, where I can invest personal funds and my services. If the proposition requires it I have at my command additional financial backing.

Am now associated with one of Chicago's largest corporations as executive in charge of sales, at a salary well over $10,000. At the age of 34 I have 15 years of successful business experience behind me. Am young enough to adapt myself quickly to new surroundings. My services will be a profitable asset to the right concern.

Naturally I can furnish gilt-edge references, and am only interested in a Chicago concern, sound, established and money making. Will not listen to promotion schemes of any kind. No brokers need apply.

On account of my present connection prefer to keep my identity confidential, and will treat your communication likewise.

ONE MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS OF POWDER FOR THE FEET.

That is what the government sent last year to make the soldiers' and sailors' feet comfortable and fit for the kind of war they fought and finished.

IN PEACE AND WAR

for over 25 years Allen's Foot-Ease, the Antiseptic, Healing Powder for the Feet, to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath, has been the standard remedy for all aching, swollen, hot, tired feet, blisters and sore spots and for the instant relief of corns, bunions and callouses.

Thousands of people sent packages of Allen's Foot-Ease to their sons, brothers or sweethearts in the army and navy, because they knew from experience, that it would freshen and rest their feet, make their shoes comfortable and walking easy. Those who use Allen's Foot-Ease have solved their foot troubles.

before that, you discovered that you and THE TRIBUNE were drifting apart, didn't you? A.—I can't say as to that, about THE TRIBUNE.

Q.—You became a very ardent advocate or opponent of preparedness for defense of the nation? A.—Militarism; yes.

Did Not Know "Tribune" Policy.

Q.—And THE TRIBUNE advocated as strongly as it could the necessity and desirability of preparing for national defense. You understood that? A.—I don't know about that; I had not read the paper.

Q.—You understood that before you brought this lawsuit, didn't you? A.—I understood what?

Q.—That THE TRIBUNE was an ardent advocate of preparing for national defense. A.—Yes, I think I did.

Q.—Isn't it true that that is where you and THE TRIBUNE split—on this question of preparedness or national defense? A.—I think perhaps it is.

Q.—You haven't any doubt about it, have you? A.—That and militarism, yes.

Q.—You call militarism one thing, and they call preparedness the same thing? A.—Same thing.

Preparedness Only Militarism.

Q.—You call militarism what they call preparedness? A.—Yes; they are the same thing to me.

Q.—On that rock you and THE TRIBUNE split? A.—Yes.

Q.—You continued to advocate, as hard as you could, lack of—opposition to—preparedness of any kind, didn't you? A.—Not of any kind; no, sir.

Q.—Didn't you advocate opposition to any preparation to, any appropriation by congress for increasing the army and increasing the navy? A.—No, sir.

Q.—You had submitted to an interview by Mr. Edward Marshall a short time before this, in 1915? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And about that time you had employed on your own account what you called a peace secretary, a publicity secretary? A.—A publicity secretary.

Q.—Publicity secretary? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—On the 22d day of August, 1915, after this last commendatory article in THE TRIBUNE was published, you had an interview, what purported to be an interview, that was published in the Detroit Free Press, didn't you? A.—I don't know.

Interview, Not "Ad."

Q.—"Henry Ford to Push World-Wide Campaign for Universal Peace." A.—Yes, I thing Mr. Delavigne wrote that.

Q.—What do you mean, that he wrote it? A.—Well, I am responsible for it.

Q.—That was an ad, was it? A.—No, this is an interview. I would have to see the interview, or I would have to know what it was.

Q.—It is contained in this booklet, Mr. Ford; perhaps that will enable you to tell, to shorten the— A.—Well, if it is contained in that booklet, I am responsible for it.

The booklet was offered in evidence. Mr. Ford said he was pretty well acquainted with it, but could not swear that he had read every word. It reprinted interviews and statements of Mr. Ford bearing on peace. The first one stated that preparedness was the root of all war. He said he would make a world work of bringing about universal peace.

Against All Armament.

He was against the building of armament of any kind by the United States. This was one of the statements in the interview:

"I feel, and every American who is not carried away by the fatal mirage of glory and empire or dragged by the chains of greed for the personal benefits that war brings to certain vampire like traders, also feels, that we will never have a war in this country; that our shores are as safe from invasion for the next 100 years as they have been for the past century. I feel that this cry for the training of men to kill other men and for the placing of an army and navy as a burden on the backs of the people is a false conception of patriotism and treason to the life of a people."

"I note by a reading of this published by you, Mr. Ford, that on Aug. 22, 1915, you proposed to devote your entire life and fortune to combat this spirit of militarism? A.—Yes.

Q.—What did you do to combat it? A.—Caused people to think.

Q.—How did you cause people to think, by hiring Mr. Delavigne to write arguments for you? A.—That is one way, yes.

Q.—Was there any other way? A.—I don't recall any other just at the present time.

Reads Ford Attack on Joy.

The next read was a reprint of an article by Henry B. Joy of Detroit, who answered Mr. Ford's peace cry.

Mr. Ford's answer to this was then read. It referred to Mr. Joy several times as an "apostle of murder" and "Detroit briefholder for murder." Mr. Stevenson said that in this Mr. Ford attacked Mr. Joy in a way more slanderous even than being called an anarchist. In this answer Mr. Ford is quoted as saying:

"Our local apostle of murder is working under a handicap, for he is known to be interested in the manufacture of munitions of war. It could hardly be expected that such a man would do anything but attempt to place a halo around the trade that pays such big dividends."

Mr. Joy replied by saying that unpreparedness was no way to curb the bullies of the world, and suggested that Mr. Ford's factory ought to be in Belgium for him to get the right viewpoint. Thus the controversy waged at that time.

Mr. Ford's testimony will be continued tomorrow.

Edsel Again on Stand.

Edsel Ford was on the witness stand today for two hours. His attorneys told him that he had made a splendid witness. He never lost his temper and did not become confused. He said that at the time the armistice was signed the Highland Park plant was functioning 100 per cent in war contracts. At one time, he said, the Ford company was financing the government to the extent of $32,000,000.

He was examined at length regarding the proposition which his father had made to return 58⅓ per cent of the company's war profits to the government. A telegram was sent to Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass, after THE TRIBUNE had subpoenaed him to bring his war contracts into court asking that an accountant be sent to Detroit. A man was sent and is now working on the books.

Judge Tucker at one point of the proceedings said it did not make any difference in this case whether Mr. Ford paid back any profits or not.

The cross-examination of Edsel Ford was intended to show that the man thus accused was in 1917 the same man who was devoting all his resources to prosecution of the war against Germany, and doing so without a cent of profit to himself.

It developed that some of the differences of opinion which have arisen among the accountants engaged by Mr. Ford on the books to determine what Mr. Ford's personal profits were, so that he may return them to the government, concern automobiles sold for war work.

Not War Earnings.

Some of the accountants hold that as these cars were the regular product of the factory, the profits should not be classed as "war" earnings. There is also a question as to the status of cars ordered the month before the armistice and never used in war work.

The testimony dealt almost entirely in figures involved in war contracts.

On re-direct examination of Edsel Ford, Attorney Elliott G. Stevenson of TRIBUNE counsel, sought to show that the Ford company was compelled to do war work or do nothing.

"No," replied Mr. Ford, "that is not true. The government controlled raw material, but I think we could have continued on a restricted basis."

"But you would have had to lay off thousands of men and wreck your organization?"

"Yes, it would have wrecked the organization."

FARWELL SUED BY WIFE, INDICTED, ALL IN ONE DAY

The matrimonial motor in the family of John Arthur Farwell isn't being mended satisfactorily, Farwell found yesterday.

But his appearance in the criminal court, where James A. Russel of the Northern Trust company gave $2,500 in Liberty bonds to assure Farwell's appearance to answer an indictment returned yesterday for alleged nonsupport of Mrs. Loretta A. Farwell, and a suit for separate maintenance filed by Mrs. Farwell all left Farwell unvexed.

He had just returned from Washington after his arrest there Friday in Red Cross headquarters.

In the new suit Farwell is said to have yielded to his mother's wish in abandoning his wife. He is accused, too, of inducing his wife to sign various documents which deprived her of her rights as to property. His remittances, she says, stopped in May, 1918.

The suit is a sequel to one pending against Mrs. John Albro Farwell, the husband's mother, asking $100,000 on charges of alienation of affections.

How Pneumatics Lower Truck Costs at Great Lakes Naval Station

The Great Lakes Naval Training Station, in using 100 motor trucks, has made a scientific service comparison and a cost comparison between trucks running on solid tires and others equipped with big pneumatic cord tires. The results show improvements effected by the pneumatics (1) in hauling radius (2) in ability to navigate mud, snow and other slippery going (3) in fuel and oil consumption (4) in the maintenance account—particularly, repairs and depreciation.

WHEN motoring up Green Bay Road you may meet motor trucks, bearing the name of the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, rolling quietly along on big, impressive-looking Goodyear Pneumatic Cord Truck Tires.

If so, you undoubtedly will take particular note of the ease with which these large trucks operate on the powerful Goodyear Cords, observing that they go by with none of the heavy vibration and jarring that marks the passing of solid-tired trucks.

And, if you are a truck owner, you will be interested to know that the monthly garage records of the Naval Station show that this smoothness of operation represents a very decided and broad economy.

These records show that certain items of operating and upkeep costs average 4.9 cents per mile on a 3-ton Goodyear-Cord-Equipped truck while on another unit, identical in make, type and size, but on solid tires, the same items average 8.9 cents per mile, or nearly twice as much.

Constant truck inspection at Great Lakes plainly indicates that engines, steering mechanisms and shackle-bolts are well protected against injury when cushioned by the pneumatics.

It has also been found that the consumption of fuel and oil in the pneumatic-shod trucks is appreciably lower than in the trucks equipped with solid tires.

During the past winter the traction of the Goodyear All-Weather Tread was demonstrated in a striking manner when trucks on Goodyear Cords were used to tow trucks on solid tires through snow and mud.

The round trip between the Great Lakes Naval Station and Chicago is made in 6½ hours on pneumatics as against 8 hours on solid tires.

While truck owners' records differ according to conditions, users of Goodyear Pneumatic Cord Truck Tires frequently report that the pneumatics improve and save in the ways mentioned here.

The local Goodyear Truck Tire Service Stations, named below, are prepared to recommend the type of Goodyear Truck Tire best fitted for your work—either solid, cushion or pneumatic—and to assist you continually to minimize truck costs.

DEMAND HIGHER TYPE OF ENVOYS TO CONVENTION

Harrison-Dunne Democrats Organize to Select Basic Law Makers.

Harrison-Dunne Democrats formed an organization yesterday to aid in picking and electing a higher type of delegate to the constitutional convention than the average run of candidates on the political slates.

At a meeting at Vogelsang's restaurant they cast a doubtful eye over the lists of petitions so far filed at Springfield. Candidates in several districts were commended, but the slate choices in many other districts were criticized.

The meeting adopted the following avowal:

"A constitution framed by the interests which dominated the last legislature would be rejected by the people.

"If Illinois is to have a new constitution, it is essential that a majority of the constitutional convention be made up of men who represent the people rather than the interests."

Dunne Heads Committee.

Roy D. Keehn, who acted as chairman, appointed the following as a committee on political action: Edward F. Dunne, chairman; William L. O'Connell, Charles H. Mitchell, Carter H. Harrison, James Hamilton Lewis, Maclay Hoyne, John E. Owens, Congressman A. J. Sabath, and Clarence S. Darrow.

The committee will meet Thursday to formulate a plan of action, the intention being to appeal to citizens in certain districts to concentrate their voting on the strongest candidates on the ballot.

Special attention is to be paid to the following districts: Second, Fifth, Ninth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-third, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-ninth.

TEN FILE FOR DELEGATES.

REPUBLICANS.

DEMOCRATS.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

G. O. P. to Plan State Organization in Meeting All Their Own Today.

Mrs. Douglas Harvey

Republican women from all parts of Illinois will meet at the Hotel La Salle today to plan a thorough state organization. In every district Frank L. Smith, Republican state chairman, has appointed a chairwoman, and they have all been invited to the conference by Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns, who is at the head of the work in the state.

Mrs. Medill McCormick, national leader of the Republican women, appointed by Will Hays, national chairman, will be chief speaker.

Among those expected to attend are Mrs. J. A. Sterling, Bloomington; Miss Sallie Perkins, Springfield; Mrs. John T. Mason, Aurora; Mrs. John K. Ball, Carmi; Miss Anne Forsythe, Mrs. Leonard Brundage, Mrs. Ernest D. Griffin, Grant Park; Mrs. L. H. Dennison, Galesburg; Mrs. Alice O. Curran, Macomb; Mrs. G. E. McMahon, Olney; Mrs. Walter Forbes, Rockford, and Mrs. Henry M. Dunlap, Savoy.

The meeting will be the women's first state conference. They purpose to pledge partnership with the men of their party in the coming presidential campaign. It will be a "for women only" meeting. Better cooperation will be emphasized.

Mrs. Douglas Harvey of Dixon, Ill., will be one of the speakers at the luncheon at 12:30 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of the La Salle. Mrs. Harvey is the house guest of Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns, state chairman of the Illinois Republican women's executive committee, of which Mrs. Harvey is a district chairman.

VICTORY SPEECH THRILLS CADETS

Camp Roosevelt, Muskegon, Mich., July 14.—[Special.]—Bastile and victory day was observed at Camp Roosevelt. Angus S. Hibbard of Chicago, addressing the cadets, referred briefly to the significance of the event and the close friendship between Americans and French.

A heavy rainstorm swept the camp early this afternoon, and the evening program was curtailed. The open air motion picture theater will not open until Tuesday. A big ring has been constructed on the grounds and boxing exhibitions will be added to the entertainment.

A machine gun class has been organized and Lieut. Roy will give exhibitions to the fifty students tomorrow.

During the recent war the world came into a full and complete understanding of the value of efficient and comprehensive organization on the part of big business.

One phase of the aid that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was able to render is interesting.

The U. S. Government called on the Company for candles, and in an incredibly short space of time the initial shipment was made.

In all, 285,000,000 candles were shipped from Whiting, Indiana, to France—about 85 candles for every man in the United States uniform.

Besides serving a most useful and necessary purpose in themselves, the manufacture of candles enables the Company to keep down the manufacturing cost of gasoline, so that you may run your car without great expense for fuel.

This is only a single and minor phase of the part played by the Company in helping to win the war, but it serves to illustrate the usefulness of the Company as a public servant, and the benefits accruing to the world at large from Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operations.

Beef—
It's Cheap Food

Compared with prewar price levels, beef is one of the cheapest of essential foods today. Other foods have advanced to much higher points—and remained there.

Flour	210%
Sugar	115%
Milk	87%
Round Steak	86%
Eggs	80%
Sirloin Steak	61%

Beef is one of the best values in the food line and there is plenty of it.

The need for conservation for military purposes is past.

On country roads the yielding earth cushions your feet against the jars of walking

According to figures for the latest five year period covered by the last census, the death rate in cities is 21.6% greater than in the country districts. The figures show 16.3 deaths per thousand in cities; 13.4 per thousand in the country.

On the hard, modern pavements of cities, every step on hard leather heels is pounding away your energy

Are you exposing yourself to the danger of "city diseases"?

CERTAIN diseases are so prevalent in cities that doctors call them "city diseases."

Tuberculosis, Bright's disease, heart trouble are ailments known to be common among people who live in cities.

In the last five year period covered by census figures, the death rate in cities is shown to be higher than in country districts by 21 per cent.

These conditions are due largely to the manner in which city people live. The average city worker spends at least five-sixths of his time indoors. If he is out-of-doors more than four hours in every twenty-four, he can count himself fortunate.

The city worker seldom walks. He travels from home to business in crowded cars or trains. He works all day stooped over a desk, a machine or a counter. Indeed, medical men state that the average city worker uses no more than a third of his lung capacity—that about 400 muscles of his body have actually become weakened through disuse.

Is it any wonder that we are susceptible to countless ailments; is it any wonder that the city death rate is so high under these conditions of living?

Walking, the one great exercise which every man should enjoy, has become a burden. Too often it contributes directly to that over-fatigued condition which makes the city dweller an easy prey to illness.

In his usual routine the average city worker takes 8,000 steps a day, on hard, modern floors and pavements. If you wear nail-studded leather heels you give your body 8,000 jolts and jars a day—for every step with hard heels on still harder pavements acts as a hammer blow to your entire nervous system. The constant repetition of these shocks exhausts your energy, helps to bring on over-fatigue, with its ever-present threat of serious illness.

Yet walking on hard pavements need not be any more fatiguing than walking on turf. Walking can easily be made a pleasure and a benefit.

Modern pavements are built for modern traffic. You can't bring back the yielding dirt streets of many years ago—the streets for which leather heels were made, but you can cushion your feet against the jolts and jars that make walking a burden. You can replace hard, old-fashioned heels with O'Sullivan's Heels of live, springy rubber.

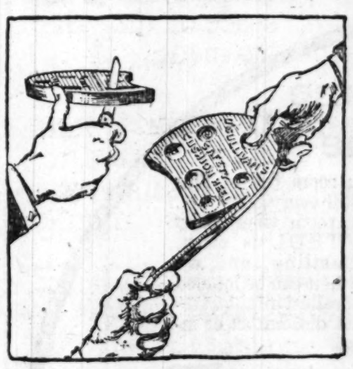

What gives a rubber heel "life"

It is not just the rubber that gives O'Sullivan's Heels their springiness and wearing qualities.

Rubber, as you know, can be made hard and brittle as in fountain pens or soft and crumbly as in pencil erasers. To secure the resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are "compounded" with the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then "cured" or baked under high pressure.

By this special process the greatest resiliency is combined with the utmost durability.

It is this special process that has, since the making of the first rubber heel, established O'Sullivan's Heels as the standard of rubber heel quality.

If an O'Sullivan Heel is cut along the side so that a thin strip of rubber is left attached at one end, that strip will have great elasticity—it can be stretched several inches. With an ordinary rubber heel the material snaps in two before it has stretched to any great degree. This test proves the remarkable resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels.

Guaranteed to outlast any other heels

O'Sullivan's Heels are guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary rubber heels; and will outlast three pairs of leather heels.

Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes. O'Sullivan's Heels are furnished in black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Specify O'Sullivan's Heels, and be sure that you get O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

One out of every four persons in greater New York wears O'Sullivan's Heels. Fully a quarter of New York's vast population finds that O'Sullivan's Heels prevent over-fatigue from the jolts and jars of walking.

RAIN SCATTERS ARGO STRIKERS, HALTS NEW RIOT

Seven Hurt, 11 Arrested in Earlier Battle; 4 Women Injured.

A heavy downpour that dispersed crowds of muttering strikers and sent them from the streets in search of shelter is believed to have prevented a second serious outbreak in Argo last night.

Hundreds of striking employés of the Corn Products Refining company's plant had gathered in the streets near the union headquarters, enraged by the wounding of seven of their number, four of whom were women, in an early morning riot.

With the entrance to the great plant converted into an armed camp, 150 deputy sheriffs, reinforced by the factory police, saw the signs of more trouble and were preparing for a battle when the rain swept the angry strikers from sight.

Wreck Cooks' House.

However several hundred strikers went to the home of Walter Pole, Fifty-eighth street and Seventy-second avenue, and smashed practically every piece of furniture in the place, escaping before deputy sheriffs arrived. Pole and his wife, employed as cooks in the plant, had refused to go out on strike.

Those injured during the earlier hostilities were:

MICHAEL VALI, 48; shot three times; may die.

MRS. ANNIE KORENCHUK, 30; shot in right leg.

MRS. WILLIAM KOLCHENECHE; struck on head and body and severely bruised.

SAM PACHEK; shot in leg.

JOE VLADEK; shot in leg.

MISS HEDNIGA MITCHELL; bruised and cut.

Eleven strikers are under arrest. They are: George Peters, Egwiza Mizri, 7608 Sixtieth place; Virger Gaushik, 7653 Sixty-second place; Ptachek Vladek and his wife, Stella; Miss Mitchell, Sam Thompson, Mrs. Mamie Rodick, John Rodick, all of Argo; Miss Gertrude Laszik, 7742 West Sixty-second street, and Miss Salimya Kardass, 7561 West Sixty-first place.

All were arraigned before Justice Frank A. McKee in Oak Park and their cases continued until tomorrow. This included the charge of assault with intent to kill against Vali, who is in the bridewell hospital. The others were removed to the county jail when they did not offer bail.

Halt Cars; Battle Follows.

The trouble occurred when the strikers, angered because the plant had reopened, blocked the street cars which brought the workers to the entrance. After they had pulled down trolleys and heckled those returning to work the deputies interfered and the fight started.

Joe Banus, head of the union, visited the office of State's Attorney Hoyne during the afternoon and asked a grand jury investigation of the conduct of the deputy sheriffs and plant guards, claiming they started the trouble and shot the men and women without provocation. Assistant State's Attorney William Duvall promised an inquiry.

Banus then sent a telegram to John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, at Washington, asking him to seek the intervention of President Wilson in the strike.

ROMANCE

Third Engagement Announced as Aftermath of Lawn Party.

Miss Ruth Forsythe Treadwell Hubbard

PHOTO-JACOBY

There was romance in the air when Miss Mary Bartelme of the juvenile court invited a score of enlisted ambulance drivers from Northwestern university to a lawn party in Evanston on a summer night in 1917. For the occasion she had twenty of the North Shore's prettiest to entertain the boys.

Late in the evening the party drifted into juvenile recreation—the popular pastime of kneeling to the wittiest, bowing to the prettiest, and kissing the one you love best, for instance. When it came Treadwell Hubbard's turn to go through this pleasant ordeal he stood in front of Miss Ruth Forsythe, niece of Miss Bartelme, and paused. She fulfilled his three essentials.

Yesterday Miss Bartelme announced the engagement of the pair. Hubbard, who resides at 7730 North Paulina street, recently returned from overseas, where he served as an observer with the 90th Aero squadron of the A. E. F.

Miss Bartelme prides herself on her ability as a matchmaker, because the Hubbard-Forsythe engagement is the third announced since the party.

50,000 ATLANTIC COAST SEAMEN GO ON A STRIKE

New York, July 14.—The strike of men employed on the vessels controlled by the United States shipping board began late today, when, according to union officials, 50,000 seamen and thousands of stewards, cooks, and other employés joined the ranks of those already on strike in the coastwise trade.

The offer by the shipping board of an increase in wages and shorter hours in port was duplicated today by the American Steamship association, which controls 75 per cent of the coastwise shipping, but the proposals failed to bring a settlement.

Officials of the shipping board will make another effort tomorrow to reach an agreement.

The principal bone of contention is over the question of a closed shop.

The outlook was more threatening today, when William S. Brown, international president of the marine engineers, telegraphed from Buffalo that his union had voted to join the walkout if the demands of the strikers were not met.

Great Lakes Companies to Escape.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—George A. Grubb of Chicago, international secretary, will conduct negotiations with two small great lakes steamship companies on a wage increase of 10 per cent. Union officials expect the increase will be granted.

Disorders at Rome, N. Y.

Rome, N. Y., July 14.—Disorder today marked the strike in the metal trades. Several workers were attacked and injured. At the direction of Gov. Smith fifty troopers of the state constabulary have been ordered here.

LAW FIRM DISSOLVES.

Announcement was made yesterday morning that the law firm of Wilson, Moore & McIlvaine has been dissolved. John P. Wilson and William B. McIlvaine have joined John P. Wilson, Jr., William B. Hale and Stuart J. Templeton.

SILENT ABOUT STORY OF TEXAS POSTOFFICE ROW

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Postmaster General Burleson and Civil Service Commissioner Charles M. Galloway were silent today when asked to confirm a published report that the former's insistence that his niece be appointed postmistress at Lockhart, Tex., met with refusal, with the result that the postmaster general induced President Wilson to call for the resignation of members of the commission last February.

The report alleges Mr. Burleson's niece, Miss Emma K. Burleson, applied for the postmastership along with three other candidates. For a long time, it was stated, while Mr. Burleson was in congress, his brother held the position, and afterwards it went to Mr. Burleson's nephew, James K. Burleson Jr. The report alleges further that, following the civil service examination of the papers, Tyre B. Brown was nominated as having the best mark, but Mr. Burleson did not certify him for some time.

Instead, it is alleged, Ruskin McArdle, chief clerkof the postoffice department and formerly confidential secretary to Mr. Burleson, telephoned to Mr. Galloway, saying that Mr. Burleson feared a mistake had been made in rating Miss Burleson's papers.

Commissioner Galloway and Herman W. Craven, it is said, looked over the papers again, but found no reason to alter Miss Burleson's rating. They declined to make any change, it is alleged, and that on Feb. 28 President Wilson called for the resignation of Commissioners Galloway and Craven. Mr. Craven resigned, but Mr. Galloway still is in office.

SISTER SEEKS MISSING SOLDIER.

"Stock Expert?" She Asks; "All You Need Is to Know People."

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

Mrs. Charles E. Nagely, only woman member of the Chicago Live Stock exchange, leaned back comfortably in her chair at the Illinois suffrage headquarters in the Tower building and smiled tolerantly at the interviewer.

"Know all about cattle?" she repeated. "Why, my dear, the only kind I know anything about is the human variety. You see, you don't have to be a judge of stock to be in my business. All you need to know is people.

"Of course I can't help picking up a little knowledge when I'm out soliciting business. The farmers will take me out to see the hogs, and I have to give the beasts a poke or two to see how fat they are. But I don't do the actual selling; that is done by my agents.

"No woman ever, to my knowledge, has gone down into the pen and actually sold the cattle at the yards. You'd have to be a good judge of cattle to do that. It may come, though. Women can do anything men can do."

Succeeds Her Husband.

Mrs. Nagely explained she was made a member of the Live Stock exchange at the time of her husband's death a few months ago.

"He had always talked to me a good deal about the business," she said, "and so, when I found that I must have something to do, I went to the secretary of the exchange, C. M. Hughes, and asked him if there was any reason I shouldn't have my husband's seat on the exchange and conduct his business. The idea had not occurred to him before; there never had been a woman on the exchange; but he said he didn't see why there shouldn't be, so there I am.

"You should have seen the look on the stenographer's face when I signed up for my first 'out' trip of sixty-three days."

The cattle woman professes to know little about the fine points of judging stock, but says the business is going "fine."

"It's a funny thing," she said, "but I believe the men like to boast about sending their cattle to 'the only woman member of the Chicago exchange.'"

Retailer Gets Profits?

The high cost of meat Mrs. Nagely does not attempt to explain other than to say she believes a large part of the profit goes to the retailers.

"Of course," she said, "when we women have to pay 60, 70, and 80 cents a pound for bacon it makes us cross. But we must consider hogs are very scarce and on the hoof have been selling for 23 cents a pound. When you consider the hoofs, the tail, the snout, and all the other waste in hogs it isn't surprising the best cuts, like good bacon, are expensive."

Mrs. Nagely's home is at 5758 Kenwood avenue, and when she is not on her "out" days soliciting cattle, hogs, and sheep, she may be found there with her two daughters.

9 AMENDMENTS TO LAKE FRONT PLAN OFFERED

Referendum Demanded by Aldermen Kunz and Horne.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Nine amendments to the lake front development ordinance were presented to the city council yesterday afternoon.

Of these the most threatening is fathered by Ald. Kunz and Horne. If they get the votes to tack it on the ordinance, real trouble is anticipated. This amendment requires a referendum on the ordinance Nov. 4, next. It does not provide that the ordinance shall not become effective unless approved by a majority of the electorate voting on the question, but Kunz said privately he will amend his amendment to that effect at the next council meeting.

Before Nov. 4 it is now planned to get Secretary of War Baker to issue the necessary permit to fill in the submerged lands of the lake. The promoters of the agreement are afraid he will resign by Nov. 4 or soon thereafter, and they believe they have a much better chance of getting a permit from him than his successor.

12 Years Limit Suggested.

The amendment of Ald. Wallace that electrification of all services of the Illinois Central railroad, except through passenger, shall be completed in twelve years instead of fifteen, as the ordinance provides, was presented.

Ald. Link's amendment reserves a site for airplane and landing field in the proposed harbor district. Ald. Govier and Madderom want a viaduct at One Hundred and Thirtieth street, part of it to be completed in three years and the remainder in ten.

Ald. Fetzer and Woodhull presented an ordinance requiring the elevation of the tracks of the South Chicago branch before the end of 1922. This, they desire, shall be part of the general ordinance.

Lipps Offers Four.

The other four amendments were presented by Chairman Lipps of the railway terminal committee. One of these is a new forfeiture clause, by which both the Illinois Central and the Michigan Central agree to give the city $1,000,000 each, if in default on the agreement ninety days. In the printed ordinance, part of Eighty-seventh stret was vacated. That is to be eliminated because the street is needed for a surface line.

Another amendment provides for a a viaduct at Forty-third street. This has not been accepted by the South Park commission, who will have to bear the expense. The last makes some structural changes at the expense of the road in the Eighteenth street viaduct, if Michigan boulevard is widened south of Twelfth street.

Argument Tomorrow.

All of these amendments are to be considered by the railway terminal committee tomorrow morning.

On the resolution of Ald. Timothy Hogan the Illinois Central was requested to take the council on an inspection trip. The company replied by phone they would have the cars ready Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. On the last trip the road's chicken salad made a hit with some of the aldermen.

FALL DOWN STAIRS KILLS BABY.

Rocco Fiore, 8 years old, 3044 Arthington street, died in the Jefferson Park hospital yesterday of injuries suffered last Saturday when he fell down a flight of stairs.

Clabaugh's Successor on Job; Will War on Reds

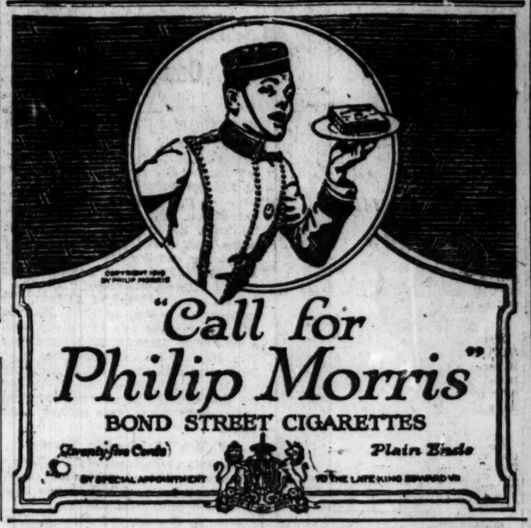

Pledged to rid Chicago of reds, radicals, bomb throwers, and the entire bolshevik family, Edward J. Brennan, successor to Hinton G. Clabaugh, began his duties as division superintendent of the department of justice, bureau of investigation, yesterday. Mr. Brennan was one of the nine men selected from the United States secret service in 1908 to form the bureau of investigation. Philip J. Barry, who was acting superintendent, will temporarily resume his former position as assistant before entering commercial life.

GOB ARRAIGNED AS FORGER.

When a check for $65, made out to Walter Johnson, was received through the mail by David Johnson, former sailor living at the Y. M. C. A. hotel, the latter indorsed it and cashed it at The Fair. Yesterday he appeared in the Boys' court to answer to charges of forgery. His case was continued to July 29.

Brush Teeth
In This Way—Then Decide
All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Look in Ten Days

You have learned, we think, that brushing does not save your teeth. They still discolor, still decay. Your present methods leave a film, and most tooth troubles are due to it.

Dental science has now produced an efficient film combatant. We ask you to test it at our cost, then look at your teeth in a few days. Decide for yourself what it means to you.

That film is what discolors—not your teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So these troubles occur, despite your brushing, when you don't remove the film.

There is now a way to end it. Able authorities have proved the fact by countless clinical tests. You can prove it yourself in ten days.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent, and we gladly supply a ten-day test to anyone who asks.

Your Teeth Unclean

You brush your teeth twice daily, without doubt. Yet they are unclean, unsafe. A dangerous film is on them. In the crevices it hardens, clings and stays. See the difference when that film is gone.

Analysis shows that the film is albuminous. Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The object is to dissolve the film, then to constantly combat it.

Ordinary pepsin is impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But dental science has now found a harmless activating method. Now that method, used in Pepsodent, has altered all the ideas about teeth cleaning.

Leading dentists all over America now advise the daily use of Pepsodent. Hundreds of thousands now follow that advice. Your own friends are among them. When you see white, glistening teeth you'll usually find that the owner uses Pepsodent.

Learn how to get such teeth for yourself—how to keep them white and safe. Our ten-day test will amaze you. Send the coupon for it.

They carry the 6-ton weight of the truck and invariably another 6-ton dead load, or in all, 12 tons.

They must take traction in excavation pits, expose their treads to the teeth of limestone, coal and cinders. All this with a 12-ton weight atop them.

In this grueling service Goodrich De Luxe Truck Tires on the fleet of 6-ton dump trucks operated by the Worth Motor Service Co., 3142-3144 Park Avenue, are delivering mileages upward of 20,000 miles.

One set, with 20,900 miles to its credit, is still good for the season.

SOX COP ANOTHER, 9 TO 3, AND INCREASE LEAD IN FLAG RACE

HOSE GIVE THEIR SWAT AVERAGES ANOTHER TREAT

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Boston's Red Sox didn't make any splurge at all yesterday at Comiskey park. Babe Ruth, of course, hit a couple of two baggers, but Bill Gleason had one of his two aces on the slab and even the two two baggers of Ruth didn't make an impression upon him. His mates were whaling the Boston pitcher all over the lot, and the Sox won comfortably and most satisfactorily, 9 to 3. As the New York Yanks took another trimming over in Detroit, the Sox are sitting back today with a firmer hold than ever on first place.

It was Claude Williams, southpaw curve artist, who did the slabbing for the Sox, and he's proved himself a master against stronger opponents than Boston. Claude never had much to worry about during the combat. The enemy nicked him for a run in the first round, but his mates got it back immediately. Then in the fourth the Sox made a rush for it and knocked home five tallies. After that the game was a bore to Mr. Williams, but the south siders knocked in a few more for practice.

Felsh and Collins Hit 'Em.

One Sam Jones, experienced and clever in big league ways, did the hurling for the visitors and might have made quite a close battle of it if it hadn't been for Eddie Collins and Happy Felsch. Those two sluggers of the south side crew wrecked his ambitions, aspirations, and everything.

Eddie knocked in three runs, and Hap knocked in a couple, and that, with a couple knocked in by Schalk and one driven home by Jackson, made it an abominable day for the Boston pitcher.

In the fourth round, soon after Schalk had driven home two runs with a single, Eddie Collins poled a home run with two fellows on the runway. After that blow by Eddie, the game was sewed up and salted down and put on ice, and everything else that makes a thing sure. Mr. Jones stuck to the job to the finish, but he wasn't comfortable.

Ruth Fans in a Pinch.

A lot of people went out just to see Ruth swat the ball, so he had to make good. However, those same patrons enjoyed it immensely in the fourth inning, when the game was close and Boston had a runner on second with one out, and Ruth fanned. The big Boston slugger simply shook his head and walked to the bench after taking a home run swing at the ball and missing. Probably his admirers enjoyed that more than anything he could have done.

However, later on Ruth showed them how the ball can be hit to the fence by poling a couple of doubles against Comiskey's right field wall. The wall wasn't damaged any according to the groundkeeper.

Vitt Doubles in the First.

It was Oscar Vitt and Harry Hooper who made it tough for Williams in the first. Oscar lammed one for two sacks and Hooper drove him home. Then the Sox came up and Liebold walked and went to third on E. Collins' single. Weaver dropped one safely behind third base, but E. Collins was forced and Liebold held second. Jackson then produced a sacrifice fly that let Nemo come in and tie the count.

In the fourth Felsch slammed one against the wall in left for two sacks and was cut off at third when Gandil tried to bunt him along. However, McMullin singled, sending Chick to third and taking second on the throw, then Schalk singled, sending both men home. Williams bunted Schalk along and Liebold walked, after which E. Collins drove a beauty to the wall in right center.

Collins Outwits Enemy.

Eddie faked a stop at third after sending his two mates homes, but he didn't stop, though the enemy thought he did. Eddie just kept on jogging around the far corner and then legged it for home, though the ball had been heaved back to second base, and finally fired at the plate, only to have the pitcher intercept it, never thinking that Eddie would do such a daring thing as to go on home. However, Eddie did go home and from then on Boston wasn't in it.

Liebold's pass, E. Collins' single, and Felsch's two bagger got two in the seventh, and Schalk's single, Williams' sacrifice, and Liebold's single added one in the eighth, while the south siders were practicing.

In the seventh Hooper was hit, took third on Ruth's double, and scored on Schang's sacrifice fly. Ruth's second double, McInnis' infield hit, and Schang's sacrifice fly got another in the ninth, but no one cared.

NOTES

The final game with Boston will take place today.

It looks now as if either Cicotte or Dick Kerr will be on the rubber.

Boss Comiskey of the south siders returned from a fishing trip yesterday in time to see his athletes win.

One of the interested spectators was "Sport" Hermann, boss of the Cort theater and part owner of the Red Sox. He wasn't exactly pleased with the outcome.

Wounded soldiers and sailors watched the game from the grandstand, and while they were watching a corps of Salvation Army lassies came forth with doughnuts and ice cream and almost made the fellows think they were back in the big fight.

Buck Weaver was mad at Eddie Collins in the first inning because Eddie failed to make second when Buck dropped the ball safely out behind third. Collins was forced at second, thereby depriving Buck of a base hit. Enough to make any live fellow mad.

It was announced by the Boston club that Carl Mays had left for Cleveland to rest up for the series there between Boston and the Indians. Another report was that he had gone to Boston. One said he was badly jarred by being hit on the head by Schang's peg to second Sunday, and another said he wasn't hurt at all. Seems to be some mystery about Mr. Mays.

The general impression is that with one more reliable pitcher Gleason will breeze through a winner in the American league race. It also is understood that either Cleveland or New York would have a good chance with another pitcher. The rumor is that there is a good pitcher on the market, and that Comiskey is ready to top any bid for him and will get him providing one of the two rivals isn't given an inside track.

MRS. JACKSON IS LOW IN WOMEN'S EXMOOR TOURNEY

Former National Champ Turns In an 84 in One Day Event.

Mrs. Arnold H. Jackson, national champion in 1908 and 1914, won the low gross prize in the one day event at Exmoor yesterday under the auspices of the Women's Western Golf association. Her score of 84 was remarkably good, considering the heat and a high wind. Mrs. C. W. McNear of Exmoor had low net of 103—24—79, Mrs. W. S. Forrest of Exmoor being second with 105—25—80.

Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, the national champion, and Mrs. Howard O'Brien won the two ball event with a card of 39. Mrs. A. H. Jackson and Mrs. Howard Linn of Onwentsia, 48—7—41, tied with Mrs. A. B. McCaughey and Mrs. H. L. Glidden, 54—13—41, tied for low net, the former pair winning the playoff. Sixty-three players competed.

Ad Men at Hinsdale Tuesday.

The July tournament of the Western Advertising Golfers' association, scheduled for today at Hinsdale, has been postponed until next Tuesday.

Mrs. A. Rondot and Mrs. M. Corcoran won the one club event for women staged by the Garfield Women's Golf club, getting a total of 33. Miss E. Hursen won the match play event, Mrs. H. Newcomb getting low gross of 77. Mrs. Piper won the Von Lengerke trophy after a tie with Mrs. Corcoran. Mrs. Newcomb had low gross of 84.

Exmoor golfers are interested in the military ball and supper on Saturday night. It is a formal "howdy" to forty members of the club who served in the army and navy. Gold medals will be presented to those who were in active service.

Start Cook County Play.

Play in the two day tournament for women at Windsor will start tomorrow, and at Garfield Park the qualifying round for the Cook county open championship will be staged. Entries for the Cook county event close tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at 4057 West Congress street.

The Ridge Country club will stage a one day tournament for women on July 18.

Charles Rathbun shot a fine score of 39—37—76 at Calumet, playing in a four ball match with Frank Koller and Elmer and Walter Eulass.

EITHER Fred McMullin, third baseman of the Sox, has a lot of ability or else a lot of luck. Anyway, he was a bench warmer for the Sox back in 1917 when they were going badly in a tough battle for the pennant. Buck Weaver was playing third and one day along in August, got his finger broke in a game at Washington. It looked as if the Sox had lost the pennant because it seemed no one could fill Weaver's place, but McMullin was stuck in there and did great work, his batting and fielding having much to do with the final result.

In fact, McMullin set such a merry pace that when Weaver's fractured finger healed, instead of putting him back on third, he was placed at short, supplanting Risberg. McMullin stayed on the third base job clear through the world's series.

When the Sox started out this year, Weaver was at third again, Risberg was at short again and McMullin was a bench warmer. Down in St. Louis on June 28, Boss Gleason decided that McMullin should be in the game, so he put Weaver on short, removed Risberg and sent McMullin to his old job at third. Since then, the Sox have battled their way back to first place and McMullin's defensive as well as his offensive playing has had much to do with it.

ATHLETIC STARS FOR OLYMPIC AT CAMP DIX SOUGHT

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—No stone is to be left unturned to make the coming American Olympic games at Camp Dix, Aug. 31 and Sept 1, a most successful meet. One of the hustlers of the event is Secretary Fred Wandle of the K. of C. at Camp Dix, who is working night and day to insure the entry of every crack athlete of the U. S. A., both here and abroad.

William P. Larkin, overseas director of the K. of C., cabled William J. Mulligan, chairman of the war activities of the K. of C., who is now in Paris, to sign up all the stars of the interallied meet, which recently ended there in a blaze of glory for the American expeditionary force.

Invitations are being sent out to every well known marathon runner of the last few years to participate in the long run that will be conducted in connection with the big meet from City Hall, Trenton, to Camp Dix.

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, a Philadelphia society leader, has donated money to lay out several courts at Camp Dix, so that a tennis tournament may be held in conjunction with the meet.

MARSHALL FIELDS WANT GAMES.

VOX POP ON ILLINOIS TROUT.

HOOPESTON, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—In a recent issue of THE TRIBUNE you stated that you have been collecting considerable data on Illinois streams that should be stocked with trout.

There is a small stream, known as Pine creek, which is very near the Illinois and Indiana state line, running through Benton and Warren counties, and emptying into the Wabash at Attica, Ind. It runs by Mudlavia, and is a stream that is spring-fed and will be an excellent stream for trout.

If you know of any method by which we could get some trout to stock this stream at Mudlavia we would be glad to do so. Pine creek should be a very good stream for trout. Yours truly,

J. H. D.

Editor's Note: Guess we have started something with our talks about Illinois trout. We are getting some excellent data and the further we go into the subject the more convinced we become that we can have trout fishing in this state. The state fisheries department intends to run the new Spring Grove hatchery full blast on trout next winter and it is up to us fellers to see that they get the dope to where they should be put when hatched.]

WHEELER PICKED AS PRESIDENT OF STATE CUE BODY

New Billiard Organization Launched with Goal of 100,000 Members.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Having for it's slogan "100,000 members," the Illinois Billiard association was organized yesterday afternoon at the Randolph hotel.

Dr. Ralph H. Wheeler of the Chicago Athletic association was elected president, Rufus Chapin of the Union Trust company, treasurer, and T. B. Wadleigh, secretary.

There will be fifteen vice presidents, ten of whom will be from cities outside of Chicago. These will be appointed by a committtee consisting of the officers and Charles Reading, Frank Pasdeloup, Peter Howley, L. A. Denny, and H. A. Cassidy of Spring Valley, Ill.

Seventy-five Keepers Attend.

The meeting was thoroughly represented, seventy-five roomkeepers being present, a number coming from outside points. Eighty-seven joined before the meeting and the total was brought to over a hundred during the session.

W. V. Thompson of the National Billiard Advisory board, who opened the gathering, stated there were 22,260 tables in Illinois, representing 300,000 players.

Six Other States Organized.

Thompson outlined the formation of associations in the six other states which have already organized and stated that the billiardists of Texas, already had spent $60,000 in combating adverse legislation. This expense might have been saved if the players of Texas had organized in time.

He also stated that a law had been framed in Tennessee prohibiting the running of a billiard room within three miles of a church or school, but this had been sidetracked by the efforts of the state association.

The object of the Illinois association will be to promote clean billiards. The roomkeepers present yesterday will sign up the players in their rooms, and this action will be followed by others all over the state. A constitution and by-laws were adopted.

SHOOT FOR TROPHY TODAY.

Members of the Chicago Sharpshooters' association will compete today at Palos Park. The event will be held to determine the holder of the William Hale Thompson trophy. Shooting will start at 2:30 p. m.

INTERLAKE EVENT STARTS TODAY

Put-in-Bay, O., July 14.—Hundreds of boats of all kinds took part in the squadron sail of the Interlake Yachting association victory regatta here today.

The review was led by the flagship Transient of Detroit, the official ship of the regatta, which carried Commodore R. George Marsh and other officials.

The squadron sail was the only important feature of today's events, actual competition not being scheduled to start until tomorrow.

A warlike aspect was lent to the regatta by the arrival from Detroit of the Eagle No. 13, in command of Lieut. S. L. Shade; the government patrol yacht Virginia, and the patrol Ionela from the Detroit naval training station.

Other trophies, awarded for time prize winners, novices who make a good showing, and high finishers, include shields, medals, and cups. John W. Weske, at club quarters, Kedzie and Milwaukee avenues, has the entry blanks.

SEARS-ROEBUCK TENNIS.

Paul R. Gray and C. B. Marks won the doubles trophy in the annual tennis tournament of Sears-Roebuck employes yesterday afternoon. Julius Rosenwald umpired the match. Gray and Marks defeated Harry Jeser and Gilbert Rosenthal, 8—7, 9—7, 8—3, 8—4. The final in singles will be played Monday, Gray opposing Marks. Marks already has two legs on the singles trophy, and will retain it permanently if he wins from Gray.

Tilden and Hardy Clash in Clay Court Tourney Today

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

It will be champion against champion in the fifth rounds of the national clay court tennis tournament this afternoon, with Bill Tilden of Philadelphia, 1918 singles winner, playing Sam Hardy of Chicago, one of the 1918 doubles winners and the singles winner in 1917. The match starts at 4 o'clock.

Tilden entered the advanced bracket by a victory over C. L. Johnston Jr. of Chicago, former New Yorker, 6-2, 6-2. Tilden's fancy shots and hard hit drives gave him the mastery from the start. Hardy stepped through three rounds during the day. In the fourth bracket he qualified to play Tilden when he eliminated the last of the three Filipino players, Alfredo Marasigan, 6-1, 6-2.

Fifty-nine matches were concluded yesterday afternoon before the combined rain and wind squall stopped play. The day's schedule was by far the heaviest of the tourney. The courts sparkled with fast play.

Billy Johnston a Winner.

Billy Johnston of San Francisco met an unexpectedly tough opponent in Alister McCormick, local club man, but won, 6-4, 6-2, after McCormick held the lead at times. The high wind made it hard for Johnston to control his tremendous forehand.

President L. Harry Waldner of the Western Lawn Tennis association turned a surprise in another third round match. Waldner, who won his first western championship title in 1902, upset Theodore R. Drewes of St. Louis, present St. Louis and Missouri champion, 6—1, 2—6, 6—2.

Heath Byford, one of the local favorites, helped make it a bad afternoon for St. Louis players. Byford defeated Davison Obear of St. Louis, 6—3,6—4. Obear had put out Harold Bartel of Cleveland in the previous round. W. Haase of St. Louis fell before Vin Richards, the New York boy star, 6—2, 6—3.

Chicago Stars Advance.

Like Byford, other Chicago favorites continued to advance. Jimmy Weber has a fine chance to reach one of the advanced rounds. He drew one of the few soft spots in the draw. George J. O'Connell, the fast local youngster, progressed to the fourth round by a default, but this afternoon will play against the fastest youngster ever produced in Chicago "hope," Ralph Burdick, came through the third round without being extended seriously. He defeated Don Wiley of Evanston, 6—4, 6—1. Walter Hayes, western champion, did not play. Hayes won a default. Green meets a worthy opponent today in J. B. Adone of Dallas.

Women's matches will start tomorrow, this afternoon being devoted to a continuation of men's play in both singles and doubles. The contestants must show up at 2 o'clock the committee ruled. The summaries, out-of-town men being indicated:

VAUGHN, UNDER PRESSURE, LANDS VICTORY FOR CUBS, 5 TO 3

BOSTON BRAVES START RALLY IN SEVENTH ROUND

Errors Add to Troubles but Hippo Finishes Without Relief.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Boston, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—With an even break in the luck today, the Cubs won the second game of their campaign here, 5 to 3, although there was a time when it looked as if Hippo Vaughn could not finish.

The Mitchells got busy early in the matinée and hammered Al Demaree so hard he was withdrawn by the pinch hitter route after four tallies had been knocked out of him in six innings. Larry Cheney, also a former Cub, tried himself out in the last three rounds and was hit hard, but for only one more counter.

Vaughn restrained the Braves with marked success for five spasms, during which only two of them reached first base and nobody ventured farther.

Boston Cluster in Seventh.

In the fifth, however, Hippo began to waver and dug a hole for himself with two bases on balls. He yanked himself out of that situation brilliantly without letting a run count.

In the seventh Vaughn's support blew out a couple of times and the Braves scored all their runs off him. There were a few more anxious moments in the ninth, when Mitchell had a couple of Cubs warming up frantically, but bone-headed base-running by Keating, who was sprinting for Hero Gowdy, helped the Cubs to stop the final rally.

Poor Game; Costly Errors.

The game was poorly played on both sides and all the slips were costly. Demaree, who started the scrap, perpetrated most of the misdeeds of which a pitcher is capable, including a balk. Killefer and Hollocher failed Hippo in the dangerous seventh, and Flack lost a pop fly in the sun in the sixth when Vaughn first showed signs of needing help. But a boot by Riggert and poor play by Thorpe in left offset all the damage the Cubs' slips did.

Hollocher walked and stole second with one out in the opened. Magee scored him with a single, took second on a wild pitch and registered on Merkle's double over third. Demaree's balk let Fred to third, but he was left there by a couple of pop flies.

Pick Scores on Single.

Demaree stopped his former pals until the fourth, when Pick led with a single over second, and Riggert let it roll through him far enough to permit Charles to go clear around the bases with a run.

Pick and Thorpe were responsible for the fourth Cub tally. Charles hoisted a little fly back of third and Thorpe tried for it on the fly, but could not connect and before Jim could reverse his levers Pick was on third. Thorpe then muffed Deal's fly, but it was long enough to have scored Pick anyway. Cheney was tagged for two hits in the seventh, and these, aided by Flack's steal, counted the fifth tally for us.

Lucky Seventh for Braves.

Up to now the Braves had done nothing but threaten in the sxith. The seventh was their lucky round. Holke and Boeckel scratched infield hits and scored on Smith's clean double to center before a hand was out. Gowdy walked. While Cheney was trying to sacrifice, Killefer made a wild chuck to second and the runners advanced to third and second. Cheney whiffed but Hollocher booted Maranvilles bounder and let Smith score. Herzog popped out and Riggert rolled the side out.

Smith led in the ninth with a single, but was forced by Gowdy. Keating went on to run for Gowdy and reached second when Tragessor took Cheney's bat and ripped a single to left. Maranville sent a safe one crashing to right and Keating foolishly tried to score on it. He was out by yards and Herzog popped.

Dodgers Farm Aitcheson to Get More Experience

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—President Charles H. Ebbetts of the Brooklyn baseball club, has announced the release of Leiter Aitcheson, pitcher and outfielder, to Rochester of the International league. Aitcheson is a Baltimore college player for whom a future similar to that of Babe Ruth has been predicted. He is said to be an all around player, much after the fashion of Ruth, and is a heavy hitter. Ebbetts declared he released the Baltimore lad so that he could obtain some needed experience.

Thorpe Back on Gridiron When Football Play Opens

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Despite reports to the contrary, Jim Thorpe does not intend to forego participation in professional football. The idea that the redskin had retired from the gridiron sport gained credence last year when everything was at a standstill. It is understood Thorpe is considering the managership of a Canton team of professionals, and if this fails he plans to affiliate himself with some other professional team near Cleveland.

Notes

Boston, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—Two more scraps here, tomorrow and Wednesday.

Vaughn had Thorpe on his staff most of the afternoon, striking him out three times in succession.

Paskert made a bully play to hold Smith's hit in the seventh down to a two bagger. It looked like a home run to the fence when it started, but Paskert headed it off by great sprinting.

The Cubs hit Cheney hard in the eighth without result. Merkle, Pick, and Deal all smashed hot bounders to Maranville, who came up with all three of them and beat his man to first each time.

Killefer ought to have had a perfect batting average. He ripped off three hard drives, but only two of them went safe because Boeckel pinched the third at the risk of losing his hand. Bill walked the last time.

Vaughn started passing the Braves in the sixth, giving Gowdy and Rawlings their bases with none out. Maranville flied and so did Herzog, but Flack lost the latter's loft in the sun and let it fall for a single which filled the bases. Vaughn rose to the emergency by striking out Riggert and Thorpe.

New York, July 14.—New York regained the lead in the National league today, defeating Pittsburgh in the third of the series, 5 to 4.

Causey and Winters also were easy for Pittsburgh, but Dubuc held the visiting batters in check. Only one Giant reached base on Carlson, who succeeded Miller in the third inning. Score:

In the Wake of the News

By JACK LAIT

DIARY OF A TENDERHOOF.

MOOSEJAW, Sask., July 14.—So this here is the Paris of Saskatchewan. It looks like an overgrown location for a western movie, and I'm informed, I am, that it is the buckle of the great Canadian wheat belt. I thought that this whole town being monicked after one small portion of one moose, the meese must be thick up this way. But not one do I glom, although I see some weird animal life on the main stem.

Here I clap my peeps on a Northwest mounted. He's lit up like he just steps out of a musical show, with a scarlet jacket all sprinkled with brass knobs, sassy boots and spurs, and a band under his chin that holds on his funny kelly. I looks around for Lenore Ulric, but she wasn't.

The western Canadian farmer is very Iowa in his appearance, appurtenances, and deportment. His views on life is varied, being cut up among hoping wheat will go up, salt pork will go down, and strangers will go on. He has many kids, he has, and watches them grow, he does, with enthusiasm het up by the high cost of field labor. He is intolerant of metropolitan methods of thought and regards Calgary as a mess of sin and Winnipeg as his dream of iniquity, only to be hated and longed for, but never to be seen with the nude eye.

As the good steel steed wafts me westward I see vistas of waving wheat, bow legged daughters of Caledonian agriculturists, and many maimed heroes of the war. These are the outstanding features of Saskatchewan.

There is a penitentiary here, too, where foreigners linger for protracted periods, the Canadians being law abiding parties who frame statutes that they know they won't break and they know outsiders will. Among them are as fine a set of burglar tools regarding traffic in liquor as ever was wrote by the pen of fiends. It is a sin and a crime here not only to drink alcoholic fiends, but to even think them.

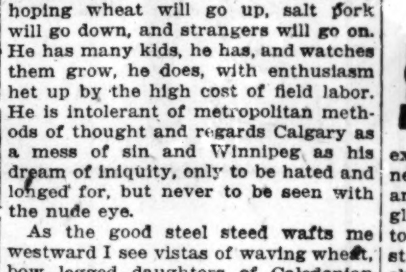

This is not far from Medicine Hat, and, although the weather just at this here writing is tolerably torrid, I'm told it gets disgustingly cold here around the ides of October and remains a hunk of ice thereafter until the gladsome spring melts the frost shackles of bitter winter.

During the period of cheerless chill, they say, some of the natives would take a chance with the dry laws were it not that a true Saskatchascatchcaner would rather die of cold for want of stimulants than die of remorse for taking the trunk strap off his roll.

The honest husbandman is a study in toil, temperance, and freckles, not to be so rude as to again mention thrift.

In Saskatchewan, which is known as a community of grain raisers, to whom we are indeed indebted for the staff of life, to be freshly shaved is to be viewed with suspicion, and to flash silk socks is to invite arrest as a white slaver.

I can hardly wait to get to Banff, where I am to put on crude clothes and exit laughingly into the forest fastnesses where lurks the frisking fish and nature in its every manifestation glistens. The snow studded mountain top calleth me and the unbeaten trail stretches out its arms unto the alien child of the asphalt walk and the near marble lobby.

I come. I come! Nature, your child is on the way, just as fast as the Canadian Pacific can carry him, his nostrils distended for a breath of the ozone of the wilds, his uncalloused hooks itching for the touch of paddle, reis, rod, rifle, and other machinery regarding which he knows so less. I come. Bet two dollars I come!

RING FANS PLAN TO ORGANIZE FOR LAW IN ILLINOIS

Attempts to secure boxing legislation in Illinois are not dead. This was revealed recently when two downstate members of the legislature—both of whom supported the boxing bill—and a representative of some 600 or 700 down state returned soldiers, came to Chicago to try to line up the political "powers" here for an organizatoin to make boxing in Illinois a clear cut issue in state elections until there is a law on the statute books permitting it.

"The failure of Gov. Lowden to sign the bill will cost more than one man his seat at Springfield," said one of the legislative members. "In spite of the fact I supported the bill, I'm not so sure an effort will not be made to replace me with an ex-soldier at the next legislative election. The men I have talked to declare they do not blame the governor. They assert that if the members of the general assembly had come out flatfooted for a real boxing bill—the kind the soldiers favored—a bill would have been passed which the governor would have signed." So the soldiers, at least those in my district, are out for the scalps of the entire general assembly."

The representative of the soldier organization, an attorney and politician who gave up a lucrative practice to go overseas with one of the first American contingents, declared the returned soldiers intended to "chase the mollycoddle out of public life."

EASTERNERS URGE AN AGE LIMIT IN PUGILISTIC RANKS

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—There is a growing sentiment among those who have the best interests of the boxing game at heart that an age limit should be placed on boxers. The outcome of the Willard-Dempsey, and the Jeffries-Johnson affairs has shown the futility of men trying to fight for championships when they are unfitted by prolonged ring inactivity and by age. This is a question which will sooner or later come before the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control, which aims to readjust conditions governing the sport in this country.

It is advocated that the bexinb commissions of the different states where the sport is permitted should make a rule barring boxers who reach the age of 35 years. In many cases, it would be advisable to make the age limit even lower.

GRAND CIRCUIT TROTS AT KALAMAZOO.

Exhaust Echoes

by SHEPPARD BUTLER

A CAMPAIGN for a $5,000,000 Cook county good roads bond issue, to be voted on at the November election, was formally launched last evening at a meeting held in Blue Island by highway enthusiasts from various towns south of Chicago.

This is by far the largest good roads bond issue project ever undertaken in Cook county. It is designed to tide over the county's roadbuilding work until 1921, when the marketing of the state $60,000,000 bond issue is scheduled to begin.

Until that time, county officials explained at the meeting, no funds will be available for road work hereabouts except on the few highways designated as federal aid routes. When the county work now under way is completed, therefore, things will be at a standstill until further money is made available.

Among those who urged the bond issue plan were William Busse, chairman of the county board's roads and bridges committee; George Quinlan, county superintendent of highways, and William G. Edens, president of the Illinois Highway Improvement association.

Resolutions indorsing the project were carried unanimously and plans were made to start a campaign throughout the county at once. First steps will be taken today when commissioners from the townships northwest of Chicago meet for a conference at the county building.

At the Blue Island meeting also the Blue Island Automobile club was reorganized after being in a comatose condition for several years, and arrangements made to affiliate with similar organizations in other parts of the county.

Dempsey's Trainer Terms Willard a Game Fighter

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Jimmie De Forest, who trained Jack Dempsey for the Willard fight, today came out in defense of the ex-champion.

"I would like to say a few words for Willard," said De Forest. "It is really distasteful to me to hear anybody say that Jess quit. The remarkable part of the whole affair was that Willard lasted three rounds. He took a frightful beating, having many of his teeth removed at different times, in addition to being floored often. Jess is as game a man as ever entered the ring, and I bar nobody when I make that statement."

TOLEDO BATTLE GOES 3 ROUNDS, RING BOARD VIEW

"Tribune" Decisions

At Philadelphia—Lew Tendler defeated Joe Welling [6]. Ted Lewis defeated Steve Latzo [6]. Joe Tiplitz knocked out George K. O. Chaney [3]. Harry Greb defeated Battling Levinsky [6]. Eddie Moy defeated Harry Pierce [6].

New York, July 14.—The board of boxing control, in an official statement issued tonight, announced that but forty-seven seconds of the third rest period had elapsed in the Dempsey-Willard bout when Willard's seconds tossed a towel into the ring as a token of defeat. The board also decided that the bout at Toledo on July 4 ended in the third round. These decisions were made as a result of numerous inquiries received from all parts of the country.

Statement by Emple.

The statement, which was signed by Adam Empie, secretary to the board, is as follows:

"A report having been widely circulated that W. Warren Barbour, timekeeper appointed by this board for the Willard-Dempsey contest, had written to Mr. Pecord, the referee, stating that the interval of one minute between the third and fourth rounds had expired before Willard's seconds threw a towel into the ring, I beg to state that Mr. Barbour has written no such letter, and further that the statement reported to be contained in the alleged letter is contrary to the fact, as only forty-seven seconds had expired in the interval referred to when the signal of defeat was given by Willard's seconds.

Not Settling Wagers.

"The board is in no way concerned with wagers that have been made on the contest, but as a number of inquiries have been received, it has considered the question of when the contest terminated in all its bearings, and the board has decided that it should be regarded as having ended in the third round."

TENDLER VICTOR OVER WELLING

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—Lew Tendler of Philadelphia defeated Joe Welling of Chicago in a hard six round bout at Shibe park tonight. Tendler's punches were cleaner and harder. Welling was bleeding from a cut under his eye at the finish.

Joe Tiplitz, Philadelphia, knocked out George "K. O." Chaney of Baltimore in the third round with a right hand uppercut to the jaw.

Ted [Kid] Lewis, former welterweight champion, had the better of a six round bout with Steve Latzo of Hazleton, Pa. Lewis was knocked down twice in the first round, but weathered Latzo's attack and came back strong.

Britton and Lewis May Battle in Jersey City

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Jack Britton, recognized welterweight champion, and Ted (Kid) Lewis, former title holder, are reported to have signed for an eight round bout, to be held at the Armory A. A. of Jersey City, July 28. Under the terms of the contract, Britton will box on a guarantee and Lewis on a percentage of the receipts.

Some suits made of excellent lightweight fabrics become shabby and bedraggled in appearance after a little wear. Others simply remain neat and well-fitting, dropping gracefully, after long wear, into a becoming, "loungy" appearance.

The difference is often more in the tailoring than in the quality of fabric. The craft of tailoring summer fabrics is here developed almost to a fine art.

Metropolitan

Beginning with the August issue, out today, the Metropolitan will be "Two Magazines in One." It will be the same big purposeful, fighting magazine and in addition it will publish in every number as many short stories as you usually find in purely fiction magazines. Only these stories—8 in all—will be one of the same quality and sincerity that discerning readers have come to associate with the Metropolitan.

The Metropolitan has created the super magazine. It leads here as it lead before in being:

The first magazine in the luxurious, "flat", large page, size magazine

The first big magazine to bring to its cover reproductions the richness of the rubber off set color printing

The first magazine to champion preparedness, which brought to its pages and editorial board the vigorous Americanism of Theodore Roosevelt

The first magazine to voice the surge of an awakened America to her grim duty in the World War.

Now we have planned to make the Metropolitan so big—so good—so overwhelmingly the biggest magazine value that its power as a great national moulder of opinion shall be double and trebled. Thirty-two brilliant brains have fused their efforts into the making of the August Metropolitan. From the Garden of Eden to the South Sea Islands the romance, the adventure, the mystery and joy of brave living is reflected in its pages.

Leonard Wood now in the Metropolitan

Wood is one of the great outstanding figures of the war. When Roosevelt died we asked General Wood to carry on Colonel Roosevelt's Page in the Metropolitan. He agreed. And since then thousands of Americans have given their enthusiastic approval of our choice. Every month there is a contribution by General Wood in the Metropolitan. It is the blunt, fearless expression of a straight thinking man on one of the great issues of the day. Read in the August Metropolitan of the far reaching work Uncle Sam is doing for his returned fighting sons. Here is no second hand story, but the inside account of a notable national effort told by General Wood himself.

A Broadside of Literary Excellence heretofore unapproached

Kermit Roosevelt's Story

Always a lover of adventure, can you imagine the reaction of this young Roosevelt to the grim life and death business of war, fighting the Turk in the Holy Lands? In the thousands years old country of familiar Biblical names and places, Kermit Roosevelt played a man's part in the most dramatic and picturesque theatre of the Great War. Imagine fighting caravans of camels and Fords! Or Rolls Royces with machine guns skimming the plains, searching out of their nests the swarthy allies of the Kaiser! Kermit Roosevelt's own story, told by himself, is in the August Metropolitan.

Tarkington has done it again!

About three years ago William Sylvanus Baxter, the young hero of the "Seventeen" stories, made his first appearance in the pages of the Metropolitan.

After successful journeys to the hearts of millions of Americans through the appeal of book, the film and the stage he is back with us again this month and Booth Tarkington promises us further adventures of William Sylvanus grappling with the mighty problems that come with the 'teen years.

In "Girl, Girl, Girl" in the August Metropolitan Tarkington tells of the return of William Sylvanus Baxter from college and his heart breaking and stomach shattering adventures in Burfree's Drug Store. William joins the Great Army of brave males who for a triumph of the heart have destroyed with the sacrificial fires of indigestion a perfectly good stomach!

Read this story aloud to the folks at home tonight and your reward will be their chuckles.

A famous man is the authority for an astounding revelation

The most astounding evidence of messages from the invisible world is in the August Metropolitan. The authority for these revelations is Ralph Adam Cram, the architect of St. Johns Cathedral. Mr. Cram tells of sensational messages that have come through to a group of noted Englishmen since 1907. These messages made possible the successful excavation of the east wing of the Gastonbury Cathedral, the existence of which was a mooted question for over a hundred years. Other messages came through dealing with the World War and foretelling its conception, and the Allies triumphant—even to the exact date of the collapse of the German line in the West. Another world convulsion has been prophesied by the same spirit influence. Mr. Cram describes it. Will it happen?

DAYLIGHT REPEAL VETO UPHELD IN HOUSE, 247-135

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Advocates of the repeal of the daylight saving laws failed in an attempt today to pass it over the president's veto, lacking eight votes of the necessary two-thirds.

The agricultural appropriation bill, carrying the repeal, was then referred to the agricultural committee, which will report it back to the house minus that section. While the agricultural committee is strongly in favor of the repeal there seems no other alternative than to strike it out.

Ballot Is 247 to 135.

The vote on the proposition was 247 to 135, the total necessary to pass it over the president's veto being 255.

With few exceptions, members representing districts with a predominating rural population voted to pass the bill. The city members voted to sustain the president. Party politics did not figure. Those who voted to sustain the president included seventy-four Republicans, sixty Democrats, and one Prohibitionist.

Seven of the nine Chicago representatives, who were present, voted to sustain the president. They were Madden, J. W. Rainey, Sabath, McAndrews, Gallagher, Britten, and Chindblom.

Rural Members' Vote.

The districts of the two, Wilson and Juul, who voted against the veto, extend into the suburban territory surrounding Chicago. Representative at Large Yates, whose home is in Springfield, voted to sustain the president. Without exception every other downstate member voted to pass the bill. The list included Copley, Fuller, McKenzie, Graham, Ireland, Smith, Cannon, McKinley, Wheeler, Rodenberg, Brooks, Williams, and Denison.

The agricultural committee will not meet until Wednesday. In the meantime the agricultural department has no money with which to pay salaries due tomorrow.

CALL LAW UNJUST

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

[Garden Editor of The Tribune.]

With the return of President Wilson from Europe the question of daylight saving was renewed. He has vetoed the daylight saving law and now the house has refused to override his veto. The rural element regards the law as the greatest injustice ever forced upon the American farmer and that it has set false standards. Many of them phrase it daylight waste law instead of daylight saving law.

When the bill was brought up to be repealed this spring many farmers said they did not know it had become a law, and had always regarded it as a war-time measure. As soon as they found out the truth they bitterly resented it, and at least 99 per cent of the farmers fought it in every way possible. But the townspeople favored it.

Interviews with farmers and stockmen who visit the Chicago live stock market indicate that they are unanimously agreed on their objections to the advanced time.

Iowa Farmer's Views.

"As a war-time measure and to be patriotic," said Joseph Hall of Charlton, Ia., "we were willing to go by the new time, but now, after the war, we see no reason for it. It is a damage to all farmers, and practically every man in my part of the country has declared it a nuisance and is working by standard time.

"We had a big crop last year and had to work hard to save it, and did not kick, but we are going to this time. There is an endless amount of work to be done on the farms; labor is scarce, and if we go by the advanced time thousands of acres of wheat, oats and hay would go to waste in the fields. Do the city people want us to quit work in the fields an hour earlier in the evening and allow our crops to perish and a consequent advance in food prices next fall? I don't think they do, but they are not willing to coöperate with us in having the daylight saving law repealed."

Missourian Protests.

L. J. Van Horne of Chula, Mo., said: "Farmers where I live are disregarding the advanced time wherever they can. It is very inconvenient for us to work under the old time, or sun time, while others have the new time. When I start to market with my cattle I set my watch up an hour, but when I get off the train and start back to my farm I'll set it back again.

"Those who do not believe the daylight scheme is a burden on the farmer may come out and see for themselves. If we were to go by the new time our horses and men have to be in the field between 12 and 1 o'clock, the hottest time of the day, when the thermometer is registering from 100 to 108 degrees. The new time forces us into the corn fields an hour earlier. While the heavy dew is on we have to lose one hour, because corn cultivated while wet breaks very easily, so we stay out of the fields.

"The same thing is true during hay harvest. We have to wait until the dew dries before we begin work, and the hired men naturally want to quit by the advanced time, so we lose an hour there. For that reason we don't pay much attention to the new time."

"This new time is causing a lot of trouble among the farmers," declared S. A. Harrison of Ainsworth, Ia. "Most of us carry the new time and work by the old time, but we have difficulty in making train connections and in our various dealings with the town merchants."

Woman Named by Mayor Thompson as Board of Local Improvements Member, Setting Precedent.

Mrs. Irene Pease Mantonya

Mrs. Irene Pease Mantonya of the Twenty-fifth ward, daughter of former Sheriff James Pease, is the first woman to hold a place on the Chicago board of local improvements. She was appointed as a member of the board yesterday by Mayor Thompson to succeed William H. Blencoe, whose term had expired.

Mrs. Mantonya has held various positions in the board office for two years. She said she favored a comprehensive subway system built by special assessment and with the aid of the city traction fund, early completion of the boulevard link and achievement of the Chicago plan. She wants a north side subway first, because she lives there.

"I consider my appointment a great honor and one that belongs to a woman," she said.

FARMERS OFFER 15 ARGUMENTS AGAINST DAYLIGHT SAVING

Forced to carry new and old time.

Farmers work by sun, not by clock.

Two Bathing Girls Fined for "Vamping" on Beach

Judge Trude imposed a $14 fine and a lecture on Fay and Pearl Cohen, 1441 South Spaulding avenue, who were taken in custody at a bathing beach Sunday by Policewoman Teresa Johnson on charge of "vamping" and disorderly conduct.

The girls brought their bathing suits to court, but they were not offered as evidence.

COUNCIL ORDERS CITY INQUIRY ON BEACH COSTUMES

$2,300 or We Will Strike, Say Fire Engineers in Ultimatum.

Another strike ultimatum was served on the city council yesterday. Engineers of the fire department, in a declaration signed by ten representatives, announced unless they received increases in pay which they are demanding they will "withdraw from the service on Saturday, July 19, at 8 a. m."

The engineers are now receiving $1,740 a year. In the appropriation bill just passed they were given $2,055, but are demanding $2,300. Their assistants, also threatening to strike, are receiving $1,520. The new rate is $1,820, but they are asking $2,250. The demands of the engineers were sent to the council finance committee, which will meet at 10 o'clock this morning, and will probably take up the ultimatum.

Order Beach Inquiry.

The council ordered an investigation of conditions obtaining at Chicago bathing beaches. Ald. Schwartz introduced the order, which directs the council committee on parks, bathing beaches, and playgrounds to make the inquiry.

"I know nothing about the conditions on the beaches," said Ald. Schwartz. "In view, however, of the remarks which have been made by the commissioner of public welfare something must be done to prove her assertions are either true or unfounded."

In a tour of the beaches Sunday Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, the public welfare commissioner, expressed herself as heartily in favor of some reforms in bathing costumes. Aldermen, as a whole, said they believed there is little need of change, either in the beach rules or in the costumes.

Charles R. Francis, commissioner of public works, who has charge of the beaches, said "people don't go to the beach to wear a lot of clothes; they go there to bathe."

Mayor Names Appointees.

Mayor Thompson submitted a small grist of belated appointments to the council. The council concurred in all of them. The appointees are:

WILLIAM BURKHARDT, who succeeds himself as deputy commissioner of public works.

WILLIAM H. WESBY, city collector, appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles Forsberg, now business manager of the school board.

CHARLES K. TODD, to succeed C. J. Herbert as a member of the board of examining plumbers.

The following were appointed directors of the public library: James J. Healy, Carl O. Beroth, who succeed themselves; Elliott W. Sproul, to succeed Samuel Gessler, and R. J. McLaughlin to succeed Edgar A. Jones, resigned.

David W. Clarke and Oscar Wolfe were reappointed to the board of local improvements and the mayor appointed Irene Pease Mantonya to succeed William H. Blencoe, whose term has expired. Mrs. Mantonya is the first woman member of the board of local improvements.

Raises Zone Law Point.

At the request of Ald. Kostner, an order sponsored by Ald. Thomas J. Lynch, directing that permits for industrial plants in residence neighborhoods be held up on protest pending passage of the municipal zoning ordinance, was sent to the committee on buildings.

Mayor Thompson vetoed a council order passed July 7 directing the installation of a waterpipe at 1916 Potomac avenue, the residence of Ald. Kunz. Commissioner Francis reported to the mayor "it has been the policy of the department, where additoinal service is required, to make such installation at the cost of the owner."

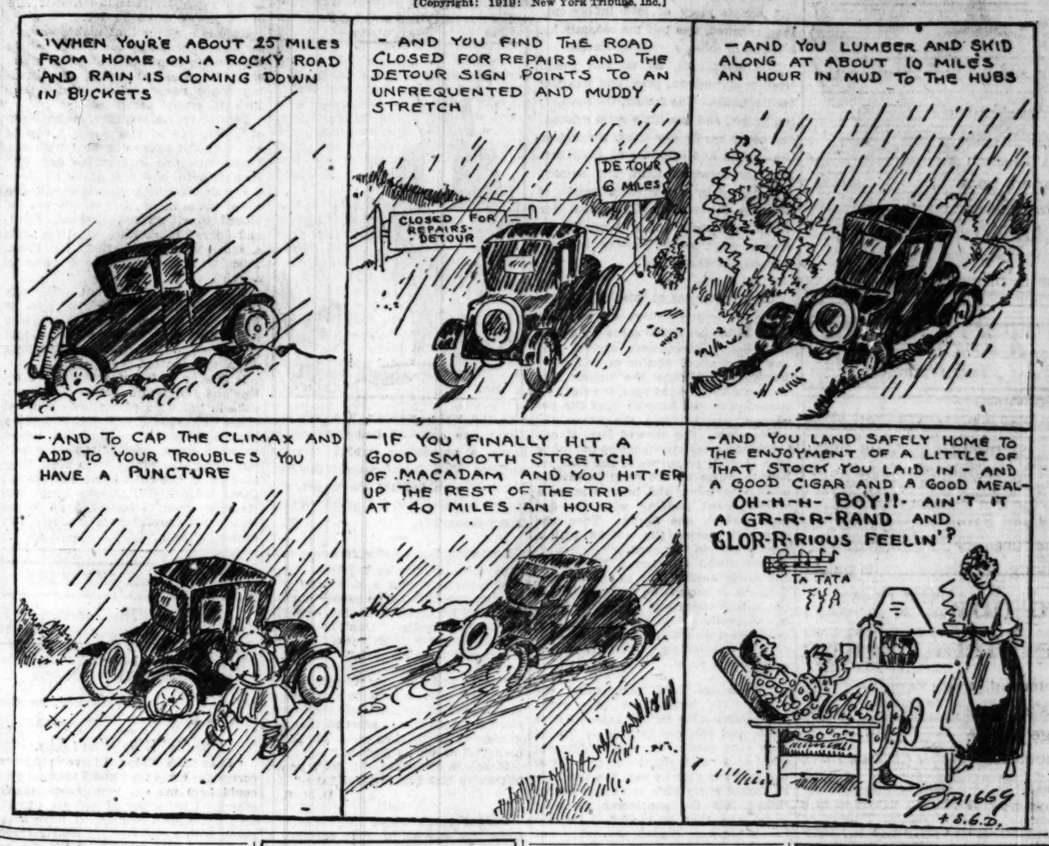

The council passed an order requesting an investigation, looking toward establishment of a municipal ice house in connection with the bridewell. Ald. Cermak believes the free labor at the house of correction may well be used to cut and put up ice in the winter for use of the city's poor six months later.

TRAIN KILLS UNIDENTIFIED MAN.

The mangled body of an unidentified man was found on the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad just north of Shermerville yesterday. No marks of identification were found.

LOUIS M. STUMER, REALTY HOLDER, MERCHANT, DIES

Owner of North American Building Succumbs in East.

Louis M. Stumer, joint owner of the North American building and one of Chicago's leading business men, died suddenly yesterday at New London, Conn., where he was visiting with his family. Acute indigestion was the cause. The body will be brought to Chicago for burial.

LOUIS M. STUMER

Mrs. Stumer and their three children, Louise Margaret, Aline Blanche, and Louis M. Jr., were at his bedside.

Owned Realty.

Aside from Mr. Stumer's varied real estate holdings, he was vice president of the Public Drug company, vice president of the Red Book magazine, and part owner of a number of women's garment and millinery concerns.

He was a member of the Illinois Athletic, Press, Standard, Ravisloe, and Idlewild clubs.

He was born in Baltimore in 1869. His father, Michael Stumer, moved to Chicago in 1870.

Opened Store in 1889.

The son was educated in the public schools and was graduated from Notre Dame college. Following this, he took a business course in a commercial institute in the city.

He studied law for a year in the offices of Rosenthal & Pence, and at the age of 18 he undertook the management of his father's dry goods store on West Madison street.

In 1889 he opened his own store at 170 State street. A year later he became senior member of the firm, Stumer, Rosenthal & Eckstein, which financed and developed a number of millinery and clothing establishments and dealt in real estate and leases. His partners were Benjamin J. Rosenthal and Louis Eckstein.

Mr. Stumer was married in 1900 to Miss Blanche Griesheimer.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

Former Gov. Edward F. Dunne yesterday stated that he heard no hissing of President Wilson's name at the De Valera massmeeting at Cubs park last Sunday afternoon. He said also that Frank P. Walsh did not hear any hisses, and he believed that both he and Mr. Walsh would have heard hisses had they been given utterance at the meeting. Mr. Ross Murphy, THE TRIBUNE reporter who covered the massmeeting, said he heard the hissing distinctly during Mayor Thompson's speech.

Elmer Douglass, THE TRIBUNE staff photographer, who was at the park, confirmed Mr. Murphy's report that there was hissing during Mayor Thompson's speech.

BANDITS SEIZE $1,002 AS GIRL FIGHTS IN VAIN

Despite her frantic resistance, Miss Goldie Pritikin, cashier for Belson & Laurie, commission merchants, 163 North Peoria street, was robbed by three automobile bandits yesterday afternoon of $1,002 she was taking to the Market Trust and Savings bank, Halsted and Madison streets.

One bandit, shabbily dressed, grabbed the money as she was starting across Washington boulevard at Peoria street. Another grasped her hands and compelled her to let go of the package. All three escaped in an auto. Before the police could finish questioning Miss Pritikin she became hysterical and had to be taken to her home, 2058 Potomac avenue.

Aron Nisenbaum, proprietor of the firm of Belson & Laurie, said with the exception of one check for $139 the entire bank deposit was currency.

Fire Boat Captures Scow In Midnight River Chase

A loaded stone scow, popularly known to workmen of the Great Lakes Dredge company as "The Good Ship Dan O'Leary," broke from its moorings in the river near Madison street shortly after midnight last night and started on an undirected cruise to the south. A bridgetender notified the police. The police notified the fireboat Graeme Stewart, and the latter chased the "Good Ship Dan O'Leary" into a corner and dragged her back, protesting but unharmed, to the commonplace existence of stone scowing, or whatever you call it.

PAINTS EXPLODE, ROCK SIX FLATS, BLOW OUT WALLS

Blast at First Laid to Bomb; Woman Has Narrow Escape.

A terrific explosion in the basement of a six flat building at 4511-15 Calumet avenue last night demolished the vestibule, tore heavy doors from their fastenings, smashed windows and blew out walls that were fourteen inches thick.

First reports were that a bomb had been exploded in front of the building on account of a colored family living there. Chief of Police Garrity heard this report, and was driven to the scene.

Paints Cause Blast.

After investigation the police and firemen decided that the explosion was caused by the combustion of paints, oils, turpentine, varnish and benzine stored in the basement. The stuff belonged to John O'Malley, owner of the building, who occupies the first floor of 4515.

Mrs. O'Malley had a narrow escape from death. She and other members of the family were sitting on the rear porch. The stove that heats water for the building was roaring, according to the police. Mrs. O'Malley was about to go down in the basement to shut off the stove when the explosion occurred.

"Another fifteen seconds," she said, "and I would have been in the basement. I certainly had a narrow escape."

Damage Set at $3,000.

Other tenants of the building besides the owner are: Henry C. Mock, Fred Grabenfelder, C. D. Harold, Peter Schille, Arthur Alexander, Mrs. Clara Estes, and William McGovern.

McGovern's furniture was partly demolished and some of the other occupants suffered losses. The damage to the building was estimated at $3,000.

WORK SCARCE FOR BIG JOB MEN BACK FROM WAR

Thousands of jobs for the $18 to $30 a week men but none for the big broad guage fellows who filled $3,000 to $10,000 a year positions before they dropped the pen and buckled on the sword.

This is a problem with which the directors of the soldiers and sailors federal employment bureau at 120 West Adams street, are wrestling harder and harder each day. It became such a persistent and serious problem yesterday that Maj. John S. Bonner, Lieut. W. E. Stanley and Capt. H. C. Mortenson, who have the matter in hand, called a special conference in connection with it.

"We have them here, most of them discharged officers from lieutenant colonels on down, many of them men of big ability, executives, experts in all lines of commerce and industry," said Maj. Bonner, "and we found that we can place hardly any of them."

"We have plenty of jobs for the $18 to $30 a week men," said Lieut. Stanley. "Last week for instance we were offered 4,000 places and placed 1,500 men in that wide field to select from. We have more jobs than we need for the little fellows, who have still to develop, but it's the big ones we have trouble with."

Third Rail Employes Demand 85 Cents an Hour

Aurora, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—Avowedly inspired by the demands of the Chicago street car men for 85 cents an hour, employés of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric railroad met at Wheaton tonight to formulate a request that they be paid the proposed Chicago scale. The increase in the case of the third rail car men amounts to 136 per cent. Their minimum now is 36 cents an hour. It was adopted last August, when the men were granted a 10 cent an hour increase. The A., E. & C. car employés are working under a two year agreement that has a year to run, but they contend that they can't meet their bills and will simply have to seek other employment if they don't get more money.

COUNCIL ACTS TO AVERT STRIKE OF STREET CAR MEN

Directs Mayor to Name a Commission of Nine to Solve Dispute.

It adopted a resolution directing the mayor to appoint a commission of nine members, consisting of himself, four aldermen, two representatives of the car men, and two representatives of the surface and elevated railroads, to report at once on what must be done to obtain uninterrupted transportation.

The mayor said he would "look carefully" into the project.

Calls City Powerless.

"On its face," he continued, "it looks as if there was a lot in what Ald. Cullerton had to say."

During the debate Cullerton had declared the city without power to act; had questioned the wisdom of the resolution, and had pointed out authority to increase fares—the real crux of the matter—rested solely in the state public utilities commission.

The mayor would not say when the commission would be named.

All parties to the controversy, however, expected its rapid development after tonight, when the unions expect that the roads will respond to their demand for a 37 cents an hour increase in pay, indorsed by 6,500 workers Friday night. Ten thousand in all are involved, of whom, 4,000 are employed by the elevated lines.

Road Chiefs Meet Today.

The street railways' board of operation will convene at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the call of President L. A. Busby and before nightfall, it is thought, the governing board of the overhead roads will convene. President Britton I. Budd refused to discuss the situation last night, but it became known he was even then attempting to arrange an hour for the meeting.

The council resolution was offered by Ald. Lynch, who obtained the consent of Ald. Adamowski to merge with it a resolution which the latter intended later to introduce.

Says Strike Means Chaos.

"A street car strike," Lynch asserted, "means business paralysis. The city's authority to intervene is ample: first, because it is a copartner with the surface lines, receiving 55 per cent of their profits; second, because the city government represents the people, who are vitally concerned.

"In 1915 the four day strike was a picnic; but conditions are different now. The I. W. W. is spreading unrest everywhere; interrupted transportation will mean chaos."

Cullerton thereupon proposed that the resolution be amended to direct the commission to confer with the public utilities commission. Ald. Woodhall indorsed the suggestion.

"The city is fighting higher car fares," he cautioned; "the proposed negotiations might compromise our position."

Resolution Is Adopted.

"Pass it!" shouted Lynch; and the resolution went through with a volley of "ayes." It follows:

"Whereas, Employés of the surface and elevated transportation lines have formulated a scale of increased wages, which, in their judgment, is absolutely necessary to provide them and their dependents with decent living conditions under the present era of oppressively high prices of food and other essentials of life, and

"Whereas, Presentation of the scale of increased wages by representatives of the employés has been followed by statements of officials of the surface and elevated transportation companies that the 5 cent fare on the surface lines and the 6 cent fare on the elevated lines will not permit of any increase in wages; that an increase of 4 to 5 cents over the present fare will be necessary before consideration can be given the requests of the employés for increases, and

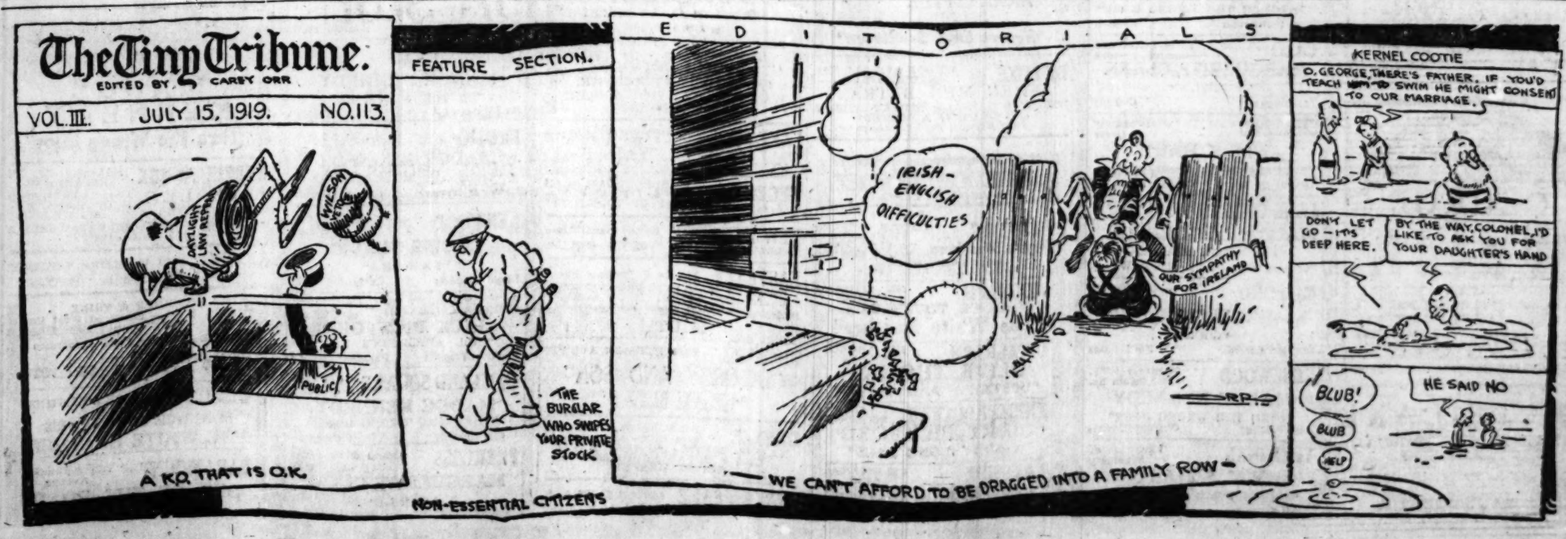

"Walkout a Calamity."

"Whereas, It has been reliably reported that failure of the companies to grant the increased wages sought by the men will be followed by a strike of both the surface and elevated transportation lines' employés, which would be nothing short of an illimitable calamity to the people of Chicago and to thousands of industries that are interwoven with the business interests of the United States, therefore, be it

"Ordered, By the city council, in an endeavor to bring about mediation of the differences between the employés and the companies on a basis of equity for each, that his honor, the mayor, is authorized and requested forthwith to appoint an arbitration committee of nine members, to consist of his honor, the mayor, four members of the city council, and a representative each of divisions 241 and 308 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employés of America, the Chicago Surface Lines and the Chicago Elevated Railways, which committee shall report without delay to the city council what must be done to secure uninterrupted service of the surface and elevated transportation lines and the avoidance of a strike of its employés."

Best old subject in the world to build a plot around, isn't it? It can take you anywhere—for all paths lead from home. Mrs. Charlie Chaplin takes the road that goeth unto "igh society, fly society" and comes fluttering back with bruised wings to a shelter she had scorned.

If you have not liked Mrs. Chaplin (Mildred Harris) in other pictures, you'd better see her this time and have a change of mind. Something—marriage maybe—(or my imagination) has trimmed off the gauche corners and it is an entirely human and understandable little frivoler who sets forth to get burned.

The story of "Home and Mother" has really not a new thing to its credit. Mrs. Weber, the director, could, I think, have injected a surprise somewhere. But she didn't. Anyhow, it holds the interest because it is so well done.

The characters?

The daughter of the village plumber, whose parents have sacrificed much to give her one year in a fashionable finishing school. Miss Harris is the daughter and she gives a good delineation of a rank pretender in the halls of the mighty, cravenly ashamed of the humble folk from which she has sprung.

Helen Yoder, as the wealthy boarding school friend, is good to see. Clarissa Selwyn, as Helen's stepmother, a weary disillusioned woman, desperately in love with a ne'er-do-well, not her husband, is another character excellently cast. Various members of the flashy set, of which she is a leader, are splendidly played.

Photography and sets are all that could be desired. So, here's wishing Charlie's pretty wife well in her search for fame. She has proved herself an actress.

The Way to a Man's Heart.

A simple story of love indifferent, then renewed, was told me recently by a friend of mine, a visiting nurse.

The Macallums, let us call them, lived in a rundown, gray, and weather beaten house. The family, the mother, the father, and one little child existed, one could hardly say lived, through a life as dull and colorless as their cottage, a constant fight for money, punctuated by the unvaried meals of oatmeal for breakfast, oatmeal for lunch, and meat and a vegetable for dinner, meat hot on Sunday and cold the rest of the week.

Into the kitchen of this little cottage came a visiting nurse, attracted by their little girl. She came at dinner time before Macallum's arrival, and saw the cracked platter of cold meat being carried onto the table. The woman's discouraged eyes, the shiftless condition of the kitchen, and the pot of cold oatmeal told the nurse the whole story. She showed Mrs. Macallum how to make inexpensive oat cakes with the few resources of her kitchen, how to warm up the meat in several appetizing ways, and how to make a simple bread pudding with the dry bread which she found. Then she departed, leaving the woman with a joyous look in her eyes.

Two weeks later on a Wednesday the nurse again came to the cottage. Without it looked the same as before, but within there was an indescribable air of freshness and happiness. On the table were a few roses. She looked at them inquiringly just as the mother entered the room.

"Those are from John, mam," she said. "He brings me one every Wednesday now for he knows I love them, and because he was so tickled with that meal. He was a different man after that night—in fact, after the moment that he saw the food, for he passed everything to us and shared thinks like the gentleman he used to be, and then at breakfast he said that those real Scotch oat cakes put new life into him." Then she shyly added: "Would you be willing to show me how to do other things?"

Blueberry Tea Cakes.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Blueberry muffins are among the summer luxuries, and are fine if sweet enough, but as made they generally are not sweet enough, and are too stiff. The old fashioned blueberry tea cake seems to me a more profitable dainty. Even with blueberries at what seem high prices, this cake is not expensive, because a half cup of berries will go so far.

Here is a recipe that makes enough for a sheet seven by ten inches, which will cut up into a dozen nice squares, or in the smallest muffin tins, making about twenty of the tiny cakes. This is really better cold.

Beat or cream together one-half cup of sugar, add to this one-half cup of well whisked sour milk (beat with egg beater) and one well beaten egg, and then fold in one cup of sifted flour a fourth at a time, then one-half cup or a little more if you choose, of picked over, washed, drained, dried, and floured blueberries—use less than a tablespoon of the flour for them. Turn into shallow pan and bake in a quick oven.

Four times this amount will make the old fashioned big sheet, part of which was eaten warm by people who had supper or "tea" at 6 o'clock, and the rest cold. When eaten cold it was often with butter.

It is easy to imagine that our New England ancestors made blueberry cake in imitation of the loved currant cakes of old England. Blueberry bushes grow on most of the ledges or worn down tops of the Appalachian chain of mountains in New England or in the rock made soil around these ledges. Handsome large berries are often to be found on ledges which have over them scarcely two inches of soil.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Sensible When Together.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think it proper for a young girl of 14 to have friendship with a boy of 18 years? We act very sensible when together.

"B. C."

Yes, it's all right as long as the sensible actions continue.

One Girl Who Won't Kiss.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have read your corner for some time and I thought you could help me as you have many others. I am a boy 17 and am considered quite good looking. I have been going with a girl now for nearly three weeks and have not kissed her yet, as she strenuously objects. All the other girls I have gone with have let me kiss them. How do you advise me to go about it to kiss the girl I am going with now? S. R."

Go about it in the manner of a thoroughbred gentleman. But as you do not seem to understand just what that is, let me explain that one of the first principles is a respect for womankind.

THE POTATO WART

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Much attention is being given this year to the potato wart, a dangerous disease present in some of the eastern states last fall and one that may occur elsewhere in this country. It is advisable for gardeners and farmers to be on the lookout for it.

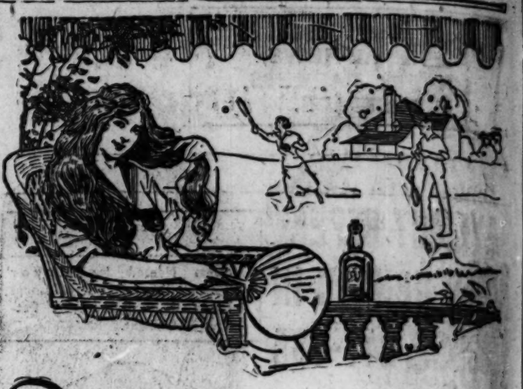

The wart is supposed to have come to the United States on potatoes imported during recent years. In the hope of keeping the wart out of America the government in 1912 placed an embargo on potatoes coming from coutnries where the disease was known to exist. A shipment of potatoes from Europe in 1911 was distributed over the eastern part of the United States which is supposed to be the source of the disease.

It has caused great damage abroad and is considered one of the most serious diseases of the potato in this country. Last year in some of the eastern states it was so severe that the crop was practically a total loss.

The first evidences of the wart are small spongy spots on the potatoes, especially at the eyes. These increase in size and may grow as large as the potato itself. Not infrequently several warts may arise at different places on the same tuber, causing the whole potato to become a spongy, warty mass. In the early stages the warts are light brown, the color becoming darker and finally black with age. The potato may decay in the field and in storage, but the wart does not kill the plant and seldom interferes with the growth of the vine. It is, therefore, difficult or impossible to detect the disease before digging time.

The wart is caused by a fungus which penetrates the outer layers of the potato, stimulating growth and causing the characteristic warty outgrowths. Millions of reproductive bodies are formed in the wart tissue and are released in the soil when the potato decays. They may lie dormant in the soil for many years until by cultivation they are brought into suitable condition for germination.

Keep a close watch at digging time for potatoes with warty outgrowths which are light brown when young, black and decayed when old. It would be advisable to send suspicious specimens to some agricultural experiment station and have them examined. Every effort should be made to help in stamping out this disease.

"WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME"
She Knew He Was False!

SHE knew that to him the marriage vow meant nothing. Yet she was his wife, bound to him by the law.

She knew she had been sold to him to gratify her father's lust for power. Yet convention said she was his until death should set her free.

His, though her heart went out to another man who was good and brave and clean.

What did she do? Come and find out.

HALL CAINE'S sensational novel, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," stirred two continents. Here is the story, translated to living film by Hugh Ford, one of the master directors of America, and played by a brilliant cast including Katherine MacDonald, Theodore Roberts, Milton Sills, Jack Holt and Fritzi Brunette.

Life Is Just One Dinner After Another in Our Lake Forest

"In Lake Forest there is no rest," sang the "Sing Sing quartet" at the cabaret supper given at Onwentsia Saturday night, and from the appearance of the social calendar for the remainder of this month it would seem they spoke the truth. Edna Darch Scores on Reappearance at Ravinia Park

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

There was a reward last night for those hardy souls who ventured to Ravinia park through the thunder shower. In the first place the shower was over by the time Ravinia was reached, and the sun came out in time to set properly, leaving a rose and saffron sky for the first movement of the New World symphony, which has seldom sounded lovelier than it did last night, out there among the trees. I am told that Mr. Richard Hageman, who conducts the symphonies at Ravinia, never has a chance to rehearse them. It is all the more pleasant then to be able to commend his work in last night's program.

Harry Weisbach and Enrico Tramonti were soloists last night—Mr. Weisbach with the first movement of a Mendelssohn violin concerto, for which his fingers were well oiled.

The most interesting solo performer of the evening, however, was the beauteous Miss Edna Darch, a young woman who sang several seasons ago in Mr. Campanini's company at the Auditorium. She was not at her best last night, due to a natural nervousness over reappearing before her Chicago friends after such a long absence. The nervousness was apparent, however, only in the first song, an air from La Sonambula, where her voice seemed inflexible and a little beyond her control.

In the two songs by Alice Barnet—a haunting, elfin little thing called "Nightingale Lain," and another—"Moods"—the singer disclosed some of the beauties of her voice and sang with real feeling. The last song by Rachmaninoff disclosed the fact that Miss Barnet, a former Chicago girl, not only can compose beautiful songs, but can play the piano very well indeed. The accompaniment was a difficult bit and was performed with taste and skill.

Tonight the opera company will again be to the fore with "Il Trovatore." Riccardo Martin will sing Manrico, and Frances Ingram will take the part of Azucena, sung last week by Alice Gentle.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Plamondon of 305 Fullerton parkway announce the engagement of, their daughter, Elizabeth Catharine, to Harold Beacom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Beacom of 7602 Sheridan road.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Mulford of Wilmette of the engagement of Mrs. Mulford's sister, Miss Harriet M. Owen of 3122 Washington boulevard, to C. Howard Andrews of Faribault, Minn.

The engagement is announced of Miss Eleanor Holbrook of 711 Waveland avenue to Edgar Redding Leeman. Both Miss Holbrook and her fiancé attended Northwestern university.

No: That Sermons Are Loved Less, but That Golf Is Loved More

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

A thirty minute sermon Sunday morning? Not while the laymen want to extend their five hours on the links to six hours.

A forty-five minute service at night? Not until the laymen are ready to have the opera shortened.

This was the reply to the short sermon plea of worldly church members which was given yesterday at the Desplaines camp meeting by the Rev. T. Watson Hannan of New York.

Dr. Hannan said some preachers indulged in a kind of pious lying when they told stories in the pulpit and colored them by adding features which were untrue in order to produce an effect. The remedy for story telling, he said, was in sticking to Bible illustrations.

Notwithstanding the warning, the ministers swapped stories at the meeting about the doings of choirs and ministers.

One pastor, it was related, followed the anthem by his choir with a scripture reading beginning, "When the tumult had ceased."

Then a choir, said another, followed a pastor's sermon by singing, "Some Day We'll Understand."

When the Rev. Dr. Day was delayed ten minutes by the train, some one said, the choir leader announced the congregation would sing, "That Awful Day" [with strong emphasis on the day] Will Surely Come."

Dr. Hannan said a minister ought to find out what the specific needs of his congregation are, and prescribe for them individually, and not simply say, "Here is the drug store; help yourself."

Dr. Frank O. Beck, pastor of the Wabash Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, made a plea for the foreign born citizens in the afternoon address on the subject, "The Church and the Melting Pot."

"Business men in the Wabash avenue neighborhood plan their enterprises ahead for 100 years," he said. "The church must plan to help the foreigner in the same way."

Dr. W. S. Bovard in his address on Sunday school work praised the newspapers for their help in promoting religious education.

Claims New Way to Find Radium

A new and exceedingly delicate test for uranium, by which uranium compounds and radium may be located in places where the minerals were not known to exist before, and where they could not be found under the known tests, has been discovered by Prof. Clifford Mitchell, 7134 Eggleston avenue. Dr. Mitchell made his discovery known before a recent meeting of the Chemists' club in New York.

"I have hopes of commercializing the test and for that reason do not want to explain it in too much detail," he said at his home last night. "It is safe to say, however, that the test is five times more delicate than any test known heretofore. I use a 1 per cent solution of uranium nitrate and a reagent that gives a beautiful color and eventually a precipitate."

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY J. DAILEY, 51 years old, wife of James M. Dailey, formerly a trustee of the sanitary district, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at the Dailey residence, 549 West Thirty-first street. A cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—"Playing net" is a term which the fashion folk have borrowed from the tennis courts. Never has this fabric been in such earnest service. Organdy is trimmed with net and net with organdy. Net frocks are combined with Chantilly lace for evening wear. And as for taffeta and net, here is an alliance firm as that of the grocery store and the cat.

Speaking of net and organdy, here is a note illustrating the latest whim of the mode. A black organdy afternoon dress trimmed with ruffles of café au lait net, which are trimmed in turn by narrow lace of the same tint. It sounds a bit startling, but the effect was simply stunning. And it must be remembered in this connection that the black and navy blue organdy are particularly smart this summer.

Chicago Teachers Married on Coast

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—Once more the classroom is responsible for a romance in which Chicago people are interested, this time through the marriage at the home of the bridegroom's parents here of Walter Hepner, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hepner of the Puente street district, to Miss Frances Keating of Chicago.

The young people met while teaching classes in the Harrison Technical High school in Chicago. They were members of the faculty.

Only a few relatives and intimate friends were present at the wedding. The couple left immediately for a honeymoon of two weeks. At the Hepner home it was stated they probably would make their home in Chicago.

Plan Merger of Nation's Woman Business Clubs

St. Louis, Mo., July 14.—That the business and professional women's clubs of the country will be merged into one centrally directed body tomorrow virtually was assured tonight by the agreement of the Federation of Representatives of the Women's Advertising Clubs of the United States and the National Altrusa Clubs, who are attending the conventions here of the Women's Association of Commerce and National Women's Business committee.

Should the merger materialize, the name will be the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Such a merger would give the federation a membership of 6,000,000 women, it was said.

If You Are Inclined to Make Tests—

Try this! Make your usual test, then clean your teeth with Dr. Lyon's—either powder or cream—and follow with the remaining tests. Right there you will get the evidence that many dentifrice claims are misleading. You will find that your teeth need only cleanliness—not drugs—for Dr. Lyon's contains no drugs.

This simple test has made many people regular users of Dr. Lyon's, because they found it completely removed the dreaded symptoms and contained no possibility of the misapplication of drugs.

Dr. Lyon's does all that any dentifrice can do safely—cleans and polishes the teeth. It is the only one which has been on the market continuously long enough (over 50 years) to prove that it will preserve teeth a lifetime.

AN historic city at your feet which nature has endowed with all the romance, all the grace of a perfect Sonata. From the windows of the hotel—built on the site of the old Chateau St. Louis—you may look up at the Heights of Abraham where Wolfe fought Montcalm, or down upon the peaceful Isle of Orleans. In the background ranges of mountains wear their clouds like mantels.

The appeal of Quebec is world-wide. You have heard of the famous shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, just a few miles beyond Quebec.

On the same trip visit Ottawa, the Washington of Canada, with its noble parliament buildings, and Montreal—the ancient city of inspiring cathedrals, quaint French restaurants and splendid hotels. You should also take advantage of the delightful steamer ride through the picturesque Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence River—nature has clothed them with all the beauty, all the charm at her command.

The Best All-Purpose Fire

Whether it be for cooking, for the furnace, for the base burner or for the open grate, the best all-purpose fire is made of properly prepared coke.

It gives constantly the steady, even heat and warm glow of a bed of live coals.

There is coke and coke.

QUICK FIRE COKE
BY-PRODUCT

stands easily at the head of the list for domestic use. At about the same price as anthracite coal, a ton of it goes much further than anthracite. It is produced from Fourth Vein Coal, the best bituminous coal known.

It is coked in ovens specially designed to produce coke of the highest grade for domestic use. It is softer and more easily fired than ordinary coke.

When you consider the expense of cleaning flues and grates, of cleaning house and laundering draperies, it is even cheaper than the cheapest soft coal you can buy.

We also make Industrial Coke.

Money conditions at the opening of the week show a steady tendency with the best grades of commercial paper quoted at 5¼, and less well known at 5½ per cent. This is a slightly lower range than last week in that the volume of paper at 5¼ per cent is larger. Local banks hold out for the maximum of 5½ per cent, but they are in the market in a limited way only and their buying is so small that it does not make the price.

Banks outside of large money centers buy freely at 5¼ per cent and some of the large local houses report a scarcity of offerings. Whatever may the the trend of money a little later, due to calls upon country institutions from grain raising sources, there is at this time a plentiful supply of country funds.

Have Other Sources.

The large banks of New York and Chicago have sources of profitable investment apart from the borrowings by business people. They have brought to them primarily the fancy deals or emergency matters in which a 6 per cent rate is easily obtainable. The Ford loan of $75,000,000 offers a small illustration. This returns on its face 6 per cent to the lenders and the security, although of a commercial paper character, was sufficiently attractive to the large banks to cause an oversubscription within twenty-four hours.

What the rate for money is therefore to the general or commercial interests of the country can hardly be properly measured by the return asked by the larger institutions. So long as special offerings are brought to them they can afford to hesitate to enter the purely commercial paper market.

Leather Advances.

It may be worth while for the average consumer to note the constant tendency to increases in the price of leather, which to the consumer means shoes. Calf skins are reported in the market at 85 cents a pound, a record price, which compares with 60 to 70 cents last May. Leather products from skins have advanced in the last week about 5 cents a foot.

Cow hides are selling at 50 cents against 43 and 45 cents ten days ago, while the market in April was around 30 cents a pound. The country as a whole is consuming and selling abroad more leather than is being made and existing stocks are being drawn upon.

Copper Prices Significant.

A compilation showing the prices of copper indicates that the present quotation of 21 cents per pound compares with an average price of 15.49 cents over a period of forty-nine years. In 1864, the last full year of the civil war, the price of copper was 55 cents a pound. In 1865 the high price was 50½ cents and the low 28 cents. The highest price following that period, prior to 1915, was in 1880 when copper sold at 25 cents a pound. The low price that year was 17.37½ cents a pound. The low price in the full period named was 9 cents a pound in 1894.

In 1914 the high price was 15½ cents and the low 11.30. In 1915 the price advanced to 23 cents and in 1917 to 36 cents. In 1918, the high was 26 cents and the low 23. In 1919, March, copper sold at 14.37 cents a pound. It is now 21 cents. If the market for the metal is indicative of expansion in the industries in which it is consumed, then the increase in value, suggests the beginning of a broader movement of construction.

CHICAGO STOCKS

American Shipbuilding common and Hartman stocks were the price features of trading on the local exchange. The street had a story that the Hartman corporation will make a good semi-annual report. The price was up 4⅝ points. American Shipbuilding common had one of its periodic advances and moved up 6 points to 134.

The packing house shares were not helped by the notices which stockholders received from Swift & Co. and Cudahy & Co. suggesting that shareholders interest themselves in protesting against the bill introduced last month by Senator Kenyon, the enactment of which into a law, it is declared, "would virtually place the industry in the hands of subordinates in the agricultural department, the efficiency of the industry would be impaired, and the final result would be unsatisfactory service and increased cost to the consumer." Swift & Co. sold off about 1 point. Swift International was fairly steady. Cudahy was 1 point lower.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Cotton goods were higher and moderately active today. Yarns were higher, with sales moderate, and raw silk was easier. Burlaps were quoted on a basis of 14 cents a yard for heavyweights. Dress goods were firm.

PUBLIC WAVES RED RAG AT BULL MARKET

Stocks Plunge Ahead on Heavy Buying of Public.

The New York Times.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Speculation was renewed today, with all the ardor seen in the days of heavy trading during May, with the result that the rise became violent in several industrial stocks and bank discrimination against industrial collateral in loans increased toward the close of business. Net gains running from 4 to as much as 17 points were recorded in case of certain steel, equipment and automobile issues and specialties, which, for one reason or another, were amenable to concerted group buying.

While an accumulation of orders over the week end imparted considerable stimulus to prices in the first hour, it appeared as though trading was later accelerated by the fact that call money ruled at 6 and 6½ per cent and gave no signs of hardening until the bulk of the day's loans had been arranged. Then the rate on accommodation, secured by all-industrial securities, rose sharply to 12 per cent, a level which prevailed when the trading session ended.

Reflects Good News.

The market reflected the optimistic news coming from industrial centers and also the improved bank statement of last Saturday. The possibility that many brokers might already be pretty well loaned up and the certainty that the time is drawing near when the demand for credit for European buyers of American goods will become an important factor in the money market were ignored by eager traders who considered the prospects of industry and trade as an advertisement of opportunities on the long side of stocks. From comment heard in commission houses it was evident that the buying was widespread and the turnover in excess of 1,800,00 shares told its own story of an insistent demand.

At the same time quick subscription of one or two offerings of new stocks, and the reported rapid absorption of new bonds, indicated the presence in the market of purchasing power which was not directed altogether by the expectation of speculative profits. Rather unexpected rise of the money rate proved that, despite the quiet surface of the credit market during most of the session, considerable tension existed there.

Supplies Matter for Study.

As the need of reawakened manufacturing calls for the use of more and more credit, and as plans are shaped for financing Europe, it would seem as though the ability of stock market participants to finance themselves, will receive increasing tests. For this reason, the relation of stock quotations and the position of bank loan statements should supply matter for a closer study in the near future than at any time since the bull movement began last February.

Railroad stocks came in for more notice than for some time past because of the suggestion which came from influential quarters that freight rates be raised as an offset to the continued decline of net revenue. In general, the shares displayed firmness, although it was plain enough that those of companies whose investment status formerly made them standard bearers in any sort of market were less active than many of the low priced issues. Judge Lovett's opinions in respect to procedure he would like to see followed in the railroad situation was considered as supplementary, in many respects, to the ideas forwarded by the Railway Executives' association, and they were welcomed by the financial community as an aid to working out a complete program for the carriers.

Property Mortgaged: The bonds are a direct closed first mortgage on the land and building, seven stories in height, of heavy mill construction, located at 1301-1331 South Rockwell Street, Chicago. This is in the heart of one of the principal manufacturing districts of the city. The property fronts directly on one of the main freight lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad, thus giving excellent shipping facilities.
Lessee: The property has been leased by Sears, Roebuck & Co., the largest mail order house in the world, for a term of years.
Earnings: Under the terms of the lease, Sears, Roebuck & Co. must pay an annual net rental, which, after deducting taxes and insurance, is approximately $50,000. This is more than twice the greatest annual interest charge and more than ample to meet both interest and principal requirements.
Monthly Deposits: In order to provide systematically for the payment of both principal and interest in cash on the days when due and make certain that the rental earnings as received each month are applied to the payment of the bonds, monthly deposits of principal and interest are required. Each monthly deposit is one-twelfth of the total amount of principal and interest coming due during the year.
Borrower: The bonds are the direct obligation of Mr. A. Irving Jordan, a successful Chicago business man, with whom we have had satisfactory dealings in past years.
We have purchased these bonds with our own funds after careful investigation, and recommend them as a thoroughly safeguarded investment.

DECEMBER CORN GOES TO RECORD HIGH AND BREAKS

All Futures of Oats Also Advance and Then Toboggan.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Price changes in grain were frequent and covered a wide enough range to suit interests on both sides of the markets. December corn and all futures of oats after advancing to the highest prices of the season and the best known for December corn at any time, had a break with rye in the lead. Profit taking was on among the big traders and declines were sharp, but net losses were small. Corn was ¼c lower on the nearby and 2c off on December, oats ¼ to ½c, rye 1½ to 3½c, and barley unchanged to 1c higher at the last in Chicago.

Corn in Kansas City lost ⅝@2½c and oats ½@¾c. Oats in Minneapolis were ⅛@¼c lower and Winnipeg ⅛@½c.

Provisions weakened on selling by packers and longs with the losses on lard 25@30c and short ribs 20c, while pork gained 10@15c.

Rains Depress Corn Market.

Corn made its highest prices at the start and the lowest about the close, but rallied in the last few minutes of trading on short covering and finished with fractional losses with July at $1.94½, September at $1.95¼, and December at $1.63. The latter had a range of 6c for the day, and while showing the most strength early was the weakest last.

Commission houses were good buyers early, as the weather map showed no rain in the southwest, but later private reports showed precipitation in parts of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, and Illinois, and a wave of profit taking swept over the market. An overbought condition was disclosed, and prices dropped rapidly. There was heavy profit taking early by some of the best buyers of late, and houses with western and southwestern connections were active on the selling side.

Crop reports generally were excellent, and the returns of the various railroads showed no cause for uneasiness, although it is still very dry in some sections east of the Mississippi river.

Sample values were 10@2c higher early, but lost the advance later when futures reacted. Receipts, 230 cars. Shipping sales, 25,000 bu. An increase of 237,000 bu in the visible was ignored.

Oats Bulge, Then Break.

Oats declined rapidly after selling at new high figures on the crop early. September and December, at the top, were the highest known for these futures. Realizing sales in volume by some of the strongest commission houses more than offset the effect of renewed buying by outsiders, and the close was at fractional losses, with July, 78½c; September, 78¾c, and December, 80½c, after a range of 2¼@2½c.

The erratic action of rye had some effect, as did the statement that oats had advanced above a parity with the United Kingdom maximum price of around $1.31 per bu. This would prevent export business, and no sales were reported, although seaboard messages said there were bids there from many European countries. Scarcity of ocean tonnage was a factor in preventing sales.

Further damage is believed to have been done to the crop by high temperatures, although the yield will be very good in some sections of the leading producing states. Country offerings to arrive were fair, with purchases of around 100,000 bu, mainly at ¾c under September for No. 3 white, August-September shipment. Sample values, 1c higher early, and 1c lower later. Receipts, 285 cars. Shipping sales, 5,000 bu.

Rye Has 13½ Cent Range.

Rye was excited and 5½@7c higher early, only to break 10@13c, and close 1½@3c lower. Crop news was bad, but realizing and hedging sales ran into stop orders and prices broke 5c at one time, with only 15,000 bu sold. No. 2 sold at $1.69@1.69½ and No. 3 at $1.67½. Minneapolis futures closed ¼ to 2¼c lower. Receipts in northwest 157 cars.

Lard Leads Decline.

Provision values were little affected by lower prices for hogs early, but the later weakness and drop in corn had a depressing effect. A break in pork loins also exerted a depressed feeling. Lard was sold by a local packer, who let go July at the last, and the finish was at the inside. Exports of lard and meats last week were 54,300,000 lbs, against 45,000,000 lbs last year. Releasing of the government supplies at 20c under cost prices had little or no effect. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

It was no more than natural that grain values should have a sharp break, 4c on corn, and 2@2½c on oats, with rye breaking 13½c. The surprising thing to the bears was that the net losses should be so small after the decline. It was the gossip that the break in rye was due to selling by one of the largest houses, who have been long for some time, at a time when the market was filled with stop orders, and the latter being reached, the drop was all within a short time. Cash houses bought barley on the break. The rye and barley markets are not broad affairs and at times prices move over a wide range with little trading.

Corn traders, explaining the break, attributed it to oats and rye, the good crop reports, rains in the west and southwest, and large sales of December by Updike, who was one of the largest buyers last week. The crowd got long on the bulge and sold out. The technical position was such that the buying support for a time was poorer, and with a reduced short interest as a result of the recent steady advance, values were easily depressed.

There are a number of large local traders who are bullish on oats and bearish on December corn on crop prospects. They have taken profits on their long oats for the present and are selling December corn on bulges. Some traders who are bullish and took profits on both corn and oats on the early advance yesterday said after the close that there had been break enough and that with any good buying values would go higher. Oats were decidedly stronger at the last, as shorts were active buyers. A few of the local traders said yesterday was high day for the season on all grains.

A break in sterling exchange to the lowest levels known as reported from New York was used by traders in provisions and grains as a bearish factor and induced a lot of selling here.

"There are more bulls in grains now than when the war was on," declared a local trader in sizing up the market late yesterday. This was one of the reasons he gave for the selling and break.

As wide fluctuations are to be expected in grains, commission houses advise caution in selling on breaks and buying on sharp bulges.

It is too early for corn to be damaged by heat, as it is not far enough advanced over the greater part of the Kansas and general corn belt states. Corn is generally injured at this season or a little later by burning of the tassel and the next two weeks is regarded as the critical time. Temperatures of 100 were reported at a number of southwestern points yesterday.

The southern demand for oats in Iowa is said to have been filled up.

1915	10.35	8.10	6.00	8.20

The western range cattle season opened in earnest with the arrival of close to 70 cars, all being shipped from Montana. Bulk of the arrivals, 41 cars, were from the Crow Indian reservation. Quality of cattle was much better than expected for so early in the season. Grass was good most of the season in that section, putting the cattle in good shape, but many sections are badly in need of rain, which will cause early marketing unless suitable ranges are found. Best range steers sold at $15.00. The first from the same state last year sold at $17.10, but natives were selling at $18.25@18.45 at that time.

General cattle market was steady to 25c higher, choice to prime steers advancing 15@25c, others remaining unchanged. Top steers sold at $17.50, being 35c higher than last week, but quality was better, bulk of steers sold at $14.50@16.50, quality widening due to discrimination against grassy grades. Cows and heifers sold mostly around $10.00@12.25. Calves held steady, best selling at $19.25, and bulk at $13.50@19.00.

Only 19,000 sheep arrived and nearly half of them were forwarded to killers from other markets. Prices were strong to 50c higher, Idaho lambs showing maximum gain, while bulk of offerings were strong to 25c higher. Top lambs at $17.75 were the highest since June 20. A year ago this week movement of sheep was very large, the arrivals being largest for any week during first seven months of that year.

THE $23 HOG ALMOST OUT.

The $23.00 hog was all but counted out Monday. It was saved in the last round when a speculator purchased a load at the price. Top to the regular trade was $22.95, numerous lots making that level. Trade was very uneven, with a few sales at the start about steady while late most packing grades were figured 25c lower. However, due to the improved quality of offerings the average price was only 5c below Saturday at $22.25.

Packers had 8,600 hogs, forwarded from other markets, of the 48,000 received yesterday. Demand was generally good, packers with foreign connections buying liberally, while shippers purchased 6,000 head. Average price for the day was $22.25, against $22.30 Saturday, $21.80 previous Monday, $17.95 a year ago, $15.20 two years ago, 9.65 three years ago, and $7.80 four years ago.

While the Chicago hog arrivals were 5,200 larger than a week ago, the total at twenty markets at 155,000 was 9,500 less than previous Monday, due to decreased receipts at several western markets. Eleven markets received 139,000 against 148,000 previous Monday, 117,000 a year ago, and 113,000 two years ago. For the year to date, arrivals at the eleven markets turned the total at 19,001,000, being 1,232,000 more than same period last year, the previous record.

Receipts for today are estimated at 18,000 cattle, 35,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 14,791 cattle, 32,807 hogs, and 11,962 sheep, corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The Woodlawn Trust and Savings bank today will pay employés a 10 per cent bonus on salaries received since Jan. 1.

The Pullman company's adjourned annual meeting scheduled for today was postponed to July 23.

Analysis of railroad earnings made by the Association of Railway Executives shows that the yield on $18,000,000,000 of railroad investment has fallen to about 2½ per cent, or less than half the rate considered as danger line in 1914 by interstate commerce commission.

Directors of the Kerr Lake Mines, Ltd., have devised a plan to make a capital distribution of $1 a share, thereby reducing capitalization from $3,000,000, or 600,000 shares of $5 par, to $2,400,000, or 600,000 shares of $4 par. A special stockholders' meeting has been called for Aug. 1 to ratify the distribution and approve the reduction in capitalization. This action is due to the realization that the mine is being rapidly depleted.

At the meeting of the directors of the Jewel Tea company, yesterday, F. V. Skiff resigned as president and was elected chairman of the board. Raymond E. Durham was elected president. He also is vice president of the Chicago Savings Bank and Trust company, and during the war was federal fuel administrator for Illinois. He will remain on the bank's board for the present and continue as vice president.

The quarterly dividend of the Packard Motor Car company was increased yesterday from 2 to 2½ per cent, placing the stock on a 10 per cent annual basis. The dividend declared today will be paid July 31 to stockholders of record July 15.

The Homestake Mining company in the year ended Dec. 31, 1918, showed surplus after charges and taxes of $305,417, equal to $1.21 a share on the stock. After payment of dividends, however, there was a deficit of $1,200,000.

American Car and Foundry.

C. V.—The American Car and Foundry company earned 32¼ per cent on its $30,000,000 of common stock in the year ended April 30 last, compared with 30½ the year before. The corporation has no funded debt and has applied part of its war earnings to setting up a reserve to pay dividends on common stock. This reserve is now sufficient to pay the 8 per cent dividend for three years. There is $30,000,000 of preferred stock outstanding on which the dividend has always been paid. Previous to the war only 2 or 3 per cent a year was paid on common.

Brief Answers.

W. E., Albion, Mich.—It is reported that the management of the Ajax Rubber company has changed recently, and that some of the new officials are connected with United States Rubber. This may account for recent advance of the stock. At present prices it looks highly speculative.

H. M., St. Louis, Mo.—The Continental Candy company was incorporated in New York on May 27 last with an authorized capital of $2,000,000. No details available. The stock is traded in on the curb, but it is not officially listed.

that the modern Preferred Stock is an essentially different kind of security from the preferred stocks you have been accustomed to?

That its provisions are practically those of a bond?

That it is, in many cases, really a bond in everything save name and in higher yield?

WHAT AN ACCOUNT IN THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF CHICAGO IMPLIES

When you receive a check on The National City Bank of Chicago you have a feeling that the maker is reputable and reliable.

That feeling is engendered by the reputation this Bank has acquired because of its policy to accept accounts only from reputable and reliable people.

An account here gives to its possessor a definite standing in the business world. It implies integrity and desirability.

Your account, though small, will find a welcome here, if it can be measured by this standard.

The "Gilt Edge" Preferred Stock is very often of a smaller sized issue put out by a concern of restricted operations and exceptional earning power. The security is there, by a wide margin. Money is required, not to retire debts or old obligations, but to expand the business, enlarge the plant or improve equipment. Preferred dividends are but a fraction of the earning power. The issue is serial, retired by sinking fund.

The Straus Brothers Co. specializes in issues of this kind. It has been in business 59 years—without default or loss in any security handled. It has the conservatism, experience and resources to properly safeguard the investor.

Be Progressive; Be Cautious

With the war restraint on private credit removed, and American business men buying and selling during a period of unparalleled expansion, there is danger of inflation, and its consequent losses.

It is a time, therefore, for cautiousness as well as progressiveness—a time for safeguarding your credit accounts with the absolute protection of American Credit Insurance.

The American's Unlimited Policy not only insures against excessive, unexpected credit losses: it serves to prevent losses. In the uncertain days ahead, it will prove a bulwark of safety and stability to many a manufacturer and wholesaler. And the wonder is that this protection and service can be secured on such a definite and scientific basis, and at such a low cost.

The Successful Business Man realizes the value of a connection with a responsible investment house.

The demands of his own business often preclude the exhaustive study of securities necessary to intelligent investment, yet his abilities in his own field result in surplus funds for investment, and his good judgment dictates the advisability of placing at least a part of these funds in the bonds of companies not associated with his own.

Moreover, the successful results of his own specialized efforts suggest a connection with an institution which has made investments its particular study.

We count among our clientele many successful business men to whose success we have contributed in no small part through the safe and conservative investment of their surplus funds.

We could, no doubt, render a like service to you. As a preliminary may we send you our booklet—"Choosing Your Investment Banker," together with our current list of offerings? Ask for List C-A-28—you will incur no obligation.

The surface reserve of domestic crude petroleum held on May 31 by pipe lines and marketing companies and refineries that receive it directly from wells was approximately 132,165,000 barrels, a decrease of 529,000 barrels compared with April 30 and of 11,466,000 barrels compared with May 31, 1918.

The American Smelting company yesterday advanced its price of lead from 5.40 cents to 5.50 cents a pound.

Reduction in gasoline prices of from 1 cent to 2 cents a gallon throughout the middle west is due in part to the highly competitive trade conditions and partly to a falling off in local demand and exports resulting from slackening of the big war requirements. Gasoline output of refineries in March was 311,306,755 gallons.

The Invincible Oil corporation, which was formed recently, has begun business with more than $2,000,000 working capital in addition to the net quick assets of the subsidiary companies, according to announcement made yesterday. Ten wells are being drilled.

The Mercantile Trust company of New York has been appointed transfer agent for capital stock of the Simms Petroleum company.

This figures 94.57, while yesterday Liberty first and second 4 per cent bonds showed closing prices of 94 and 93.48 respectively.

SHORT TERM NOTES ATTRACT MORE ATTENTION

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—More attention is being paid by investors to short term notes and bonds, with the result that there is a good demand for these securities. All of the new issues recently brought out were active today.

Last week's turnover in the bond market amounted to $59,500,000, compared with only $39,100,000 for the preceding week, when Friday and Saturday were holidays. For the week ending June 28, the turnover in bonds was $46,300,000, and for the week ending June 21, $53,000,000.

Trading in fourth Liberty 4¼s was about at the same volume as for previous weeks, those bonds heading the list in point of activity, with the turnover for the week, $16,800,000. The next most active bonds were the third 4¼s.

The Anglo-French 5s were in good demand last week, the turnover being more than $3,000,000. These bonds, which mature in October of next year, offer an income return of 7.45 per cent, if held for maturity. If sold before the date of maturity these bonds offer a fraction more than 5 per cent.

The magazine that comes to you like a friend-

August Woman's Home Companion

Helpful, enthusiastic, energetic, alive—that's the Companion, and that's how you feel when you read it. There's a warmth in its pages, a feeling of sympathy, that is like the handclasp of a friend. It will do you good. You will enjoy every page, from the front cover to the back. Here are a few features of this month's great issue—they will suggest how much you will enjoy the whole issue, and how much it will give you—

Would You Make a Fight for Happiness?

If you love a man, and he loves you—and then, when you least expect it, some little misunderstanding begins, and grows big—would you fold your hands and wait for the crash, or would you fight for your happiness?

A woman with a backbone, like the girl whom Fannie Heaslip Lea writes about in "Jilted," certainly does things! You might have done what she did, and you might not—but read the story, anyhow. It comes right home to you, in many places; and you are likely to recognize several of your old friends in its pages.

You Should Know What the New Fashions Will Be

You know that advance fashion information keeps you from making costly mistakes in buying your clothes—and, at the same time, enables you to dress better. You will find the new silhouette for 1919-1920 on page 53 of this month's Companion.

It is very early to present it—but the Companion is always a leader in fashions, a creator and not merely a copyist. Follow its suggestions, and everything you wear will be smart, becoming, and yet inexpensive. And you can write to its fashion editors for answers to personal questions.

Keep Cool—Don't Sigh for a Sylph-Like Figure

You have probably had enough, or more than enough, dreary, warmed-over "advice" about reducing. So here's what you find in the Companion: a sensible story by a practical woman, who does NOT tell you to starve, to avoid caramels, to take tiresome exercises, and so forth.

Commonsense is better! This woman has plenty of sense, and she gives some good, new suggestions for keeping cool and happy. Follow them, and you will feel better, look better, and have a much pleasanter summer. On page 28—look it up.

Your Child Deserves a Fighting Chance

Army doctors discovered that one recruit in every five was suffering from the results of malnutrition, and had to be turned down!

Malnutrition is the meanest, cruelest and most common of all diseases that attack children. Your child may have it. If so, you want to know it, and to know how to get rid of it. The Companion, with your assistance, means to stamp out this wretched, needless disease. The chart and article on page 13 will help you do this. Read it—and act quickly!

You have, of course, some favorite department of the Companion. Perhaps the Fiction, full of heart and human nature—perhaps the smart Fashions, that enable you to dress better, and save your money, too—perhaps the helpful Departments through which many experts give you all kinds of personal aid. You know that nothing else compares with the Companion for warmth, variety, helpfulness, interest. Be sure, therefore to buy your August copy today. The Companion is now making so many new friends, that unless you hurry, your newsdealer will be sold out. Buy it today.
